Letter from the Chairman

For a business that has navigated technology change over the last five decades, the ups and downs of short term economic cycles become insignificant blips in the broader sweep of history. Your Company has shown itself to be immensely entrepreneurial, agile, adaptive and innovative over the years, and these attributes will continue to serve it well in the years ahead.

Dear Stakeholder,

I write this letter with a sense of pride about how well your Company performed this year, not just in financial terms, but also in terms of what we accomplished for customers, employees, shareholders and communities across the world.

Your Company crossed two important milestones in FY 2019. Its annual revenue crossed the $20 billion figure, a 20-fold increase over the last 16 years. It also became the first Indian company to achieve a market capitalization of $100 billion in the last decade, and join the list of the Top 100 most valuable companies in the world. In my opinion, this market valuation is the outcome of a better appreciation of TCS' differentiated strategy, market success, capital allocation policy and most importantly, belief in your Company's ability to sustain its superior revenue growth and profitability in the longer term.

Brands take a long time to build, and are an outcome of how we conduct ourselves with our stakeholders. Our values guide us in everything we do, and are core to the reputation for trust and integrity that we have built up over the decades. In FY 2019, your Company was named the fastest growing brand of the decade in IT services, and ranked among the top 3 IT services brands globally by brand value, in an independent brand value assessment.

At a time when the world is wrestling with problems like climate change and socioeconomic inequities, corporations can and should play their part in shaping favorable outcomes. Sustainability, for us, has always been the entrepreneurial pursuit of economic opportunities while aligning the interests of the organization with those of all our stakeholders. Of course, one key enabler is the unique ownership structure which ensures that much of the shareholder value that TCS creates, automatically flows back to civic society through the sterling work undertaken by the various Tata trusts.

In addition, your Company has been a force of good in communities across the world, investing in building digital talent, reducing the digital divide and resultant inequities, creating well-paying jobs that boost local economies, promoting health and wellness, and advocating responsible environmental stewardship. Your Company's structured corporate social responsibility initiatives offer volunteering opportunities to employees, helping them give back to their local communities and imbuing them with a higher sense of purpose.

Globally, geopolitical events threaten to drag down major economies and disrupt global trade and commerce. At times like this, it is more important than ever, to stay close to the customer. In the last downturn, TCS' customer centric philosophy and modular organization structure allowed it to work closely with customers, and be agile in responding to their needs and reacting to events on the ground. Today, thanks to the differentiated capabilities that your Company steadily invested in building up over the last decade, and the innovative, business-centric solutions it is called upon by its customers to provide today, it is even more deeply embedded in their businesses, and is central to their growth and transformation initiatives. These deep relationships, the broad and diversified global footprint, spanning all major markets and industries, and its robust financials makes your Company's business very resilient and well positioned to weather any storms ahead.

For a business that has navigated technology change over the last five decades, the ups and downs of short term economic cycles become insignificant blips in the broader sweep of history. Your Company has shown itself to be immensely entrepreneurial, agile, adaptive and innovative over the years, and these attributes will continue to serve it well in the years ahead.

As enterprises become more technology-defined, they need more than ever before, a partner like TCS, who understands their business very well and can bring to bear the power of new technologies to craft innovative solutions that give them the differentiation they need to thrive in a Business 4.0 world.

The opportunities ahead are huge. By staying true to its mission and its values, and by continually investing in building newer capabilities, your Company is positioned well to become the foremost partner of choice to all forward thinking enterprises in their growth and transformation journeys.

On behalf of the Board of Directors of Tata Consultancy Services, I want to thank you for your continued trust, confidence, and support.

Warm regards,
N Chandrasekaran
Chairman

Letter from the CEO

Dear Stakeholder,

Your Company had a standout year, crossing major milestones, and delivering outstanding financial performance in FY 2019. Our revenue was ₹146,463 crore, a growth of 19% over the prior year in Rupee terms, and 11.4% in constant currency terms.

The growth was not only very strong, it was also very broad based, with all our major industry verticals and geographies growing very nicely. On a constant currency basis, we saw demand strengthen and growth accelerate right through the year in our Banking, Financial Services and Insurance vertical, clocking 7.7% growth for the full year, compared to 2.8% in the prior year. Likewise, our Retail cluster grew 12.1% in FY 2019 compared to 6.7% in the prior year.

We continued to see strong revenue growth in our Energy and Utilities vertical which grew 19.9%, and our Life Sciences and Healthcare vertical which grew 15.3%. Our remaining three verticals – Communications and Media, Manufacturing, and Technology and Services – grew 9.6%, 7.5%, and 6.1% respectively.

All our major markets reported strong growth. Growth was led by UK and Continental Europe which grew 22% and 17.8% respectively. North America, our largest market, accounting for 51% of revenues, grew 8.3% (compared to 3.7% in the prior year). Asia Pacific grew 11.8% and other markets – LatAm, India and Middle East and Africa – collectively grew 4.3%.

Our operating margin expanded 0.8% year on year, to 25.6%. Net profit was ₹31,472 crore, a net margin of 21.5%. Our cash conversion continues to be very strong, with free cash flow of ₹26,461 crore.

The Board has recommended a final dividend of ₹18 for the year, bringing the total dividend for the year to ₹30 per share. In terms of actual payouts, your Company returned ₹29,148 crore to shareholders in FY 2019, ₹13,148 crore as dividends, and ₹16,000 crore through the share buyback, which is 110.2% of the free cash flow.

Driving Growth and Transformation

Our strong performance is driven by two inter-related factors: the rapid mainstreaming of digital technologies, and our expanding participation in our customers' growth and transformation initiatives.

Adoption of digital technologies such as cloud, mobile, IoT, analytics, machine learning, AI and automation has reached the inflexion point and is triggering large re-architecture programs.

It is safe to say that this technology stack is now mainstream – and in fact, the default stack for all new investments today, obviating the need to specify that it is digital.

Second, enterprises are reimagining multiple aspects of their business model, investing in technology-led product or service innovation, customer analytics and insights, and core transformation programs. These are large, multi-year engagements, large in scale and scope, and we are winning such deals by leveraging our thought leadership, our contextual knowledge, intellectual property and our ability to stitch together different capabilities from across TCS.

Let me now cover some of the themes that shaped our performance.

Business 4.0™: Shaping the Agenda

In September 2017, we unveiled our Business 4.0 thought leadership framework, identifying four key behaviors of successful organizations in the digital era: mass personalization, leveraging ecosystems, embracing risk and creating exponential value. Customers have responded very positively to this framework, embracing it to define their growth and transformation roadmaps.

I am very happy to share with you that this framework is now validated by empirical data. A survey we commissioned a few months ago found that over 90% of the 1200 enterprises polled had adopted at least one of the four Business 4.0 behaviors. More than 9% had adopted all four behaviors. These leaders are also at the forefront of adopting cutting edge technologies like AI and blockchain, and are seeing superior business outcomes, with six out of ten such organizations expecting double digit growth over the next three years.

Agile and MFDM™: Transformation's Yin and Yang

Speed to market is critical to our customers' Business 4.0 transformation initiatives. To help give them that time to market advantage, we have reimagined the Agile methodology, freeing it from the constraints of co-location that historically limited its usage.

Our unique, Location Independent Agile model is better suited for global organizations whose business teams are distributed across the world, and for whom co-location is impractical. It enables adoption of Agile at scale, and is winning us large transformational engagements. Today, we have an Agile footprint with over 500 customers and have executed over 6,000 Agile engagements.

Increasingly, we are advocating an Enterprise Agile approach, applying Agile principles beyond IT projects, to all aspects of their business. It is a fundamentally different management method that empowers individuals, enables collaboration and harnesses the collective initiative and creativity of the workforce to help the business continuously innovate and create value at scale.

TCS' business resilience and longevity comes from its ability to stay abreast with technology change, continually investing in building capabilities on newer technologies, and creatively harnessing the power of those technologies in bespoke ways for our customers. As the rate of change of technology increases, our value to them will only increase.

The other dimension of our strategy is what we call the Machine First™ Delivery Model or MFDM™. This integrates analytics, AI, and automation technology deep within the enterprise to redefine how humans and machines can work together more effectively to deliver superior outcomes and at scale.

These two dimensions go hand in hand. Human ingenuity, creativity and empathy are as important as machine-driven speed and scale in meeting the objectives of today's Business 4.0 transformation programs. By pioneering these novel delivery concepts, and investing in requisite enablers ahead of everyone else in the industry, we have strengthened our reputation as thought leaders and innovators.

Innovation is Key

While the Business 4.0 framework provides a roadmap, business success depends on how well an enterprise innovates on the ground. Customers like Total and Newcrest are partnering us to set up dedicated innovation hubs, looking to harness the combinatorial power of IoT, analytics, machine learning and AI to enhance customer experiences, boost productivity and profitability, and establish competitive differentiation.

Our participation in this strategically important spend is an outcome of significant investments in building differentiated capabilities, and enabled by the customer-centric organization structure that we adopted in 2008. The domain knowledge, customer-specific contextual knowledge and executive relationships that each business unit built up over the last decade have been critical to our success.

We have also been systematically investing in research and innovation, and integrating that function into our business units. Our researchers take up promising themes in each industry, and collaborate with domain experts to build innovative solutions that we proactively showcase to customers at our innovation centers. On occasion, the outcome is intellectual property – accelerators, frameworks or products such as Optumera™, Quartz™ or ignio™ – which help customers digitally reimagine key elements of their business, reduce risk and gain speed to market.

TCS partners with all the major technology providers to launch and jointly market industry-specific solutions that leverage our domain knowledge and their technology. We continue to invest in our Co-Innovation Network (COIN™), where we work with start-ups with promising new technologies.

All these elements – our investments in research and innovation, the contextual knowledge, our portfolio of intellectual property, our Business 4.0 framework, Location Independent Agile and MFDM, are critical differentiators which have helped us gain significant market share and mind share.

Experience the Energy

Our ability to come up with innovative ideas and solutions for our customers comes from the energy, talent and contextual knowledge of our youthful, diverse workforce. Our large scale investments in organic talent development initiatives are delivering industry leading learning outcomes.

TCSers collectively logged 52 million learning hours in FY 2019, building deeper competencies in multiple technologies in pursuit of individual career aspirations.

To support our growth, we continue to tap into talent pools across the world and add to our ranks. In FY 2019, we added 29,287 employees on a net basis, bringing the total headcount at the end of the year to 424,285. The workforce has representation from 147 nationalities, with women making up 35.9% of the base. By creating a vibrant, enriching and fulfilling workplace, we have established an industry benchmark in talent management and retention. In FY 2019, our attrition rate in IT Services was 11.3%, the lowest in the industry.

This year, we reimagined entry level hiring in India by holding the TCS National Qualifier Test on the iON™ Assessment platform. This democratizes the opportunity to pursue fast track careers in TCS for talented youth across the nation, regardless of where they study. The test attracted over 280,000 students from over 1800 colleges, across 100 cities. Besides benefiting students from outside our traditional catchment area, this gives us access to the most talented youngsters in the country.

Our people-centric investments go beyond the boundaries of our organization, into communities across the world, where we support initiatives to bridge the digital divide, and encourage STEM education and careers. All these programs continue to scale up very well, and are benefiting hundreds of thousands of people across the world. Our purpose-driven worldview is shared by our employees who collectively racked up over 650,000 volunteering hours in FY 2019, for worthy social and environmental causes in their respective communities.

Looking Ahead

Enterprises are increasingly embracing business models that are defined by technology, structurally driving up technology intensity across industries. This, as well as the greater leverage of technology for competitive differentiation, significantly increases the market opportunity for us.

We are participating very well in this expanding opportunity, getting embedded deeper in our customers' business ecosystems, and becoming an industry staple. This is resulting in better visibility, predictability, and business sustainability, all of which create ever more value for our stakeholders in the longer term.

TCS' business resilience and longevity comes from its ability to stay abreast with technology change, continually investing in building capabilities on newer technologies, and creatively harnessing the power of those technologies in bespoke ways for our customers. As the rate of change of technology increases, our value to them will only increase. We are at the start of an exciting journey ahead. I thank you for your continued support.

Best regards,

Rajesh Gopinathan

How are today's transformational programs different from the large outsourcing deals of the past?

NGS: The objective of outsourcing has traditionally been to reduce operational costs. On the other hand, transformational programs are launched as part of our customers' growth and transformation agenda. The objective is to boost the top line, embrace new technology-enabled business models, create new revenue streams, address new customer segments or deepen existing customer relationships.

The buyers are also more diverse. These opportunities are typically business-led, and entail crafting value propositions beyond the CIOs, to the CXOs. Funding for these programs comes from the respective departmental operating budgets, and not necessarily from the IT budget.

This requires a different way of selling. These deals are not always RFP-led. We have had very strong success in proactively pitching innovation ideas and solutions that are tailored to each customer's unique context.

The selection criteria are also different. Speed to market and clarity on the outcome are critical, not so much the price. Solution quality and how well it reflects our contextual knowledge of their business is a key differentiator. The ability to address the concerns of different stakeholders, and their perceived risks, is very important.

KR: From an execution point of view, this opportunity requires us to have a more business-centric mindset, demonstrate a different set of capabilities, and have a different delivery model.

The delivery focus shifts from cost optimization to speed to market, and closer collaboration with business users. Most transformational programs are being delivered using a Location Independent Agile model. This has required significant changes to our recruitment, delivery and training processes.

What is helping TCS win these deals?

NGS: I think what has worked best for us is our ability to understand our customers' business needs, and use our contextual knowledge to design solutions that are uniquely tailored for them, stitching together different capabilities and intellectual property from across TCS and our co-innovation partners.

This capability is an outcome of our sustained investments over the last many years in research and innovation and in building intellectual property. We started investing in building capabilities on digital technologies as far back as 2011, and have built significant scale and depth over the years.

What has worked best for us is our ability to understand our customers' business needs, and use our contextual knowledge to design solutions that are uniquely tailored for them, stitching together different capabilities and intellectual property from across TCS.

This capability is an outcome of our sustained investments over the last many years in research and innovation and in building intellectual property.

All this, along with our Business 4.0™ thought leadership framework, our Location Independent Agile methodology and our Machine First™ Delivery Model have gotten us significant customer mindshare in the transformational space.

KR: Adding to what NGS said, we have a comprehensive set of digital transformation service practices such as analytics, digital marketing, IoT, cloud, intelligent automation, cyber security, blockchain and keep launching newer practices.

Our Consulting and Service Integration group brings together these different capabilities and orchestrates transformational solutions catering to different stakeholders such as the COO, CFO, CMO, CRO etc within the enterprise. This full stakeholder capability has been particularly critical to our ability to win large transformational engagements around matters of board-level significance.

Transformational work sounds very consulting-led. How did you build these capabilities?

NGS: The opportunity today is around creatively harnessing the power of digital technologies to build solutions uniquely tailored to each customer's business needs. This requires a lot of domain knowledge, customer-specific contextual knowledge, and proven solution design and delivery capabilities, backed up by sustained investments in research and innovation.

