Pune: P Jog Junior College won the Tata Consultancy Services' (TCS) IT Wiz 2014 inter-school quiz, held on Tuesday.

Dhananjay Katkar and Ayush Yembarwar, representing P Jog Junior College, won the title and walked away with an iPad Air each.

Over 1,000 students from various schools participated in India's largest inter-school IT quiz event.

The six schools that qualified from Pune were Jnana Prabodhini Prashala, Fergusson College, The Bishop's School Camp, DAV Public School, Vikhe Patil Memorial School and P Jog Junior College.

The prizes were distributed by Rajat Moona, Director General, C-DAC and Arvind Padhye, Delivery Centre Head, Tata Consultancy Services, Pune.

An animation-based quiz software was used for the contest, with a unique format created by quiz-master Giri Balasubramanium and his team.

Speaking to Sakal Times, Balasubramanium said, "We asked tougher questions during our Pune round as the competition is at a much higher level compared to other cities."

ALL SMILES: Dhananjay Katkar and Ayush Yembarwar from P Jog Junior College won the title at TCS' IT Wiz 2014.

FOUR ROUNDS

■ There were four rounds at the quiz: Flip-boarding, Droning, Disruptor and Social-Local-Mobile. In Flip-boarding, the teams were given a choice to answer the direct question or flip the same for an easier question, but with a lower value. The Droning round comprised a set of countries and the team would get an IT-related question from the country they chose. The Social-Local-Mobile round had teams getting a question each from social, local and mobile aspects.
