

Commercial Banking Services

Banking & Financial Services

Banks and financial institutions are increasingly adopting next-gen technologies and innovative business practices to keep pace with the rapidly changing customer expectations and evolving regulatory environment. The increasing preference for online and mobile banking has spurred several changes in customer demands, driving the need for faster service delivery, value-added services, and exceptional omni-channel experience. Efficient business processes can help banks and financial institutions stay relevant in the changing context and drive sustainable growth, while ensuring regulatory compliance and fraud prevention.

Tata Consultancy Services' (TCS') end-to-end Commercial Banking Services offer comprehensive coverage across products and help financial firms tap into the vast potential offered by today's dynamic business environment. Our domain expertise, vast experience in operation processing, and cognitive solutions enable financial firms to transform customer experience, improve process efficiency, and optimize operational costs, while mitigating risks and ensuring regulatory compliance.

Overview

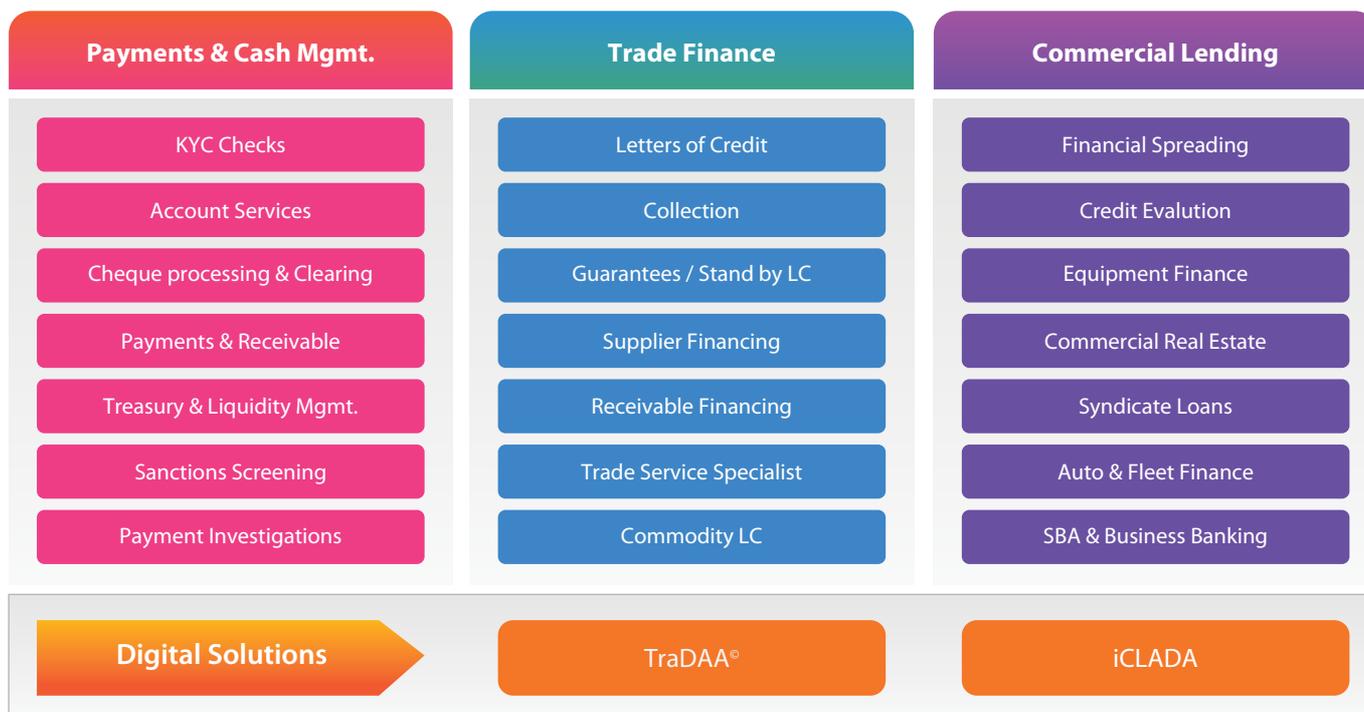

As the digital wave sweeps across the banking and financial services industry, online and mobile banking are challenging the traditional methods of effecting payments. Banks are therefore looking to digitalize trade by adopting cognitive assets in the place of paper-based, manual inputs and are moving from letter of credit to open account and supply chain finance products. Additionally, robust credit evaluation and underwriting processes in the lending business are needed to build and maintain a healthy loan book. These rapid changes in the industry and the entry of non-banking players are prompting banks to reduce operational costs by streamlining, transforming, and consolidating processes.

TCS' Commercial Banking Services offers comprehensive coverage across payments and cash management, trade finance, and commercial lending. Backed by strong domain expertise, vast experience in operations, and in-depth knowledge of the regulatory landscape, TCS helps establish foolproof controls to identify and flag non-compliance. Our cognitive solutions help automate manual, paper-based tasks and robust rules engine facilitate document scrutiny and regtech sanctions disambiguation.

Solution

TCS' services cover the entire gamut of commercial banking; key modules include:

- Transaction Processing: Transaction processing support for payments and cash management, trade finance, and commercial lending; a vast range of solutions for origination, servicing, customer service, compliance, billing, reporting, and reconciliation