These capabilities have been steadily built over the years. Our customer-centric strategy and reorganization in early 2008, when we created over two dozen business units, each aligned to an industry vertical, and with end to end responsibility for customers in that vertical, was a game-changer that set us on this path.

But that was a decade ago. How is that helping in the digital era?

NGS: Each verticalized business unit became a repository of industry domain knowledge, and of contextual knowledge about its customers. This set us on the path to building business-centric solutions.

The other important outcome was that it unleashed a lot of entrepreneurial energy. Units started looking at customers' overall spend, and not just a segment of the IT spend, and building newer capabilities to be able to create value in adjacencies and other parts of the enterprise.

This had two key benefits. Our teams learned to sell to other stakeholders – business heads and other CXOs – in the customers' organizations. As they got better at it, our footprint in each customer organization kept growing. You can see this in the client metrics over the last many years.

Second, the expanding footprint helped our teams gain a holistic contextual understanding of the customer, cutting across the silos of departments, functions and lines of business.

All four factors – the business solution mindset, the focus on the customer's needs, the ability to engage with other stakeholders and the contextual knowledge – are outcomes of our customer-centricity and the enabling organization structure. These are helping us immensely in winning digital transformation deals today.

New technologies have always delivered greater efficiency and productivity. How is that playing out with digital technologies?

KR: Digital technologies have demonstrated a far more profound impact on business than other recent technologies, and therefore, the focus has been on those transformational possibilities and not as much on productivity gains. However, if you look at some of the core transformation programs we are executing for our customers, there are significant efficiency gains.

Typically, we simplify the stack by eliminating redundancies. Legacy, monolithic systems that were difficult to maintain are dismantled and replaced with microservices, APIs and SaaS/PaaS equivalents. The outcome is a lighter and leaner application stack that is easier – and less expensive – to maintain.

Workloads are shifted to the cloud to gain flexibility, scalability, and significantly lower costs. Use of cognitive automation software like ignio™ makes the technology self-healing, and reduces outages and associated business risks and costs. The simplified technology stack and use of automation enables leaner, more agile processes, lowering the cost of business operations.

What has changed is the perspective. In the past, the efficiency and cost savings from new technology adoption were an end in itself. Today, they are the means to an end. With simplification, cloudification and automation, we are helping customers reapportion spends from routine activities to fund newer systems that differentiate them in the marketplace.

TCS always had the best employee retention. Does this become a competitive advantage in the digital world?

NGS: You're right. TCS has always had the best retention rate in the industry, and I believe that is because of our empowering culture, philosophy of investing in people, career growth opportunities, and progressive HR policies.

Lower attrition is always a good thing because it reduces disruptions caused by employee churn, and results in better outcomes for customers. This is even more significant now, because retaining contextual knowledge within the team is central to our ability to design those transformational solutions and partner our customers in ongoing programs.

Our philosophy of organic talent development and initiatives like Contextual Masters send out an unambiguous message that TCS values individuals for the contextual knowledge they possess, and will invest in equipping them with new technology skills that they do not have. This has further reinforced our brand as a top employer.

TCS has reiterated margin stability in the 26-28% range. What are your margin levers today?

Ramki: Better revenue growth, higher quality of new revenues, and greater scale in digital are our biggest margin levers. Our innovation and transformational work is a higher value business, with better realizations that translate into price stability and margin resilience.

Second, we have been investing heavily in organic talent development, localization, IP development and workplace transformation over the last several years. That is already baked into our margins. We are now reaping the benefits of those investments. It is not as if we have to start investing in these things today.

The rupee has depreciated nearly 9% against the dollar in FY 2019. Why doesn't this show in your margins?

Ramki: When one looks at our margins, one shouldn't look at the benefit from a depreciating rupee in isolation. Every year, we have been giving wage increases of 6-8% in India because of the relatively high inflation here. The same inflation devalues the currency. So these two components – the wage inflation and the depreciating currency are two inseparable sides of the same coin. Arithmetically, you will see that the currency depreciation underwrote the wage inflation in FY 2019, and the operational efficiencies we generated expanded our operating margin year on year.

The other point to remember is that we operate with a revenue basket of over 30 currencies. It is not just the movement against the Dollar, but also against each of the other currencies that, in aggregate, determines the cross-currency impact on the margin. One has to look at the net effect.

TCS is now a $20 billion company. Is the base too large now to sustain double digit growth?

NGS: It is interesting that this question is posed to us at every point in our history. It is worth recalling that each time we crossed a new milestone, TCS adapted and only grew stronger, while retaining our agility and entrepreneurial mindset.

Today, we are not intimidated by scale. If anything, it has been a source of immense strength, giving us the ability to invest in many more capabilities all at once, and take on larger, more complex assignments.

Diseconomies of scale arise from corporate bloat and bureaucracy that slows down decision making, and hinders responsiveness to changing market trends. In our case, we have maintained a very lean corporate, and have been steadily devolving executive decision-making powers to lower and lower levels. Today, we have over 150 operating business units on the ground, each with its own P&L. These are small, agile and Technology intensity is going up in every industry. In the retail or the auto sector, the work we do today is directly embedded in their core products and services. We are now part of their Cost of Goods Sold, and not just their SG&A, and that is a significant structural expansion of the opportunity size. All this gives us greater confidence and visibility in our ability to sustain our market leading revenue growth.

intensely entrepreneurial, customer-focused organizations. If each of those units continue to realize its potential, TCS will also continue to grow well.

KR: Also, our share even in our largest markets is still in low single digits. We are only scratching the surface yet in large markets like continental Europe, Japan and ANZ. Market penetration will be a growth driver in the coming years.

Emerging markets like Latin America, India, and South Africa which have historically lagged in technology spending will see enterprises leapfrog into the Business 4.0 era and start spending. Likewise, we expect our platform businesses to grow significantly in the coming years.

We keep expanding our addressable market by continually launching new services, products and platforms, catering to the needs of a broadening set of stakeholders. Our participation in departmental operating budgets, transcending IT budgets, represents a wallet expansion within existing accounts.

At a broader level, technology intensity is going up in every industry. In the retail or the auto sector, the work we do today is directly embedded in their core products and services. We are now part of their Cost of Goods Sold, and not just their SG&A, and that is a significant structural expansion of the opportunity size.

All this gives us greater confidence and visibility in our ability to sustain our market leading revenue growth.

Partnering KLM in its Business 4.0 Transformation

KLM, the world's oldest airline still operating under its original name, has stood out in an intensely competitive global airline industry with its uniquely Dutch values: a pioneering spirit and personal warmth.

That has translated in the Business 4.0 era into the pioneering use of social media, and digital technologies, to get closer to its customers.

TCS has been KLM's innovation partner throughout its digital transformation journey, using its Location Independent Agile model to help the airline stay at the forefront of shifting trends in social media usage, constantly innovating and adopting newer channels to deliver personalized passenger services.

KLM was the first airline in the world to adopt Facebook Messenger, followed by other channels such as WhatsApp, WeChat, and touchless interfaces like Google Assistant and Google Home. Today, over 10,000 boarding passes are issued through these channels. Customer usage of services on social media stands at 51.7% and is growing rapidly.

For greater scale, speed and accuracy without losing out on the empathy and warmth of human interaction, KLM has embraced TCS' Machine First™ approach to customer service, using BlueBot, an AI-powered chatbot to augment the team of social media agents. Today, over 50% of customer queries are answered by intelligent machines. All these innovations have resulted in a 30% improvement in the Net Promoter Score.

To help the airline leverage the travel and hospitality ecosystem, and deliver a seamless experience across partner systems, TCS implemented an APIfication program with over 30 APIs, backed by 24/7 support.

By partnering with TCS for its growth and transformation, KLM has been able to scale up its innovation programs, gain speed to market, stay at the forefront of technology and deliver outstanding customer experiences.

Powering AGL's Growth and Transformation Priorities

In a highly competitive market with intense customer churn, AGL, the oldest energy retailer in Australia, partnered TCS in a multi-year transformational journey to reposition, refresh and reinvigorate itself in a Business 4.0 world.

One of the key strategic objectives driving this journey is a shift from mass retailing to personalized retailing.

At the core of this is the Customer Experience Transformation program. The superior customer experience resulting from customized products and services, innovative features offering convenience and transparency, and world class, human-centered design, all delivered by TCS using extreme Agile methods, has resulted in lower customer churn, elevated customer acquisition and retention and sharp improvement in digital NPS.

Additionally, TCS assisted AGL in furthering its growth agenda, first in expanding into the new Western Australia gas market, using its contextual knowledge and domain expertise to ensure a smooth rollout of services, and second, to leverage ecosystems by creating new business models for intermediary sales, through tie-ups with builders and online realtors for bulk new connections.

In addition to helping AGL navigate through disruptive regulatory changes, TCS is implementing a core transformation initiative to upgrade internal systems to a future-ready state, incorporating a Machine First IT service model, designed to support a culture of continuous innovation at AGL, where growth and transformation are fast becoming business as usual.

TCS has demonstrated a deep understanding of AGL's business and our technology needs. We share similar values that embrace diversity and inclusion, respect and integrity. Like AGL, TCS has a passion for embracing technology to drive innovation and continuous improvement.

We've enjoyed a successful strategic partnership with TCS that has always been open and transparent, we've always shared our successes as well as our failures, and that openness, along with the quality of TCS services, is what has made TCS an invaluable partner for more than 10 years.

Bayer: Agile Business Carve-Outs for Timely Divestitures

Following its 2016 announcement to acquire Monsanto, Bayer had to divest certain crop science businesses in order to obtain regulatory approvals. Bayer partnered with TCS to create a scalable, repeatable carve-out solution spanning the complete operations stack of process delivery, IT systems, and infrastructure, to execute the divestiture of multiple business entities within a very short, non-negotiable timeline of 18 months.

Taking a business oriented, cloud-first approach, TCS defined the end to end business processes, and set up a cloud-based solution environment, including the complete stack of infrastructure, IT applications and process delivery, for each of the entities. The use of smart templates and an Agile factory approach ensured that this could be a scalable and repeatable model for potential business transformations in the future.

Using its Location Independent Agile model to accommodate frequently changing business requirements, TCS ensured that the carved-out units, with more than 4,300 employees across 26 countries, were fully functional with their new set-ups at the time of closing, allowing Bayer to focus fully on integrating Monsanto in pursuit of its growth and transformation agenda.

We had to divest the businesses fast and completely, but had to deal with complexity and uncertainties in scope and timing due to enhanced demands from the regulatory authorities. It was a project unprecedented in its approach and its global scale and scope for Bayer and the market. TCS brought in the required industry thought leadership, full services capability and a 'can do' approach to ensure that we delivered a modern, optimal and fully functional administrative backbone on time. The integrated team of Bayer and TCS made this project a real success.

S SUKANYA

Global Head, Delivery
Excellence Group

Agile has been around for decades. Why is there so much interest in Agile now?

Yes, different flavors of Agile have been around for a while. Primarily, they involve IT teams working closely with business, breaking up the software development lifecycle into smaller iterative cycles, and incrementally delivering a working module at the end of each cycle. This significantly reduces project risk and delivers tremendous speed to market.

Today, with businesses investing heavily in technology to gain competitive differentiation, speed to market is of utmost importance. Also, due to the criticality of these programs, stakeholders want greater visibility on the work in progress, and to actively participate in project outcomes. Agile scores over the traditional waterfall model in fulfilling these needs extremely well.

However, until now, due to the traditional emphasis on co-location of teams, they were not able to adopt Agile for their larger transformation programs. Our Location Independent Agile model is a game changer. It helps large enterprises, whose talent is globally distributed, overcome the constraints of co-location, and embrace Agile at scale. We now have multiple examples of successfully applying Agile methods for delivering large transformation programs involving multiple teams distributed across time zones. That is what has excited so much interest around Agile.

Agile is so different from the waterfall model. How did TCS manage to switch over the delivery model to Agile?

It's not a trivial change. We embarked on this transformation journey a few years ago, and made massive investments in workforce and workplace transformation. Management's vision of Enterprise Agile by 2020 has galvanized the organization, and significantly accelerated our transformation.

Workforce transformation has been the biggest undertaking. Agile requires multi-skilled, multi-functional teams which are empowered, so we have completely reimagined our learning and development since 2015. You can see the outcomes of that today. Nearly 311,000 TCSers have been trained on new technologies, each individual conversant in three or more technologies.

All our associates are being trained to be Agile practitioners – Agile technical developers, scrum masters, and Agile Ninja coaches. Today, with over 348,000 employees trained on Agile, 135,000+ Agile practitioners and 750+ Agile Ninja coaches, we have the largest Agile-ready workforce in the world.

Our Location Independent Agile model is a game changer. It helps large global enterprises overcome the constraints of co-location, and embrace Agile at scale. We now have multiple examples of successfully applying Agile methods for delivering large transformation programs involving multiple teams distributed all over the world. That is what has excited so much interest around Agile.

We have transformed our workplace and infrastructure to promote Agile-driven innovation and speed in service delivery for our customers. We have already built 400+ Agile Delivery Centers, and developed a 100% Agile tool for scaling, Jile™, which we are also offering our customers and to other enterprises.

Our core delivery processes are Agile-ready today. This is a massive change, requiring a drastic switch of perspective from inside-out to outside-in. All other support processes including HR, Admin and others, which have a significant play to customer service delivery, are undergoing a similar change.

Leveraging all these investments, we have been helping account level teams steadily switch over to an Agile way of working. Today, we have an Agile footprint covering nearly half our customer base.

TCS has been talking about Enterprise Agile. What exactly is this?

To succeed in the digital era, where technologies are changing the ground rules in every industry, companies need to embrace Business 4.0 principles in order to be closer to their customers and be available to them interactively, intuitively and instantaneously, wherever they choose to do business. The most successful companies are those which demonstrate an obsession for creating value for the customer, and embrace Agile principles across their operating models to deliver continuous innovation. We call this Enterprise Agile.

To continuously innovate, deliver superior customer experiences and create value at scale, organizations require a different style of management, designed to empower individuals, enable collaboration and harness their initiative and creativity. In this new way of working, complex problems are disaggregated into smaller bits which are then addressed by small, self-organizing teams that take up small goals at a time and deliver them in tight, iterative cycles. Unlike in traditional command and control models, the manager's role here is to provide resources and remove impediments, allowing the teams to focus on what delivers the most value for the customer.

We are guiding customers towards flat structures, reorganized along customer journeys, around products and value streams. Our consultants are helping them adopt Agile methods across the organization, vertically across teams, programs and portfolios, and horizontally across business functions such as HR, Finance, and Marketing. We organize LivingAgile sessions to train on Agile behaviors, Minimum Viable Product creation and ninja coach programs to drive enterprise-wide change.

How has the market's growing preference for Agile helped TCS?

TCS' innovative Location Independent Agile model delivers unmatched speed to market, enables access to a global talent pool and reduces the fulfillment uncertainties associated with skill shortages or visa problems. This has made us the preferred partner for customers launching very large transformation programs, and for that matter, any work that requires Agile.

Being a thought leader in Agile is helping us win more work in the innovation and transformation spends of our customers.

The other opportunity is in Agile consulting itself, where customers are engaging us to advise them on how to adopt Agile at scale. Enterprise Agile is also getting us tremendous attention. It is often part of the CEO's agenda for a larger transformation of the organization culture, and such engagements gain us very high visibility across the organization.

Deal wins apart, Agile embeds our teams deeper into the customer's business, and makes us strategically ingrained into their operating models. The proximity to business deepens our domain knowledge, enhances our demand visibility and increases our business resilience.

What are TCS' differentiators in Agile?

Our foresight in embracing Agile very early on, our vision and our thought leadership in Agile have differentiated TCS among the large global systems integrators. We truly stand out with our Location Independent Agile model, and the immense scale we have built into our Agile capability. This lets us take on large transformational programs and execute them using Agile from day one.

On the consulting side, we have a unique maturity assessment framework called AgilityDebt™ which we use to assess where the customer's teams are in the Agile journey, find the bottlenecks, and accelerate their Agile transformation. Then, we have Jile™, the end to end cloud-based development platform for organizations adopting Agile at scale. We launched this only last year, and it is finding wide adoption.

Transforming Customer Experiences at Home Depot

Home Depot's strategic vision of a 'One Home Depot' shopping experience that seamlessly blends the digital and physical worlds, has helped the home improvement store rack up strong revenue growth over the last four years.

At the heart of this successful interconnected retail business model is a multi-channel customer engagement strategy that reimagined existing systems and ways of working, entailing a massive core transformation across the enterprise in partnership with TCS.

TCS helped Home Depot rearchitect its online platform, breaking up monolithic applications into microservices, and moving it to the cloud for speed and scale. This allowed the platform to easily handle the traffic – 2 billion online visits in 2018 – and support a 24.1% year on year growth in online sales.

Home Depot's physical stores are a key element of the customer experience. Nearly 50% of online orders are picked up from stores, and nearly 80% of returns are at stores. To improve the in-store experience for customers, TCS implemented the store mobility program and store application transformation to boost store associates' productivity, freeing up 15% of their time spent on routine backstore tasks, now spent engaging with customers.

TCS also helped revamp the delivery to store or home using the most optimal supply network. With greater efficiency and better visibility in the supply chain, Home Depot could offer customers the option of same day delivery, and within their preferred time window.

At the back end, TCS helped Home Depot build a common pricing repository to provide consistent pricing across all channels, and reflecting pricing changes on a near-real time basis. A new cloud-based B2B platform was created to enhance the experience for B2B customers who contribute 40% of sales.

The partnership with TCS helped Home Depot transform its core, provide a seamless interconnected retail experience for customers, and achieve superior business growth.

At the heart for Home Depot's successful interconnected retail business model is a multi-channel customer engagement strategy that reimagined existing systems and ways of working, entailing a massive core transformation across the enterprise in partnership with TCS.

Transforming Lives by Bringing Banking to the Unbanked Millions

Equitable economic development is difficult when a majority of citizens lacks even a bank account. In the largest such transformation program undertaken anywhere in the world, India launched the Pradhan Mantri Jan Dhan Yojana in 2014, a national mission to bring banking to the unbanked.

TCS' Financial Inclusion Network has played a significant part in this banking revolution, connecting a complete ecosystem of participants to enable seamless delivery of banking services even in remote locations, all at incredibly low costs.

Of the 300 million+ no-frills bank accounts set up under this mission so far, TCS' network accounts for over 210 million accounts across 116 banks, and handles up to 6 million transactions per day.

On the front-end, the solution supports over 100,000 banking correspondents, equipped with hand-held connected devices, delivering all kinds of services – deposits, withdrawals, micro-loans, collections, micro-insurance and remittances – to the doorsteps of account holders in the remotest villages.

Behind the scenes, the solution updates the transactions in the banks' core banking systems and leverages the larger eco-system – the UIDAI, NPCI, aggregators, and insurance companies – for biometric authentication, KYC, payments and micro-insurance.

TCS' solution has given millions of India's poorest citizens access to basic banking services for the first time, transforming their lives, and helping build a more financially inclusive society. This is the latest addition to the long list of transformational, nation-building programs that TCS has undertaken over the years.

27. Conservation of energy, technology absorption, foreign exchange earnings and outgo

Conservation of energy:

Energy continues to be a material aspect from climate change as well as operational perspective. TCS' commitment to decouple energy and carbon footprint from business growth reflects in the reduction in specific consumption that TCS has delivered year-on-year. FY 2019 saw addition of more green buildings into office infrastructure, addition of roof top solar system in offices, optimization of IT power usage as well as higher operational efficiency augmented through machine learning based cognitive algorithms on TCS IoT platform.

The commitment towards energy was reinforced as TCS went in for Energy Management System certification as per ISO 50001:2011 for its campus at Pune (Sahayadri Park) and the same was recommended for certification. TCS is the first IT services company in India to have achieved this certification. The management system gives the tool to look at energy efficiency in a more systematic manner and helps drive continual improvement.

The TCS IoT platform has been further enhanced to acquire Indoor Air Quality (IAQ) data – indoor CO₂ levels, temperature and relative humidity. This helps ensure that the IAQ parameters inside TCS facilities are maintained within acceptable limits to ensure a healthy and conducive work environment for the associates. Renewable energy used in the Company's offices increased to 10.1 percent from 8.45 percent in the last year. During the year under review, Company added 1.7 MW of rooftop solar system across four locations, with plans to add another 3 MW in the coming year. On data center power management, Company successfully reduced the Power Utilization Efficiency (PUE) of the 23 data centers to 1.67 from 1.71 in FY 2019. Data Center/server room consolidation was a key enabler towards achieving this efficiency.

These initiatives collectively resulted in the Company's specific energy consumption reducing by ~6.5 percent and specific carbon footprint reducing by ~8.1 percent, as compared to FY 2018, on a per FTE (full time equivalent) basis.

Technology absorption, adaption and innovation:

The Company continues to adopt and use the latest technologies to improve the productivity and quality of its services and products. The Company's operations do not require significant import of technology.

Season Seven of TCS' CodeVita Contest, run on an improved coding platform, saw 210,000 participants build and submit 850,000 pieces of code.

Research, innovation, the contextual knowledge within the units, the portfolio of intellectual property help TCS gain significant market share as well as mind share. Management Discussion and Analysis

1.0 Overview of the Industry¹

In FY 2019, the global market for software and services is estimated to have grown to $1.4 trillion. IT Services is estimated to have grown by 3.2% YoY, driven by strong growth in digital engagements, particularly cloud adoption. Business Process Management grew by 4.5% over the prior year, on account of greater focus on automation, while packaged software grew 7.4% YoY, driven by rapid adoption of SaaS, and security and privacy solutions.

TCS has historically grown much faster than the market. In the latest five-year period, while the market for IT-BPM services expanded by a CAGR of 2% (IT Services CAGR: 1.5%), TCS had a CAGR of 9.2% in USD terms. One reason for the outperformance is market share gains on account of superior capabilities, and higher customer satisfaction. The second reason has been greater participation in our customers' growth and transformation initiatives, which represent the expanding part of their technology spending.

2.0 Our Business

a. An Overview

TCS is an IT services, consulting and business solutions organization partnering many of the world's largest businesses in their transformational journeys for the last 50 years. We have a global presence, deep domain expertise in multiple industry verticals and a complete portfolio of offerings – grouped under consulting and service integration, digital transformation services, cognitive business operations, and products and platforms – targeting every C-suite stakeholder.

The Company leverages all these and its deep contextual knowledge of its customers' businesses to craft unique, high quality, high impact solutions designed to deliver differentiated business outcomes. These solutions are delivered using the latest technologies through a unique Location Independent Agile delivery model, embedding a Machine First™ approach, recognized as a benchmark of excellence in software development.

Our geographic footprint covers North America, Latin America, the United Kingdom, Continental Europe, Asia Pacific, India, and Middle East and Africa.

TCS considers industry verticals as its go-to-market business segments. The five key vertical clusters are: Banking, Financial Services & Insurance (BFSI), Retail and Consumer Business, Communication Media and Technology (CMT), Manufacturing and Others. The last category includes Life Sciences and Healthcare, Energy, Resources and Utilities, Public Services and others.

b. Strategy

TCS has successfully navigated through multiple technology cycles over the last five decades, pivoting and adapting each time to build relevant new capabilities through organic talent development and helping our clients realize the benefits of emerging technologies. Our responsiveness, agility and adaptability to change have been core to our longevity.

Customer-centricity is at the core of TCS' strategy, organization structure and investment decisions. The philosophy has been to expand and deepen customer engagements by continually looking for new areas in the customer's business where we can add value, proactively invest in building newer capabilities, and launch new offerings to participate in those opportunities. Over time, this has meant expanding beyond IT and participating in the departmental spends of other stakeholders – such as business heads, CMOs, CROs, COOs, CFOs and even CEOs.

This strategy has resulted in a continual expansion of customer relationships in terms of the services consumed, revenue and share of wallet, as evidenced by the client metrics we report every quarter and every year. The willingness to invest in the relationship, the commitment to deliver impactful outcomes and the track record of execution excellence have resulted in high satisfaction levels and long, enduring customer relationships.

This steady expansion of the engagement over the years, covering ever more aspects of the enterprise's operations, has resulted in the build-up of deep and holistic contextual knowledge of the customer's business. This has been the cornerstone of our ability to participate in our customers' growth and transformation initiatives in recent years.

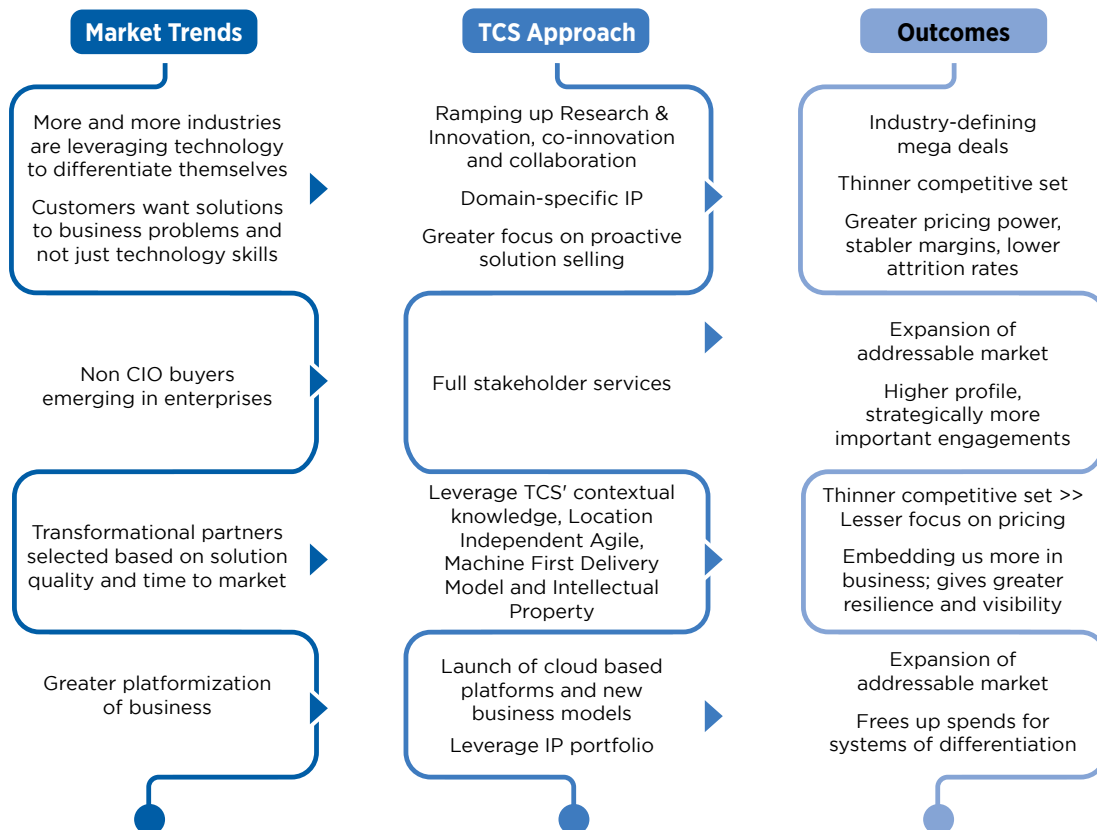

We have been leveraging this contextual knowledge, our long standing investments in research and innovation, our extensive

3.0 Business 4.0

In 2017, TCS unveiled its Business 4.0 thought leadership framework² to guide customers in their growth and transformation journeys. The four defining behaviors of successful enterprises in the Business 4.0 era are: drive mass personalization, leverage the ecosystem, embrace risk and create exponential value. They accomplish this by harnessing the abundance of resources – compute power, storage, talent, market reach – created by the convergence of intelligence, agility, automation and cloud.

This framework has resonated very well with customers. A study³ commissioned by TCS in FY 2019 showed that over 90% of the surveyed enterprises have adopted at least one of the four behaviors, and that leaders – who have adopted all four behaviors – are expecting their strategies to drive over 10% growth over the next three years.

We have augmented our thought leadership in this area, with our unique Location Independent Agile model and the forward-thinking Machine First™ Delivery Model.

TCS' Location Independent Agile model allows large transformational programs to be delivered by globally distributed teams working collaboratively in an Agile mode, resulting in significant speed to market benefit to the customer.

To help customers optimize their operations, TCS has been advocating the Machine First™ approach that embeds analytics, automation and AI deep within the enterprise to reimagine entire slices of operations at a time to make them lighter, smarter and more agile, while delivering a superior customer experience.

a. Strategic Investments

TCS pioneered the use of the word ‘digital’ to describe the new family of technologies that emerged in the last few years, and recognizing their potential, made investments ahead of time⁴ in developing relevant capabilities – in terms of reskilling the workforce, research and innovation, building collaborative workspaces and innovation centers, IP in these new areas and alliances and partnerships. Those early investments have given TCS a head start in participating in our customers’ Business 4.0 journeys.

In FY 2019, in addition to supporting ongoing investments, TCS launched several new digital solutions targeting industry-specific use-cases, made two targeted acquisitions – of W12 Studios and BridgePoint, and set up the inaugural TCS Pace Port™ in Tokyo to serve as an innovation hub which customers can readily leverage to operationalize all four phases of their innovation journeys viz. discovery, definition, refinement, and delivery.

b. Outcomes

TCS’ thought leadership and investments have made us the preferred innovation and transformation partner to progressive enterprises across different industry verticals. Customers are banking on TCS’ contextual knowledge and solutioning capabilities to leverage new technologies to change their business models, drive new revenue streams, strengthen customer relationships by offering superior experiences, and revamping their operations.

This has increased demand for the entire gamut of services, solutions, products and platforms offered by TCS, resulting in a stronger order book, more robust revenue growth, and improved market share. These transformational engagements are raising our profile within C-suites, embedding us more deeply within our customers’ businesses and resulting in greater predictability and resilience.

4.0 Talent Management

The ability to attract, motivate and retain talent is critical to TCS’ continued success. Our HR strategy is focused on attracting the best talent globally, reskilling and transforming the workforce and providing a stimulating environment which is flexible, nurtures social contract, fosters innovation, and builds a result-oriented, high performance culture.

The progressive policies, continual investment in upgrading employees’ skills and the philosophy of empowering individuals and helping them realize their potential has made TCS’ HR processes and outcomes an industry benchmark.

a. Talent Acquisition

TCS’ talent acquisition strategy is to hire the right competencies required by the business at the right time, a judicious mix of lateral hires and trainees. TCS continues to remain the preferred employer at leading engineering campuses in India. The Company's college recruitment efforts in USA, Canada, Latin America, China and Hungary have been progressing well with very encouraging outcomes. TCS has also been recruiting graduates from the Top 10 B-Schools in the US for key business roles. Including both fresher and lateral hires, TCS was one of the largest job creators in IT services in several major markets.

In FY 2019, TCS reimagined entry level hiring in India and democratized the opportunity to work for TCS by holding a National Qualifier Test (NQT), a nationwide, online campus hiring initiative on its digital platform TCS iON. It opened access to fast track careers in TCS to talented young engineers even in remote parts of India. The NQT witnessed a massive response from students with over 280,000 registrations across 100 cities in 24 states. By completely reimagining the entire process – the examination and subsequent interviews – leveraging the power of our digital platform, we have been able to tap into the larger talent pool outside the traditional catchment area, and create an inclusive agile supply chain.

b. Talent Diversity

TCS is an equal opportunity employer, and subscribes to the Tata Code of Conduct in embracing diversity in race, nationality, religion, ancestry, marital status, gender, age, ethnic origin, physical ability, and sexual orientation. Compensation levels are merit-based, determined by qualification, experience levels, special-skills if any, and individual performance.

TCS has a well-defined Diversity and Inclusion Policy. Through programs like #UniquelyTogether, we celebrate our inclusive environment that accommodates different cultures. Our Center of Excellence for Accessibility works on IT solutions for differently-abled individuals, aiding their integration into the workforce.

Progressive policies such as extended parental leave, special focus on security of women employees, mentoring program for junior women employees (nWin), discussion circles to help women through major life stages, a reorientation program to re-connect employees after long leave, projecting profiles of inspirational women leaders (Be-Inspired), special leadership development programs to address the needs and aspirations of women, a learning module to equip mid-level managers to work with diverse teams, a virtual support group called 'Workplace Parents Group' on child psychology and parenting workshops for working parents have all gone towards making the workplace more gender-equal. TCS is today one of the world's largest employers of women.

c. Talent Development

Investment in human capital by equipping employees with skills – soft skills, design skills, multi-technology skills and domain skills – has been one of the biggest drivers of value creation at TCS. Over the last five decades, TCS has navigated every technology change by investing in organic talent development, in keeping with its core value of fostering a culture of lifelong learning.

The sheer scale and rapidity of technology change in the Business 4.0 world called for a reimagined approach to reskilling, with a scalable talent development system using embedded analytics with prediction engines to draw insights, and provide personalized recommendations to employees, based on a pull, rather than a push, model.

TCS' Digital Learning Platform is an integrated ecosystem that combines virtual, physical and experiential learning infrastructure with high quality content, available any place, any time and on any device. There are virtual development environments where learners can try out their learning, with a social connect so they can consult peers. Additionally, there is a focus on enhancing the learning experience through simulations, gamified learning and adaptive assessments. From nano courses designed to create awareness to deep dive-based practice content for higher levels of competency and certifications, content is available according to the needs of the learner.

Leadership training is another focus area for TCS, with different Leadership Development Programs tailored for entry level managers and for middle managers. TCS' Inspire2Lead initiative is focused on energizing employees in supervisory roles and helping them become better leaders. The Company uses a number of senior leaders who are certified coaches to mentor and coach upcoming leaders. A special program for grooming mid-level women managers for leadership roles has started giving results.

Cultural and Language Initiatives (CLI) focus on the three Cs - culture, communication and collaboration. Some of the initiatives are: country specific 'culture shots' offering training for first-time visitor to a new country, training on English language for non-English speaking employees and training on 11 foreign languages.

d. Career Management

TCS has multiple initiatives to help employees grow in their careers:

- CareerHub is a platform enabling capture and fulfillment of career aspirations of employees and providing them a mentoring platform. Employees can choose their own mentor based on a match with their aspirational skill sets.
- Inspire: A specialized program to groom and provide fast track career progression to high potentials.
- Structured coaching programs at senior leadership levels to help them realize their full potential.
- Leadership review and assessment profile of all leaders ensures the maintenance of a healthy succession pipeline.

e. Talent Engagement

Some of the platforms and initiatives we have at TCS to enhance and enrich employee engagement are:

- Cara: AI-based HR assistant which answers employee questions on HR policies.
- Milo: Chatbot to facilitate the mentoring process.
- Knome, KnowMax, GEMS: Platforms for social collaboration within the organization, learning, sharing and for reward and recognition.
- Safety First: Initiative focused on employee safety and security.
- Fit4life: Builds a fraternity of health and fitness conscious employees and creates a culture of fitness.
- Purpose4life: Forum for volunteering for community projects in the areas of Education, Health and Environment.
- Maitree: Community of TCSers and their families which plans activities that helps in improving employee bonding and promoting work-life balance.
- PULSE: Our annual employee engagement and satisfaction survey is the organization's formal listening forum.
- TCS created robust avenues to build an emotionally strong and mentally resilient workforce through #TCS Cares. Many employees reached out internally with their own real world stories.

a. Analysis of revenue growth

On a reported basis, TCS' revenue grew 19% in FY 2019, compared to 4.4% in the prior year. This was largely an outcome of greater demand for our services and solutions during the year, driven by expanding participation in our customers' growth and transformation initiatives. In addition, there was some benefit from the movement in currency exchange rates.

FY 2019 saw volatility in USD-INR, ranging from ₹64.90 and ₹74.10, and averaging at ₹70.07. There was also significant volatility in exchange rates of emerging markets' currencies. Average currency exchange rates during FY 2019 for the three major currencies are given below:

Currency	Weightage (%)	FY 2019 ₹	FY 2018 ₹	% Change YoY
USD	53.6	70.07	64.49	8.7
GBP	13.9	91.60	86.05	6.5
EUR	10.1	80.82	76.16	6.1

Movements in currency exchange rates through the year resulted in a positive impact of 7.6% on the reported revenue. The constant currency revenue growth for the year, which is the reported revenue growth stripped of the currency impact, was 11.4%.

Breakup of revenue growth	FY 2019 (%)	FY 2018 (%)

6.0 Business Outlook

Global economic growth is projected to weaken from 3.6% in 2018 to 3.3%⁵ in 2019, led by trade tensions, prolonged Brexit uncertainty, cyber threats and deceleration in China. However, given the evolving role of technology as a key strategic enabler across multiple industries, traditional correlations between economic growth and technology spending by enterprises may get tested hereafter.

Industry after industry are realizing the power of digital technologies and their businesses are increasingly embedded in technology. This is leading to reimagination of their technology landscape, delivering experience through enterprise and consumer apps on the front, investing in an always-on digital core, adopting open API's and microservices to participate in ecosystems. In addition, data, analytics, intelligent automation all leading to adopting consumption driven 'as-a-service' business models, agile way of working, greater cognitive quotient in their day-today operations. These willy-nilly result in greater focus on product innovation, rapidly delivering value to business and an algorithmic thinking or a MachineFirst™ approach to operations. All these are key areas of investments across enterprises that result in greater flexibility to business in growing organically, or participate in mergers and divestitures with ease.

7.0 Enterprise Risk Management

Our global operations bring in considerable complexities and in response to that, we have established a robust enterprise risk and compliance management framework and process to ensure achievement of our strategic objectives. This process is enabled by a digital platform that provides an enterprise-wide view of risks and compliance which enables us to take a more holistic approach towards informed decision making. Risks are assessed and managed at various levels with a top-down and bottom-up approach covering the enterprise, the business units, the geographies, the functions and projects.

Listed below are some of our key risks, anticipated impact on the Company and mitigation strategy.

Key Risks	Impact on the Company	Mitigation
Volatile global political and economic scenario	Corporate spending on technology has shown strong correlations with GDP growth. The Company derives a material portion of its revenues from customers' discretionary spending which is linked to their business outlook. Political disruptions or volatile economic conditions (US- China trade conflicts, Brexit, escalation in conflicts between India and Pakistan, US elections etc.) may adversely affect that outlook resulting in reduced spending which could restrict revenue growth opportunities.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Broad-based business mix, well diversified across geographies and industry verticals Offerings and value propositions targeting all stakeholders (in addition to the CIO) in the customer organization, covering discretionary as well as non-discretionary spends, and relevant at every point in the business cycle Cater to market segments which might provide counter-cyclical support Long term contracting models
Restrictions on global mobility, location strategies	Distributed software development models require the free movement of people across countries and any restrictions in key markets poses a threat to the global mobility of skilled professionals. Legislations which restrict the availability of work visas or apply onerous eligibility criteria or costs could lead to project delays and increased costs.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Ongoing monitoring of the global environment, working with advisors, partners and governments Material reduction in dependency on work visas through increased local hiring, use of contractors, local mobility and training in all major markets Use of Location Independent Agile to promote systematic collaboration and reduce the need for co-location Active engagement in Science, Technology, Engineering and Math (STEM) initiatives designed to structurally increase the availability of engineering talent in major markets Greater brand visibility through event sponsorships, community outreach, showcasing of investments, innovation capabilities and employment generation. Increased outreach to government stakeholders, trade bodies, think tanks and research institutes

Key Risks	Impact on the Company	Mitigation
Business model changes	Rapidly evolving technologies are changing technology consumption patterns, creating new classes of buyers within the enterprise, giving rise to entirely new business models and therefore new kinds of competitors. This is resulting in increased demands on the Company's agility to keep pace with the changing customer expectations. Failure to cope may result in loss of market share and impact business growth.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Strong customer-centricity which results in a strategy, investments and enabling organization structure that are always aligned to customer needs • Early and continued investments in building scale and differentiated capabilities on emerging technologies through large scale reskilling, external hiring, research and innovation, solution development and IP asset creation leveraging deep contextual knowledge • Staying relevant to customers by constantly launching new service practices and technology solutions • Thought leadership by propagating the Business 4.0 framework, the Machine First approach and Location Independent Agile methods to guide customers in their transformation journeys • Constant scouring of the technology landscape through alliance partnerships, and strong connections in academia and the start-up ecosystem to spot new trends and technologies and launch offerings around those
Litigation risks	Given the scale and geographic spread of the Company's operations, litigation risks can arise from commercial disputes, perceived violation of intellectual property rights and employment related matters. Our rising profile and scale also makes us a target to litigations without any legal merit. This risk is inherent to doing business across the various countries and commensurate with risk faced by other players similarly placed in the industry. In addition to incurring legal costs and distracting management, litigations garner negative media attention and pose reputation risk. Adverse rulings can result in substantive damages.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Strengthening internal processes and controls to adequately ensure compliance with contractual obligations, information security and protection of intellectual property • Improved governance and controls over immigration process /increasing localization and sensitization of business managers • Potential disputes are promptly brought to the attention of management and dealt with appropriately • The Company has a team of in-house counsels in all major geographies it operates in. It also has a network of highly reputed global law firms in countries it operates in • There is a robust mechanism to track and respond to notices as well as defend the Company's position in all claims and litigation

Key Risks	Impact on the Company	Mitigation
Currency volatility	Volatility in currency exchange movements results in transaction and translation exposure. TCS' functional currency is the Indian Rupee. Appreciation of the Rupee against any major currency could impact the reported revenue in Rupee terms, the profitability and also result in collection losses.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • TCS follows a currency hedging policy that is aligned with market best practices, to limit impact of exchange volatility on receivables, forecasted revenue and other current assets and liabilities • Hedging strategies are decided and is monitored periodically by the Risk Management Committee of the Board
Breach of data privacy and protection	Data Privacy and protection of personal data is an area of increasing concern globally. Legislations like GDPR in Europe carry severe consequences for non-compliance or breach. Many other countries are also enhancing their Data Privacy regulations to ensure protection of personal data. Any violation or security breach, observed non-compliance or inadequacy of privacy policies and procedures can result in substantive liabilities, penalties and reputational impact.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A global Privacy Policy is in place covering all applicable geographies and areas of operations • Global Privacy Office setup for deploying data privacy initiatives across the enterprise. Data Protection Officers have been appointed for UK and Europe as required by GDPR. Data Privacy Managers have been appointed in all units • Continued focus on employee related agreements with respect to Personally Identifiable Information (PII) and Sensitive Personal data and Information (SPI) • Data protection controls and robust risk response mechanisms are in place to cater to protection of sensitive data in the TCS ecosystem as well protection of such data in client-managed networks in Offshore/ Global Delivery Centers • Industry standard data masking technologies to protect PII and SPI in sensitive customer engagements • Enhancement of vendor contracts and vendor assessment • Mandatory online training and workshops on Data Privacy and GDPR. Awareness campaigns through blog posts, email broadcasts, gamified awareness building, roadshows done to foster a culture of awareness and responsibility among its employees • Formal Data Transfer Agreements for explicit agreements on data sharing • Embedding privacy by design in our systems to secure personal data

Key Risks	Impact on the Company	Mitigation
Cyber-attacks	Cyber-attacks are forever a risk on account of the fast evolving nature of the threat. In addition to impact on business operations, a security breach could result in reputational damage, penalties and legal and financial liabilities.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Continuous investments in automated prevention and detection solutions to address evolving threats • Advanced perimeter security controls, enhanced internal vulnerability detection, data leak prevention tools • Defined and tested incident management and recovery process • Continued reinforcement of stringent security policies and procedures • Collaboration with Computer Emergency Response Team (CERT) and other private Cyber Intelligence agencies, and enhanced awareness of emerging cyber threats • Enterprise-wide training and awareness programs on Information Security • Strict access controls and special handling of privileged administrator accounts. • Encryption of data, data back-up and recovery mechanisms for ensuring business continuity. • Ability to isolate TCS enterprise network from client network and defined escalation mechanisms to handle security incidents in client environment • Periodic rigorous testing to validate effectiveness of controls through Vulnerability Assessment and Penetration Testing • Internal and external audits and forensics
Non-compliance to complex and changing global regulations	As a global organization, the Company has to comply with complex and changing laws and regulations across multiple jurisdictions, covering areas such as Employment & Immigration, Taxation, Foreign Exchange & Export Controls, Health Safety and Environment (HSE), Anti-Corruption, Data Privacy etc. The fast pace of change in the regulatory environment also brings operational challenges. Failure to comply could result in penalties and reputational damage.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Deployment of a comprehensive global compliance management framework that enables tracking of changes to applicable regulations globally across various jurisdictions and functional areas and managing compliance obligations • Global regulatory compliance certification is fully digitized and covers compliance across all the locations of the Company • Strong governance at executive and board level through compliance committees

Key Risks	Impact on the Company	Mitigation
Intellectual Property (IP) infringement	Risk of infringement of third-party IPs by TCS may lead to potential liabilities, increased litigation and impact reputation. Inadequate protection of TCS' IP may lead to loss of IP leading to potential loss of ownership rights, revenue and value.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Dedicated IP Management and Software Product Engineering group TCS IP Protection: IP Safe assessment and readiness program governing the creation of proprietary software and other IP assets, patent management and contract management, IP audits and integrated IP compliance checks IP Governance program that ensures that there is correct access and correct use of TCS IP, customer IP, partner IP, and third party IP in service engagements Employee Engagement: Employee confidentiality agreement, training and awareness for IP protection and prevention of IP contamination and infringement. Strict controls around movement of people and information across TCS' product teams and customer account teams

8.0 Internal Financial Control Systems and their Adequacy

TCS has aligned its current systems of internal financial control with the requirement of Companies Act 2013, on lines of globally accepted risk based framework as issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations (COSO) of the Treadway Commission. The Internal Control – Integrated Framework (the 2013 framework) is intended to increase transparency and accountability in an organization's process of designing and implementing a system of internal control. The framework requires a company to identify and analyze risks and manage appropriate responses. The Company has successfully laid down the framework and ensured its effectiveness.

TCS' internal controls are commensurate with its size and the nature of its operations. These have been designed to provide reasonable assurance with regard to recording and providing reliable financial and operational information, complying with applicable statutes, safeguarding assets from unauthorized use, executing transactions with proper authorization and ensuring compliance with corporate policies. TCS has a well-defined delegation of power with authority limits for approving contracts as well as expenditure. Processes for formulating and reviewing annual and long term business plans have been laid down. TCS uses a state-of-the-art enterprise resource planning (ERP) system that connects all parts of the organization, to record data for accounting, consolidation and management information purposes. It has continued its efforts to align all its processes and controls with global best practices.

Our management assessed the effectiveness of the Company's internal control over financial reporting (as defined in Clause 17 of SEBI Regulations 2015) as of March 31, 2019.

BSR & Co. LLP, the statutory auditors of TCS have audited the financial statements included in this annual report and have issued an attestation report on our internal control over financial reporting (as defined in section 143 of Companies Act 2013).

TCS has appointed Ernst & Young LLP to oversee and carry out internal audit of its activities. The audit is based on an internal audit plan, which is reviewed each year in consultation with the statutory auditors and approved by the audit committee. In line with international practice, the conduct of internal audit is oriented towards the review of internal controls and risks in the Company's operations such as software delivery, accounting and finance, procurement, employee engagement, travel, insurance, IT processes, including most of the subsidiaries and foreign branches.

TCS also undergoes periodic audit by specialized third party consultants and professionals for business specific compliances such as quality management, service management, information security, etc. The audit committee reviews reports submitted by the management and audit reports submitted by internal auditors and statutory auditors. Suggestions for improvement are considered and the audit committee follows up on corrective action. The audit committee also meets TCS' statutory auditors to ascertain, inter alia, their views on the adequacy of internal control systems and keeps the board of directors informed of its major observations periodically.

Based on its evaluation (as defined in section 177 of Companies Act 2013 and Clause 18 of SEBI Regulations 2015), our audit committee has concluded that, as of March 31, 2019, our internal financial controls were adequate and operating effectively.

iii. Nomination and Remuneration Committee - other details*Performance Evaluation Criteria for Independent Directors:

The performance evaluation criteria for independent directors is determined by the Nomination and Remuneration Committee. An indicative list of factors on which evaluation was carried out includes participation and contribution by a director, commitment, effective deployment of knowledge and expertise, integrity and maintenance of confidentiality and independence of behavior and judgment.

Remuneration Policy:

Remuneration policy of the Company is designed to create a high-performance culture. It enables the Company to attract, retain and motivate employees to achieve results. Our business model promotes customer centricity and requires employee mobility to address project needs. The remuneration policy supports such mobility through pay models that are compliant to local regulations. In each country where the Company operates, the remuneration structure is tailored to the regulations, practices and benchmarks prevalent in the IT industry.

The Company pays remuneration by way of salary, benefits, perquisites and allowances (fixed component) and commission (variable component) to its Managing Director and the Executive Directors. Annual increments are recommended by the Nomination and Remuneration Committee within the salary scale approved by the Board and Members and are effective April 1, each year.

The Board of Directors, on the recommendation of the Nomination and Remuneration Committee, decides the commission payable to the Managing Director and the Executive Directors out of the profits for the financial year and within the ceilings prescribed under the Act, based on the Board evaluation process considering the criteria such as the performance of the Company as well as that of the Managing Director and each Executive Director.

The Company pays sitting fees of ₹30,000 per meeting to its Non-Executive Directors for attending meetings of the Board and meetings of committees of the Board. The Company also pays commission to the Non-Executive Directors within the ceiling of 1 percent of the net profits of the Company as computed under the applicable provisions of the Act, with the approval of the members. The said commission is decided each year by the Board of Directors, on the recommendation of the Nomination and Remuneration Committee and distributed amongst the Non-Executive Directors based on the Board evaluation process, considering criteria such as their attendance and contribution at the Board and Committee meetings, as well as the time spent on operational matters other than at meetings. The Company also reimburses the out-of-pocket expenses incurred by the Directors for attending the meetings. The Remuneration policy is available on <https://on.tcs.com/remuneration-policy>.

Corporate Sustainability Report

TCS is deeply rooted in all the communities that we work with globally, through a variety of formal CSR programs and volunteering efforts by employees. We engage in community initiatives that are designed to create 'Impact through Empowerment', in the areas of education and skill building, health and wellness, and environment. We also support the restoration of heritage sites and participate in relief operations during disasters. TCS' global presence, core IT expertise and large employee base help scale up social programs. In addition, TCS partners with Tata Trusts, NGOs and various not-for-profit organizations.

All these sustainability initiatives have tangible outcomes, on both individuals and communities, and their impact is regularly measured, reported and improved upon. TCS' CSR initiatives reached more than 1.66 million beneficiaries globally, in FY 2019, once again creating a considerable societal impact in the countries in which we operate.

TCS encourages its employees to pledge a certain number of volunteering hours annually for worthy causes in their local communities. Purpose4life (P4L) is a platform designed to channelize and capture volunteering efforts. Maitree is an internal initiative that encourages and supports volunteer-driven activities by TCSers and their families. TCSers collectively contributed more than 650,000 volunteering hours in FY 2019.

Education and Skill Building

Education is an integral part of development, and critical to a country's economic competitiveness. In India, the Right to Education (RTE) Act guarantees free and compulsory education for all children between the ages of 6 and 14.

While every child in India has the right to education, there is a huge difference in the facilities available to children in urban and rural areas. TCS' 'Lab on Bike' program provides children from low income, disadvantaged communities and their teachers with fun learning opportunities that foster a scientific mind-set. The Lab on Bike instructor travels to government schools with a set of science experiment kits through which he conducts experiments in physics, chemistry and biology. The Lab on Bike program has been implemented by TCS in 12 schools around Bengaluru and 10 schools in Ahmedabad, in association with Agastya International Foundation.

In partnership with Tata Trusts, TCS has set up science and mathematics laboratories in remote tribal areas of Odisha, to provide children access to quality education.

Mobile science labs housed in vans with GPS trackers, visit different blocks of Odisha to provide hands-on training in basic science. These labs are fitted with audio-visual equipment, solar panels to provide backup power support, library books to promote reading and provide a source for referencing for students and teachers alike.

TCS continues to run several pioneering programs across various Indian states in education and skill development, which prepare children for a digital future. Launchpad and InsighT are two such initiatives. Launchpad, started in 2016, introduces secondary school students (aged 10-13 years) to coding logic, using C++ and Python. It is a gamified approach that helps children develop logical thinking and learn programming methods. InsighT, launched in 2006, is an IT awareness and enablement initiative for senior school students (aged 15-17 years) that aims to provide an understanding of programming, IT and its applications. 13,546 students benefitted from these programs in FY 2019 (9,964 in FY 2018).

TCS supports the Avasara Academy, a residential school for underprivileged girls in Pune, through the 'TCS Centre for Entrepreneurship', to develop leadership potential among the students. This building is being actively used as the main academic and administrative block.

TCS' BridgeIT is a unique program that uses IT as a key enabler in school education, adult literacy program and the creation of entrepreneurs in rural villages. Technology is effectively utilized to educate rural communities and provide a platform to develop ideas and skills that can help increase employability and the standard of living. BridgeIT has been implemented in 265 villages across 9 states, covering 36,044 students, 5,077 adults and 236 entrepreneurs, since inception.

This holistic program has won several awards in FY 2019: the Diversity and Inclusion in Asia Network (DIAN) Decade Awards for promoting social inclusion in Asia, the UN Global Compact Network India (GCNI) Innovate Practices Award on SDGs, and the Tata Affirmative Action Program (TAAP) Good Practice Award.

"This program gives confidence and opportunities to many students like us, to explore and realise their potential. I would like to give back to the society by sharing my knowledge and empowering other students, by becoming a part of this program."
 - Zahirhussain

Through its flagship Adult Literacy Program (ALP), TCS has been instrumental in augmenting the efforts of the Indian Government to achieve functional literacy. The program uses an internally developed computer-based software to enable non-literate adult learners to read, write and do arithmetic, at the end of the course.

The software is available in nine Indian and three foreign languages and takes approximately 50 to 55 learning hours to complete. TCS partners with local governments, jail authorities, NGOs, corporates and others. In FY 2019, the program was implemented across 18 states in India and 365,411 adults were made literate, a 110% growth in the number of beneficiaries over prior year. The oldest learner to complete ALP is 96-year old Sunder Bai from Hamukhedi village in Madhya Pradesh. She has inspired other women in her community to educate themselves, no matter what their age.

In FY 2019, ALP won the Project Management Institute (PMI) India Award for Contribution to Community, the SABERA Award under the Responsible Business category and the India Digital Award (Internet and Mobile Association of India) – Best use of technology to drive CSR.

Krishnawati Devi, a 32-year-old woman from Vishambharpur, Uttar Pradesh, not only gained reading, writing and arithmetic skills but also business skills, through the Adult Literacy Program (ALP). During her ALP sessions, she learnt about entrepreneurs, who started their own businesses. Inspired by their stories, she set up her own small general store, after completing her course. With the skills she learnt, she is able to run the shop on her own and supplement her family's income.

Shailendra Kumar at his Digital Centre

Shailendra Kumar, an MBA, from Ichauli village, in the Rae Bareilly district of Uttar Pradesh, initially joined his father in farming. He heard of BridgeIT when he met Devendra, a cluster leader in the program. He completed the program and eventually became a digital entrepreneur. Shailendra opened a digital centre, offering various digital services, as well as photo-copying, printing and scanning. He registered in the Common Service Centres, through which he could access various government online schemes, which helped him improve his economic status further. As a result of his entrepreneurial spirit, he is able to earn a steady income every month.

To bridge the employability skill gap, TCS runs IT and BPS Employability programs, which seeks to enhance the employability of students from rural colleges by training them in business and technical skills, general aptitude, business English and corporate etiquette. 2,528 beneficiaries from the IT and BPS Employability programs, have joined TCS in FY 2019.

Zahirhussain from Tamil Nadu, completed a BE in Electronics and Communications from the Anna University College of Engineering, Villupuram. He joined the IT Employability program in his pre-final year. He was selected to join TCS through a placement drive conducted on completion of the program. He feels that the program has shaped his skills and personality to match his academic excellence. Zahirhussain is currently working in TCS, Bengaluru.

TCS has also been involved in strengthening research efforts. The Research Scholar Program (RSP) seeks to support scholars who are pursuing full time Ph.D. courses in computing sciences in India. The program was launched to provide a major fillip to quality research in areas such as computer sciences and engineering, information systems and technology, and software engineering. Scholars have an opportunity to interact with TCS researchers and receive mentoring.

The FC Kohli Center on Intelligent Systems (KCIS) was established at the International Institute of Information Technology, Hyderabad (IIIT Hyderabad) with funding from TCS, to promote research, teaching and entrepreneurship, particularly to carry out sustainable innovation in areas such as natural language processing, robotics, and cognitive sciences. The research undertaken at the centre has the potential for significant social impact through the development of innovative products.

Digital Impact Square (DISQ) is an online, open social innovation platform, with a physical location at Nashik, Maharashtra, on which students and budding entrepreneurs from across India can build solutions to challenging civic and social problems, using digital technologies and human centric design principles.

A majority of training centres for the visually impaired across the country provides vocational training in crafts. To help them participate in a technology driven world, TCS Maitree has pioneered a one of its kind Advanced Computer Training Centre (ACTC) in India, which offers courses that are designed around specific industry profiles, equipping them with the domain and technology skills necessary to be gainfully employed.

Globally, countries like the United Kingdom, North America, Latin America and Australia face a shortage of technological skills. To address this gap, TCS has devised various programs to inspire a generation of young students to develop an interest in Science, Technology, Engineering and Math (STEM). In FY 2019, TCS reached over 660,000 students through STEM initiatives across geographies, including India.

An 'Ignite My Future' session conducted for teachers at a school in St. Louis, Missouri.

In 2017, TCS launched 'Ignite My Future in School' (IMFIS) in partnership with Discovery Education, to prepare more than one million students in the US, for 21st century careers, by the year 2021. This initiative seeks to transform the US education system by embedding computational thinking and problem solving into core school subjects, such as mathematics, English, social studies, and the arts. IMFIS adopts a paradigm shift by connecting with schools in a way that is customized to their needs. Since inception, IMFIS has provided training materials valued at more than $2 million and engaged over 460,000 students and 8,000 educators in all 50 states.

STEM programs in Latin America focus on three areas: (i) provide children and young students from unprivileged sectors access to information technology (ii) encourage youth to take up careers in the IT field and (iii) empower women through IT education.

In the United Kingdom and Ireland, TCS' IT Futures program has helped inspire students in technology, through its STEM activities. The core components of the IT Futures program include conducting workshops in schools and universities, organizing and having a presence at STEM events and offering work placements and internships. In the last 12 months, TCS' Digital Explorers program has connected with ~300,000 young students, building on their innate skills as digital natives and exposing them to the world of technology.

In Europe, goIT is a technology awareness program, targeting youth in the age group of 14-18 years, to generate an interest in STEM education and build future careers in IT. TCS Germany has been hosting Girls' Day at their offices every year under the goIT umbrella. Girls learn how to solve the given tasks in groups by programming Lego Mindstorms robots. TCS Hungary together with the American Chamber of Commerce launched the New Career Orientation Program, which aims to help prepare secondary school students (9th to 12th grades) to choose their career paths, and also equips them with information on the opportunities available in STEM.

In South Africa, TCS supported students in under-served schools in Cape Town, as they participated in an exobiology experiment in their classroom. The experiment brings together learners and the International Space Station (ISS) giving them an opportunity to interact with real astronauts, scientists and researchers. Identical experiments are conducted on plant growth, both in the ISS laboratory, as well as in the classrooms on Earth. This allows students to compare the data from experiments on earth with the data from space in real time. Over the course of the experiment, students acquire next generation skills and knowledge, while deepening their innate curiosity and desire to learn.

TCS Japan promotes STEM for children, using drones. GoIT in China and Singapore help popularize computer science as a subject, through sessions and workshops on design thinking, idea generation, coding and mobile app prototyping.

TCS Australia inspires girls to take up careers in IT, through its flagship program 'GoIT Girls', for class 10 and 11 students. TCS also mentors young Australian students to build their confidence in STEM disciplines.

Health and Wellness

Today, CSR is being harnessed to create new, systemic solutions that address the root causes of society's biggest health challenges. TCS has demonstrated its commitment to the community by using technology as a key enabler to provide comprehensive solutions to health-based organizations and hospitals.

TCS has provided an integrated Hospital Management System (HMS) and IT infrastructure which includes a comprehensive web-based solution, to the Cancer Institute at Chennai and Tata Medical Center at Kolkata. HMS is a secure and integrated system that aims to minimize the use of paper for information flow across the hospital. As part of the CSR engagement, TCS spear-headed end-to-end ownership of technology, business process optimization, program management and infrastructure. Patient movement inside the OPDs was streamlined, the Fast Track Management Service was enhanced and an automated Day Care appointment system was rolled out.

The Digital Nerve Centre (DiNC) is an innovative platform that leverages digital technologies to connect to leading cancer research centres and specialists within the National Cancer Grid. DiNC enables the country's oncology experts to effectively collaborate and communicate. TCS in collaboration with Tata Trusts is working towards the implementation of this platform in the National Cancer Grid hospitals at Tata Memorial, Mumbai; Cancer Institute, Chennai; Tata Medical Centre, Kolkata and Regional Cancer Centre, Thiruvananthapuram.

TCS' Translational Cancer Research Centre (TTCRC) is set up in partnership with Tata Medical Centre, to develop technology for clinical trials, risk adapted treatment, predictive outcomes and biomarkers. TCS has provided operational solutions for TTCRC since its inception, one of these being a bespoke web-enabled Clinical Trials Management System (CTMS) with decision support tools to track patients and record events, to be used for TTCRC trials.

The clinical research unit at TTCRC works closely with TCS in the development of a data-driven translational research platform, based on integrated analyses of clinical and laboratory studies.

Heart disease and stroke remain the leading causes of death in North America. TCS partners with the American Heart Association to support national awareness and prevention through information sharing and awareness building, particularly aimed at women.

There is an increasing prevalence of cardiovascular disease across the United Kingdom and Ireland (UK&I). TCS entered into a corporate charity partnership with the British Heart Foundation (BHF) to help spread awareness on heart health. TCS UK&I has raised funds for a research project that aims to identify factors contributing to heart disease.

Operation Smile provides free surgery for children with cleft lip and palate in remote areas of China. TCS employees regularly volunteer and provide their services on medical record and patient image management, translation services for international medical staff and also help patients who undergo surgery.

Environment

TCS' commitment towards the environment is driven by an organization-wide environmental policy that focuses on making a continuing positive impact on the environment, includes environmental responsibility as a core organizational value, and creates awareness among employees. The overall approach adopted aims to mitigate climate change related risks through resource optimization and impact minimization. TCS' environmental sustainability strategy is implemented through standardized processes, environmental impact performance monitoring and strong partnerships with stakeholders, including employees.

1. Process Focus

TCS has been certified enterprise-wide under the ISO 14001:2015 Environmental Management System (EMS) standard, across 120 locations globally. The EMS follows a risk-based approach that is founded on the principle of Plan-Do-Check-Act. This approach helps to integrate environmental risks and opportunities with TCS' business strategy. Energy, carbon, water and waste are the most material environmental aspects for our operations. We measure, manage and report on these aspects covering our global operations.

2. Enhanced Environmental Performance

Energy Conservation and Carbon Management

Energy and carbon continued to be material environmental aspects for us with greater focus on energy reduction and carbon mitigation. This year we further reduced our carbon footprint by ~8.1% over the prior year, and ~56% over the baseline year FY 2008. Having achieved our 2020 target to reduce the specific carbon footprint by 50%, we are now working on the next stage of our environmental sustainability targets. This reduction was achieved by adding more green buildings to our real estate portfolio, placing roof top solar panels across our offices, optimizing IT system power usage, and improving operational efficiency through our IoT based Remote Energy Management System. All these efforts have resulted in year-on-year energy reduction, offsetting the growth in employees, new facilities and ramping up of existing facilities.

TCS' corporate head office, TCS House in Mumbai, was awarded the highest Platinum rating by the Indian Green Building Council under the Existing Building category. TCS became the first IT services company in India to achieve the ISO 50001:2011 Energy Management System certification for its campus at Pune, Sahyadri Park.

Change over to energy efficient luminaires, retrofits and enhancement to legacy infrastructure, operational efficiency, were among the energy reduction levers. Renewable energy (RE) use in our offices increased to 10.1% as from 8.45% in the prior year, towards achieving the 2020 target of 20% RE in the energy mix. This year we added 1.7 MW of solar rooftop systems across four locations, and have plans to add another 3MW in the coming financial year. The solar rooftop installations across our campuses contribute towards 5849 MWh of energy.

We have continuously innovated and improved our data center energy efficiency through initiatives like data center/server room consolidation, rack cooling solutions, air-flow management, UPS load optimization through modular UPS solutions and centralized monitoring; thereby reducing the Power Utilization Efficiency (PUE) across 23 data centers to 1.67, reducing it from 1.71 in the prior year.

Water Conservation

TCS has optimized its water consumption through conservation, sewage treatment and reuse, and rainwater harvesting. All our new campuses are designed for 50% higher water efficiency, 100% treatment and recycling of sewage, and rainwater harvesting.

We continue to innovate with water management practices, primarily towards maximizing the reuse of waste streams. We successfully piloted a project to reuse cooling tower blow-down, which was earlier being discharged in order to maintain the cycle of concentration at optimum levels. The project involved setting up a treatment plant to make the water quality suitable for reuse. This initiative helped us reduce the freshwater consumption by over 90 kilo liters per day.

In FY 2019, consistent water management measures, consolidation of offices and increased occupancy at green field projects has helped us reduce our specific fresh water consumption by over 5.5% compared to FY 2018. With the addition of a rainwater harvesting system at our campus in Indore this year, and the existing system of rooftop water collection facilities, storage tanks, and recharge trenches and pits, there has been a 28% increase in the rainwater harvesting potential at TCS sites in FY 2019 over the prior year. We continue our efforts towards community water shed management and surface water body rejuvenation projects by scaling up our work at Siruseri in Chennai, Kasalganga in Solapur and Malguzari ponds in Vidarbha.

Waste Reduction and Reuse

Since we are an IT services and consulting organization, our facilities only generate electronic, electrical and office consumables waste, and municipal solid waste. There is also a relatively smaller proportion of potentially hazardous wastes such as lead-acid batteries and waste lube oil. TCS' waste management practices seek to maximize segregation at source, as well as reuse and recycling wherever possible.

In FY 2019, over 42% of the total food waste generated was treated using onsite composting methods or bio-digester treatment. All TCS campuses, owned offices and leased offices that have the required space, have been provided with onsite food waste management facilities. Dry waste is categorized, segregated and sent for recycling. Garden waste is composted onsite. Over 275 tons of compost was generated in FY 2019, helping TCS avoid the use of chemical fertilizers and the resultant soil and groundwater pollution.

In FY 2019, 52,862 items of obsolete or defunct electronic and electrical equipment classified as e-waste were disposed of through government-authorized handlers or recyclers, in accordance with the regulations of each country¹.

As a result of TCS' focus on resource use and waste reduction, per capita paper consumption has reduced by 12.6% over the prior year and 87% over the baseline year FY 2008. The success of this drive can be attributed to the awareness created among employees, and the enforcement of printing discipline through automated and manual means. TCS continues to achieve 100% recycling of its paper waste².

Responsible Sourcing

Our responsible sourcing program is positioned to motivate our suppliers to adhere to 100% regulatory compliance and strive for better sustainability performance. Our Sustainable Supply Chain policy and Green Procurement policy outline our commitment to making our supply chain more responsible and sustainable. TCS' Supplier Code of Conduct is included as a part of the contract with all vendors. Pre-qualification compliance assessments and site audits are carried out for high risk vendors with periodic reviews undertaken during the contract period.

3. Employee Engagement

Our customers, employees and vendors are very much a part of our environmental sustainability journey. We offer our customers IT-based green solutions, and motivate our vendors to adhere to safe and environmentally responsible practices.

We encourage our employees to volunteer for environmental causes in their community, and engage them through various internal awareness and communication campaigns, to sensitize them towards the risks to our environment, the need to conserve resources, and in general, to be environmentally responsible.

Throughout the year, TCS associates in North America participated in volunteering activities that positively impacted the environment, by way of park clean-ups, where they worked to remove invasive plant species and cleaned up local shorelines.

As part of the environment initiatives in Latin America, the 'Recycling with a Cause' initiative promotes environment consciousness by recycling paper, cans, lids, etc. which are handed over to NGO partners. These NGOs in turn contribute towards healthcare support to be provided to underprivileged people, either monetarily, or with resources. Healthcare treatments include chemotherapy, wheelchair and physical rehabilitation.

Every year, TCS UK&I runs four awareness raising campaigns in its offices, in order to reduce its environmental footprint. TCS also continues to promote environmental sustainability through Eco Futures, a staff awareness program that focuses on recycling, energy consumption, and travel.

Across TCS locations, employees volunteer for various environment related initiatives, such as tree planting drives and beach/park cleanup campaigns, in order to create awareness around their local communities.

Every year, the month of June is celebrated as the TCS Sustainability Month, and June 2018 saw TCS observe this campaign globally with the theme 'Beat Plastic Pollution'. We pledged to make all our offices plastic free by eliminating the use of single-use plastic items and minimizing and recycling plastic packaging in our cafeterias. Additionally, the campaign comprised of several employee engagement activities that encouraged TCSers to join this movement and implement their learning not only in their personal lives but also for the benefit of the community around them.

The Holding Company's management and Board of Directors are responsible for the preparation and presentation of these consolidated financial statements in terms of the requirements of the Act that give a true and fair view of the consolidated state of affairs, consolidated profit/loss and other comprehensive income, consolidated statement of changes in equity and consolidated cash flows of the Group in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, including the Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS) specified under Section 133 of the Act. The respective Board of Directors of the entities included in the Group are responsible for maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding the assets of each entity and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; the selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the consolidated financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, which have been used for the purpose of preparation of the consolidated financial statements by the Directors of the Holding Company, as aforesaid.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, the respective management and Board of Directors of the entities included in the Group are responsible for assessing the ability of each entity to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the entity or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The respective Board of Directors of the entities included in the Group is responsible for overseeing the financial reporting process of each entity.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under Section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the entity has adequate internal financial controls system in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting in preparation of consolidated financial statements and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the appropriateness of this assumption. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditors' report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditors' report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group (Holding company and subsidiaries) to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of such entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audit of financial information of such entities.

We believe that the audit evidence obtained by us is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the consolidated financial statements.

We communicate with those charged with governance of the Holding Company and such other entities included in the consolidated financial statements of which we are the independent auditors regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditors' report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

Annexure A to the Independent Auditor's Report

(Referred to in paragraph A(f) under 'Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements' section of our report of even date)

Report on the Internal Financial Controls under Clause (i) of sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act")

In conjunction with our audit of the consolidated financial statements of Tata Consultancy Services Limited ("the Holding Company") as of 31 March 2019, we have audited the internal financial controls with reference to the financial statements of the Holding Company and its subsidiaries, which are incorporated in India as of that date.

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The respective Board of Directors of the Holding company and its subsidiaries which are incorporated in India, are responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control with reference to financial statements criteria established by the Holding company and its subsidiaries, which are incorporated in India, considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting ("the Guidance Note") issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India ("ICAI"). These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to the respective entity's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Act.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the internal financial controls with reference to financial statements of the Holding Company and its subsidiaries which are incorporated in India, based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note and the Standards on Auditing, issued by the ICAI and deemed to be prescribed under Section 143(10) of the Act, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls, both applicable to an audit of Internal Financial Controls and, both issued by the ICAI. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls with reference to financial statements was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system with reference to financial statements and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls with reference to financial statements included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls with reference to financial statements, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the internal financial control system with reference to financial statements of the Holding Company and its subsidiaries which are incorporated in India.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls with reference to Financial Statements

A company's internal financial control with reference to financial statements is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control with reference to financial statements includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls with reference to Financial Statements

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls with reference to financial statements, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls with reference to financial statements to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control with reference to financial statements may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion, the Holding Company and its subsidiaries which are incorporated in India, have, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system with reference to financial statements and such internal financial controls with reference to financial statements were operating effectively as at 31 March 2019, based on the internal control with reference to financial statements criteria established by the Holding Company and its subsidiaries which are incorporated in India, considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note issued by the ICAI.

(c) Capital redemption reserve

(e) Special Economic Zone re-investment reserve

The Special Economic Zone (SEZ) re-investment reserve has been created out of the profit of eligible SEZ units in terms of the provisions of section 10AA(1)(ii) of the Income-tax Act, 1961. Such gains or losses will be reclassified to statement of profit and loss in the period in which the underlying hedged transaction occurs.

The exchange differences arising from the translation of financial statements of foreign operations with functional currency other than Indian rupees is recognised in other comprehensive income and is presented within equity in the foreign currency translation reserve.

Notes forming part of the Consolidated Financial Statements

1) Corporate information

Tata Consultancy Services Limited ("the Company") and its subsidiaries (collectively together with the employee welfare trusts referred to as "the Group") provide IT services, consulting and business solutions that have been partnering with many of the world's largest businesses in their transformation journeys for the last fifty years. The Group offers a consulting-led, cognitive powered, integrated portfolio of IT, business and engineering services and solutions. This is delivered through its unique Location-Independent Agile delivery model recognised as a benchmark of excellence in software development.

The Company is a public limited company incorporated and domiciled in India. The address of its corporate office is TCS House, Raveline Street, Fort, Mumbai 400001. As at March 31, 2019, Tata Sons Private Limited (formerly Tata Sons Limited), the holding company owned 72.02% of the Company's equity share capital.

The Board of Directors approved the consolidated financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2019 and authorised for issue on April 12, 2019.

2) Significant accounting policies

(a) Statement of compliance

These consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the Indian Accounting Standards (referred to as "Ind AS") prescribed under section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 read with the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules as amended from time to time.

(b) Basis of preparation

The functional currency of the Company and its Indian subsidiaries is the Indian Rupee (₹). The functional currency of foreign subsidiaries is the currency of the primary economic environment in which the entity operates.

These consolidated financial statements have been prepared on historical cost basis except for certain financial instruments which are measured at fair value or amortised cost at the end of each reporting period. Historical cost is generally based on the fair value of the consideration given in exchange for goods and services. Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. All assets and liabilities have been classified as current and non-current as per the Group's normal operating cycle. Based on the nature of services rendered to customers and time elapsed between deployment of resources and the realisation in cash and cash equivalents of the consideration for such services rendered, the Group has considered an operating cycle of 12 months.

The statement of cash flows have been prepared under indirect method.

(c) Basis of consolidation

The Company consolidates all entities which are controlled by it.

The Company establishes control when; it has power over the entity, is exposed, or has rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the entity and has the ability to affect the entity's returns by using its power over relevant activities of the entity.

Entities controlled by the Company are consolidated from the date control commences until the date control ceases.

All inter-company transactions, balances, income and expenses are eliminated in full on consolidation.

Changes in the Company's interests in subsidiaries that do not result in a loss of control are accounted for as equity transactions. The carrying amount of the Company's interests and the non-controlling interests are adjusted to reflect the changes in their relative interests in the subsidiaries. Any difference between the amount by which the non-controlling interests are adjusted and the fair value of the consideration paid or received is recognised directly in equity and attributed to shareholders of the Company.

(d) Business combinations

The Group accounts for its business combinations under acquisition method of accounting. Acquisition related costs are recognised in the consolidated statement of profit and loss as incurred. The acquiree's identifiable assets, liabilities and contingent liabilities that meet the condition for recognition are recognised at their fair values at the acquisition date.

Notes forming part of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Purchase consideration paid in excess of the fair value of net assets acquired is recognised as goodwill. Where the fair value of identifiable assets and liabilities exceed the cost of acquisition, after reassessing the fair values of the net assets and contingent liabilities, the excess is recognised as capital reserve.

The interest of non-controlling shareholders is initially measured either at fair value or at the non-controlling interests' proportionate share of the acquiree's identifiable net assets. The choice of measurement basis is made on an acquisition-by-acquisition basis. Subsequent to acquisition, the carrying amount of non-controlling interests is the amount of those interests at initial recognition plus the non-controlling interests' share of subsequent changes in equity of subsidiaries.

Business combinations arising from transfers of interests in entities that are under common control are accounted at historical cost. The difference between any consideration given and the aggregate historical carrying amounts of assets and liabilities of the acquired entity is recorded in shareholders' equity.

(e) Use of estimates and judgements

The preparation of consolidated financial statements in conformity with the recognition and measurement principles of Ind AS requires the management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported balances of assets and liabilities, disclosures of contingent liabilities as at the date of the consolidated financial statements and the reported amounts of income and expenses for the periods presented.

Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimates are revised and future periods are affected.

Key sources of estimation of uncertainty at the date of consolidated financial statements, which may cause a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year, are in respect of impairment of goodwill, useful lives of property, plant and equipment, valuation of deferred tax assets, and fair value measurements of financial instruments, these are discussed below. Key sources of estimation of uncertainty in respect of revenue recognition, employee benefits and provisions and contingent liabilities have been discussed in their respective policies.

Impairment of goodwill

The Group estimates the value-in-use of the cash generating unit (CGU) based on the future cash flows after considering current economic conditions and trends, estimated future operating results and growth rate and anticipated future economic and regulatory conditions. The estimated cash flows are developed using internal forecasts. The discount rate used for the CGU's represent the weighted average cost of capital based on the historical market returns of comparable companies.

Useful lives of property, plant and equipment

The Group reviews the useful life of property, plant and equipment at the end of each reporting period. This reassessment may result in change in depreciation expense in future periods.

Valuation of deferred tax assets

The Group reviews the carrying amount of deferred tax assets at the end of each reporting period. The policy has been explained under Note 2(k).

Fair value measurement of financial instruments

When the fair value of financial assets and financial liabilities recorded in the balance sheet cannot be measured based on quoted prices in active markets, their fair value is measured using valuation techniques including the Discounted Cash Flow model. The inputs to these models are taken from observable markets where possible, but where this is not feasible, a degree of judgement is required in establishing fair values. Judgements include considerations of inputs such as liquidity risk, credit risk and volatility. Changes in assumptions about these factors could affect the reported fair value of financial instruments. The policy has been further explained under note 2(l).

(f) Revenue recognition

The Group earns revenue primarily from providing IT services, consulting and business solutions. The Group offers a consulting-led, cognitive powered, integrated portfolio of IT, business and engineering services and solutions.

Notes forming part of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Effective April 1, 2018, the Group has applied Ind AS 115 which establishes a comprehensive framework for determining whether, how much and when revenue is to be recognised. Ind AS 115 replaces Ind AS 18 Revenue and Ind AS 11 Construction Contracts. The Group has adopted Ind AS 115 using the cumulative effect method. The effect of initially applying this standard is recognised at the date of initial application (i.e. April 1, 2018). The standard is applied retrospectively only to contracts that are not completed as at the date of initial application and the comparative information in the consolidated statement of profit and loss is not restated – i.e. the comparative information continues to be reported under Ind AS 18 and Ind AS 11. Refer note 2(f) – Significant accounting policies – Revenue recognition in the Annual report of the Company for the year ended March 31, 2018, for revenue recognition policy as per Ind AS 18 and Ind AS 11. The impact of adoption of the standard on the financial statements of the Group is insignificant.

Revenue is recognised upon transfer of control of promised products or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration which the Group expects to receive in exchange for those products or services.

- Revenue from time and material and job contracts is recognised on output basis measured by units delivered, efforts expended, number of transactions processed, etc.
- Revenue related to fixed price maintenance and support services contracts where the Group is standing ready to provide services is recognised based on time elapsed mode and revenue is straight lined over the period of performance.
- In respect of other fixed-price contracts, revenue is recognised using percentage-of-completion method ('POC method') of accounting with contract costs incurred determining the degree of completion of the performance obligation. The contract costs used in computing the revenues include cost of fulfilling warranty obligations.
- Revenue from the sale of distinct internally developed software and manufactured systems and third party software is recognised upfront at the point in time when the system / software is delivered to the customer. In cases where implementation and / or customisation services rendered significantly modifies or customises the software, these services and software are accounted for as a single performance obligation and revenue is recognised over time on a POC method.
- Revenue from the sale of distinct third party hardware is recognised at the point in time when control is transferred to the customer.
- The solutions offered by the Group may include supply of third-party equipment or software. In such cases, revenue for supply of such third party products are recorded at gross or net basis depending on whether the Group is acting as the principal or as an agent of the customer. The Group recognises revenue in the gross amount of consideration when it is acting as a principal and at net amount of consideration when it is acting as an agent.

Revenue is measured based on the transaction price, which is the consideration, adjusted for volume discounts, service level credits, performance bonuses, price concessions and incentives, if any, as specified in the contract with the customer. Revenue also excludes taxes collected from customers.

Contract assets are recognised when there is excess of revenue earned over billings on contracts. Contract assets are classified as unbilled receivables (only act of invoicing is pending) when there is unconditional right to receive cash, and only passage of time is required, as per contractual terms.

Unearned and deferred revenue ("contract liability") is recognised when there is billings in excess of revenues.

The billing schedules agreed with customers include periodic performance based payments and / or milestone based progress payments. Invoices are payable within contractually agreed credit period.

In accordance with Ind AS 37, the Group recognises an onerous contract provision when the unavoidable costs of meeting the obligations under a contract exceed the economic benefits to be received.

Contracts are subject to modification to account for changes in contract specification and requirements. The Group reviews modification to contract in conjunction with the original contract, basis which the transaction price could be allocated to a new performance obligation, or transaction price of an existing obligation could undergo a change. In the event transaction price is revised for existing obligation, a cumulative adjustment is accounted for.

The Group disaggregates revenue from contracts with customers by industry verticals, geography and nature of services.

Notes forming part of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Use of significant judgements in revenue recognition

- The Group's contracts with customers could include promises to transfer multiple products and services to a customer. The Group assesses the products / services promised in a contract and identifies distinct performance obligations in the contract. Identification of distinct performance obligation involves judgement to determine the deliverables and the ability of the customer to benefit independently from such deliverables.
 - Judgement is also required to determine the transaction price for the contract. The transaction price could be either a fixed amount of customer consideration or variable consideration with elements such as volume discounts, service level credits, performance bonuses, price concessions and incentives. The transaction price is also adjusted for the effects of the time value of money if the contract includes a significant financing component. Any consideration payable to the customer is adjusted to the transaction price, unless it is a payment for a distinct product or service from the customer. The estimated amount of variable consideration is adjusted in the transaction price only to the extent that it is highly probable that a significant reversal in the amount of cumulative revenue recognised will not occur and is reassessed at the end of each reporting period. The Group allocates the elements of variable considerations to all the performance obligations of the contract unless there is observable evidence that they pertain to one or more distinct performance obligations.
 - The Group uses judgement to determine an appropriate standalone selling price for a performance obligation. The Group allocates the transaction price to each performance obligation on the basis of the relative stand-alone selling price of each distinct product or service promised in the contract. Where standalone selling price is not observable, the Group uses the expected cost plus margin approach to allocate the transaction price to each distinct performance obligation.
 - The Group exercises judgement in determining whether the performance obligation is satisfied at a point in time or over a period of time. The Group considers indicators such as how customer consumes benefits as services are rendered or who controls the asset as it is being created or existence of enforceable right to payment for performance to date and alternate use of such product or service, transfer of significant risks and rewards to the customer, acceptance of delivery by the customer, etc.
 - Revenue for fixed-price contracts is recognised using percentage-of-completion method. The Group uses judgement to estimate the future cost-to-completion of the contracts which is used to determine the degree of the completion of the performance obligation.
 - Contract fulfilment costs are generally expensed as incurred except for certain software licence costs which meet the criteria for capitalisation. Such costs are amortised over the contractual period or useful life of the licence, whichever is less. The assessment of this criteria requires the application of judgement, in particular when considering if costs generate or enhance resources to be used to satisfy future performance obligations and whether costs are expected to be recovered.
- (g) Dividend income is recorded when the right to receive payment is established. Interest income is recognised using the effective interest method.

(h) Leases

Finance lease

Assets taken on lease by the Group in its capacity as lessee, where the Group has substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership are classified as finance lease. Such leases are capitalised at the inception of the lease at lower of the fair value or present value of the minimum lease payments and a liability is recognised for an equivalent amount. Each lease rental paid is allocated between the liability and the interest cost so as to obtain a constant periodic rate of interest on the outstanding liability for each year.

Operating lease

Lease arrangements where the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of an asset substantially vest with the lessor, are recognised as operating lease. Operating lease payments are recognised on a straight line basis over the lease term in the consolidated statement of profit and loss, unless the lease agreement explicitly states that increase is on account of inflation.

Notes forming part of the Consolidated Financial Statements

(i) Cost recognition

Costs and expenses are recognised when incurred and have been classified according to their nature.

The costs of the Group are broadly categorised into employee benefit expenses, cost of equipment and software licences, depreciation and amortisation and other expenses. Employee benefit expenses includes salaries, incentives and allowances, contributions to provident and other funds and staff welfare expenses. Other expenses mainly include fees to external consultants, facility expenses, travel expenses, communication expenses, bad debts and advances written off, allowance for doubtful trade receivables and advances (net) and other expenses. Other expenses is an aggregation of costs which are individually not material such as commission and brokerage, recruitment and training, entertainment, etc.

(j) Foreign currency

Foreign currency transactions are recorded at exchange rates prevailing on the date of the transaction. Foreign currency denominated monetary assets and liabilities are retranslated at the exchange rate prevailing on the balance sheet date and exchange gains and losses arising on settlement and restatement are recognised in the consolidated statement of profit and loss. Non-monetary assets and liabilities that are measured in terms of historical cost in foreign currencies are not retranslated.

Assets and liabilities of entities with functional currency other than the functional currency of the Company have been translated using exchange rates prevailing on the balance sheet date. Statement of profit and loss of such entities has been translated using weighted average exchange rates. Translation adjustments have been reported as foreign currency translation reserve in the statement of changes in equity.

(k) Income taxes

Income tax expense comprises current tax expense and the net change in the deferred tax asset or liability during the year. Current and deferred taxes are recognised in statement of profit and loss, except when they relate to items that are recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, in which case, the current and deferred tax are also recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, respectively.

Current income taxes

The current income tax expense includes income taxes payable by the Company, its overseas branches and its subsidiaries in India and overseas. The current tax payable by the Company and its subsidiaries in India is Indian income tax payable on worldwide income after taking credit for tax relief available for export operations in Special Economic Zones (SEZs).

Current income tax payable by overseas branches of the Company is computed in accordance with the tax laws applicable in the jurisdiction in which the respective branch operates. The taxes paid are generally available for set off against the Indian income tax liability of the Company's worldwide income.

The current income tax expense for overseas subsidiaries has been computed based on the tax laws applicable to each subsidiary in the respective jurisdiction in which it operates.

Advance taxes and provisions for current income taxes are presented in the balance sheet after off-setting advance tax paid and income tax provision arising in the same tax jurisdiction and where the relevant tax paying unit intends to settle the asset and liability on a net basis.

Deferred income taxes

Deferred income tax is recognised using the balance sheet approach. Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are recognised for deductible and taxable temporary differences arising between the tax base of assets and liabilities and their carrying amount, except when the deferred income tax arises from the initial recognition of goodwill or an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and affects neither accounting nor taxable profit or loss at the time of the transaction.

Deferred income tax assets are recognised to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences and the carry forward of unused tax credits and unused tax losses can be utilised.

The carrying amount of deferred income tax assets is reviewed at each reporting date and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred income tax asset to be utilised.

Notes forming part of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Deferred income tax liabilities are recognised for all taxable temporary differences except in respect of taxable temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries where the timing of the reversal of the temporary difference can be controlled and it is probable that the temporary difference will not reverse in the foreseeable future.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using substantively enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which the temporary differences are expected to be received or settled.

For operations carried out in SEZs, deferred tax assets or liabilities, if any, have been established for the tax consequences of those temporary differences between the carrying values of assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases that reverse after the tax holiday ends.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when they relate to income taxes levied by the same taxation authority and the relevant entity intends to settle its current tax assets and liabilities on a net basis.

Deferred tax assets include Minimum Alternative Tax (MAT) paid in accordance with the tax laws in India, to the extent it would be available for set off against future current income tax liability. Accordingly, MAT is recognised as deferred tax asset in the balance sheet when the asset can be measured reliably and it is probable that the future economic benefit associated with the asset will be realised.

(I) Financial instruments

Financial assets and liabilities are recognised when the Group becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument. Financial assets and liabilities are initially measured at fair value. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of financial assets and financial liabilities (other than financial assets and financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss) are added to or deducted from the fair value measured on initial recognition of financial asset or financial liability.

The Group derecognises a financial asset only when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the asset expire, or when it transfers the financial asset and substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the asset to another entity. The Group derecognises financial liabilities when, and only when, the Group's obligations are discharged, cancelled or have expired.

Cash and cash equivalents

The Group considers all highly liquid financial instruments, which are readily convertible into known amounts of cash that are subject to an insignificant risk of change in value and having original maturities of three months or less from the date of purchase, to be cash equivalents. Cash and cash equivalents consist of balances with banks which are unrestricted for withdrawal and usage.

Financial assets at amortised cost

Financial assets are subsequently measured at amortised cost if these financial assets are held within a business whose objective is to hold these assets in order to collect contractual cash flows and the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income

Financial assets are measured at fair value through other comprehensive income if these financial assets are held within a business whose objective is achieved by both collecting contractual cash flows on specified dates that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding and selling financial assets.

The Group has made an irrevocable election to present subsequent changes in the fair value of equity investments not held for trading in other comprehensive income.

Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss

Financial assets are measured at fair value through profit or loss unless they are measured at amortised cost or at fair value through other comprehensive income on initial recognition. The transaction costs directly attributable to the acquisition of financial assets and liabilities at fair value through profit or loss are immediately recognised in statement of profit and loss.

Notes forming part of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Financial liabilities

Financial liabilities are measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

Equity instruments

An equity instrument is a contract that evidences residual interest in the assets of the company after deducting all of its liabilities. Equity instruments issued by the Group are recognised at the proceeds received net of direct issue cost.

Hedge accounting

The Group designates certain foreign exchange forward, currency options and futures contracts as hedge instruments in respect of foreign exchange risks. These hedges are accounted for as cash flow hedges.

The Group uses hedging instruments that are governed by the policies of the Company and its subsidiaries which are approved by their respective Board of Directors. The policies provide written principles on the use of such financial derivatives consistent with the risk management strategy of the Company and its subsidiaries.

The hedge instruments are designated and documented as hedges at the inception of the contract. The Group determines the existence of an economic relationship between the hedging instrument and hedged item based on the currency, amount and timing of their respective cash flows. The effectiveness of hedge instruments to reduce the risk associated with the exposure being hedged is assessed and measured at inception and on an ongoing basis. If the hedged future cash flows are no longer expected to occur, then the amounts that have been accumulated in other equity are immediately reclassified in net foreign exchange gains in the statement of profit and loss.

The effective portion of change in the fair value of the designated hedging instrument is recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated under the heading cash flow hedging reserve.

The Group separates the intrinsic value and time value of an option and designates as hedging instruments only the change in intrinsic value of the option. The change in fair value of the time value and intrinsic value of an option is recognised in other comprehensive income and accounted as a separate component of equity. Such amounts are reclassified into the statement of profit and loss when the related hedged items affect profit and loss.

Hedge accounting is discontinued when the hedging instrument expires or is sold, terminated or no longer qualifies for hedge accounting. Any gain or loss recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated in equity till that time remains and is recognised in statement of profit and loss when the forecasted transaction ultimately affects the profit and loss.

(m) Provisions and contingent liabilities

A provision is recognised when the Group has a present obligation as a result of past event and it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation, in respect of which a reliable estimate can be made. These are reviewed at each balance sheet date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimates.

Contingent liabilities are disclosed when there is a possible obligation arising from past events, the existence of which will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within the control of the Group or a present obligation that arises from past events where it is either not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation or a reliable estimate of the amount cannot be made. Contingent assets are neither recognised nor disclosed in the financial statements.

(n) Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment are stated at cost comprising of purchase price and any initial directly attributable cost of bringing the asset to its working condition for its intended use, less accumulated depreciation (other than freehold land) and impairment loss, if any.

Depreciation is provided for property, plant and equipment on a straight line basis so as to expense the cost less residual value over their estimated useful lives based on a technical evaluation. The estimated useful lives and residual values are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any change in estimate accounted for on a prospective basis.

Notes forming part of the Consolidated Financial Statements

The estimated useful lives are as mentioned below:

Type of asset	Useful lives
Buildings	20 years
Leasehold improvements	Lease term
Plant and equipment	10 years
Computer equipment	4 years
Vehicles	4 years
Office equipment	5 years
Electrical installations	10 years
Furniture and fixtures	5 years

Assets held under finance lease are depreciated over the shorter of the lease term and their useful lives.

Depreciation is not recorded on capital work-in-progress until construction and installation are complete and the asset is ready for its intended use.

(o) Goodwill and intangible assets

Goodwill represents the cost of acquired business as established at the date of acquisition of the business in excess of the acquirer's interest in the net fair value of the identifiable assets, liabilities and contingent liabilities less accumulated impairment losses, if any. Goodwill is tested for impairment annually or when events or circumstances indicate that the implied fair value of goodwill is less than its carrying amount.

Intangible assets purchased including acquired in business combination, are measured at cost as at the date of acquisition, as applicable, less accumulated amortisation and accumulated impairment, if any.

Intangible assets are amortised on a straight line basis over the period of its economic useful life.

Intangible assets consist of acquired contract rights, rights under licensing agreement and software licences and customer-related intangibles.

Following table summarises the nature of intangibles and their estimated useful lives:

Type of asset	Useful lives
Acquired contract rights	3-12 years
Rights under licensing agreement and software licences	Lower of licence period and 2-5 years
Customer-related intangibles	3 years

(p) Impairment

(i) Financial assets (other than at fair value)

The Group assesses at each date of balance sheet whether a financial asset or a group of financial assets is impaired. Ind AS 109 requires expected credit losses to be measured through a loss allowance. In determining the allowances for doubtful trade receivables, the Group has used a practical expedient by computing the expected credit loss allowance for trade receivables based on a provision matrix. The provision matrix takes into account historical credit loss experience and is adjusted for forward looking information. The expected credit loss allowance is based on the ageing of the receivables that are due and allowance rates used in the provision matrix. For all other financial assets, expected credit losses are measured at an amount equal to the 12-month expected credit losses or at an amount equal to the life time expected credit losses if the credit risk on the financial asset has increased significantly since initial recognition.

(ii) Non-financial assets

(a) Tangible and other intangible assets

Property, plant and equipment and intangible assets with finite life are evaluated for recoverability whenever there is any indication that their carrying amounts may not be recoverable. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount (i.e. higher of the fair value less cost to sell and the value-in-use) is determined on an individual asset basis unless the asset does not generate cash flows that are largely independent of those from other assets. In such cases, the recoverable amount is determined for the cash generating unit (CGU) to which the asset belongs.

If the recoverable amount of an asset (or CGU) is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset (or CGU) is reduced to its recoverable amount. An impairment loss is recognised in the statement of profit and loss.

(b) Goodwill

CGUs to which goodwill has been allocated are tested for impairment annually, or more frequently when there is indication for impairment. If the recoverable amount of a CGU is less than its carrying amount, the impairment loss is allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill allocated to the unit and then to the other assets of the unit on a pro-rata basis of the carrying amount of each asset in the unit.

(q) Employee benefits

(i) Defined benefit plans

For defined benefit plans, the cost of providing benefits is determined using the Projected Unit Credit Method, with actuarial valuations being carried out at each balance sheet date. Remeasurement, comprising actuarial gains and losses, the effect of the changes to the asset ceiling and the return on plan assets (excluding interest), is reflected immediately in the balance sheet with a charge or credit recognised in other comprehensive income in the period in which they occur. Past service cost, both vested and unvested, is recognised as an expense at the earlier of (a) when the plan amendment or curtailment occurs; and (b) when the entity recognises related restructuring costs or termination benefits.

The retirement benefit obligations recognised in the balance sheet represents the present value of the defined benefit obligations reduced by the fair value of scheme assets. Any asset resulting from this calculation is limited to the present value of available refunds and reductions in future contributions to the scheme.

(ii) Defined contribution plans

Contributions to defined contribution plans are recognised as expense when employees have rendered services entitling them to such benefits.

(iii) Short-term employee benefits

All employee benefits payable wholly within twelve months of rendering the service are classified as short-term employee benefits. Benefits such as salaries, wages etc. and the expected cost of ex-gratia are recognised in the period in which the employee renders the related service. A liability is recognised for the amount expected to be paid when there is a present legal or constructive obligation to pay this amount as a result of past service provided by the employee and the obligation can be estimated reliably.

(iv) Compensated absences

Compensated absences which are expected to occur within twelve months after the end of the period in which the employee renders the related services are recognised as undiscounted liability at the balance sheet date. Compensated absences which are not expected to occur within twelve months after the end of the period in which the employee renders the related services are recognised as an actuarially determined liability at the present value of the defined benefit obligation at the balance sheet date.

(r) Inventories

Inventories consists of (a) Raw materials, sub-assemblies and components, (b) Work-in-progress, (c) Stores and spare parts and (d) Finished goods. Inventories are carried at lower of cost and net realisable value. The cost of raw materials, sub-assemblies and components is determined on a weighted average basis. Cost of finished goods produced or purchased by the Group includes direct material and labour cost and a proportion of manufacturing overheads.

(s) Earnings per share

Basic earnings per share is computed by dividing profit or loss attributable to equity shareholders of the Company by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year. The Company did not have any potentially dilutive securities in any of the years presented.

3) Recent Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS)

Ministry of Corporate Affairs ("MCA") through Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Amendment Rules, 2019 and Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Second Amendment Rules, has notified the following new and amendments to Ind AS which the Group has not applied as they are effective from April 1, 2019:

Ind AS 116 – Leases

Ind AS 116 will replace the existing leases standard, Ind AS 17 Leases. Ind AS 116 sets out the principles for the recognition, measurement, presentation and disclosure of leases for both lessees and lessors. It introduces a single, on-balance sheet lessee accounting model for lessees. A lessee recognises right-of-use asset representing its right to use the underlying asset and a lease liability representing its obligation to make lease payments. The standard also contains enhanced disclosure requirements for lessees. Ind AS 116 substantially carries forward the lessor accounting requirements in Ind AS 17.

The Group will adopt Ind AS 116 effective annual reporting period beginning April 1, 2019. The Group will apply the standard to its leases, retrospectively, with the cumulative effect of initially applying the standard, recognised on the date of initial application (April 1, 2019). Accordingly, the Group will not restate comparative information, instead, the cumulative effect of initially applying this Standard will be recognised as an adjustment to the opening balance of retained earnings as on April 1, 2019. On that date, the Group will recognise a lease liability measured at the present value of the remaining lease payments. The right-of-use asset is recognised at its carrying amount as if the Standard had been applied since the commencement date, but discounted using the lessee's incremental borrowing rate as at April 1, 2019. In accordance with the standard, the Group will elect not to apply the requirements of Ind AS 116 to short-term leases and leases for which the underlying asset is of low value.

On transition, the Group will be using the practical expedient provided by the standard and therefore, will not reassess whether a contract, is or contains a lease, at the date of initial application.

The Group is in the process of finalising changes to systems and processes to meet the accounting and the reporting requirements of the standard in conjunction with review of lease agreements.

The Group will recognise with effect from April 1, 2019 new assets and liabilities for its operating leases of premises and other assets. The nature of expenses related to those leases will change from lease rent in previous periods to (a) amortisation charge for the right-to-use asset, and (b) interest accrued on lease liability

Previously, the Group recognised operating lease expense on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease, and recognised assets and liabilities only to the extent that there was a timing difference between actual lease payments and the expense recognised.

As a lessor, sublease shall be classified as an operating lease if the head lease is classified as a short term lease. In all other cases, the sublease shall be classified as a finance lease.

On transition, for leases other than short-term leases and leases of low value assets, the Group will recognise a right-of-use asset of ₹ 5,623 crore and a corresponding lease liability of ₹ 6,555 crore with the cumulative effect of applying the standard by adjusting retained earnings net of taxes. There will be consequent reclassification in the cash flow categories in the consolidated statement of cash flows.

Ind AS 12 – Income taxes (amendments relating to income tax consequences of dividend and uncertainty over income tax treatments)

The amendment relating to income tax consequences of dividend clarify that an entity shall recognise the income tax consequences of dividends in profit or loss, other comprehensive income or equity according to where the entity originally recognised those past transactions or events. The Group does not expect any impact from this pronouncement. It is relevant to note that the amendment does not amend situations where the entity pays a tax on dividend which is effectively a portion of dividends paid to taxation authorities on behalf of shareholders. Such amount paid or payable to taxation authorities continues to be charged to equity as part of dividend, in accordance with Ind AS 12.

The amendment to Appendix C of Ind AS 12 specifies that the amendment is to be applied to the determination of taxable profit (tax loss), tax bases, unused tax losses, unused tax credits and tax rates, when there is uncertainty over income tax treatments under Ind AS 12. It outlines the following: (1) the entity has to use judgement, to determine whether each tax treatment should be considered separately or whether some can be considered together. The decision should be based on the approach which provides better predictions of the resolution of the uncertainty

(2) the entity is to assume that the taxation authority will have full knowledge of all relevant information while examining any amount (3) entity has to consider the probability of the relevant taxation authority accepting the tax treatment and the determination of taxable profit (tax loss), tax bases, unused tax losses, unused tax credits and tax rates would depend upon the probability. The Group does not expect any significant impact of the amendment on its financial statements.

Ind AS 109 – Prepayment Features with Negative Compensation

The amendments relate to the existing requirements in Ind AS 109 regarding termination rights in order to allow measurement at amortised cost (or, depending on the business model, at fair value through other comprehensive income) even in the case of negative compensation payments. The Group does not expect this amendment to have any impact on its financial statements.

Ind AS 19 – Plan Amendment, Curtailment or Settlement

The amendments clarify that if a plan amendment, curtailment or settlement occurs, it is mandatory that the current service cost and the net interest for the period after the re-measurement are determined using the assumptions used for the re-measurement. In addition, amendments have been included to clarify the effect of a plan amendment, curtailment or settlement on the requirements regarding the asset ceiling. The Group does not expect this amendment to have any significant impact on its financial statements.

Ind AS 23 – Borrowing Costs

The amendments clarify that if any specific borrowing remains outstanding after the related asset is ready for its intended use or sale, that borrowing becomes part of the funds that an entity borrows generally when calculating the capitalisation rate on general borrowings. The Group does not expect any impact from this amendment.

Ind AS 28 – Long-term Interests in Associates and Joint Ventures

The amendments clarify that an entity applies Ind AS 109 Financial Instruments, to long-term interests in an associate or joint venture that form part of the net investment in the associate or joint venture but to which the equity method is not applied. The Group does not currently have any long-term interests in associates and joint ventures.

Ind AS 103 – Business Combinations and Ind AS 111 – Joint Arrangements

The amendments to Ind AS 103 relating to re-measurement clarify that when an entity obtains control of a business that is a joint operation, it re-measures previously held interests in that business. The amendments to Ind AS 111 clarify that when an entity obtains joint control of a business that is a joint operation, the entity does not re-measure previously held interests in that business. The Group will apply the pronouncement if and when it obtains control / joint control of a business that is a joint operation.

The estimated value-in-use of this CGU is based on the future cash flows using a 1.50% annual growth rate for periods subsequent to the forecast period of 5 years and discount rate of 10.77%. An analysis of the sensitivity of the computation to a change in key parameters (operating margin, discount rates and long term average growth rate), based on reasonable assumptions, did not identify any probable scenario in which the recoverable amount of the CGU would decrease below its carrying amount.

The remaining amount of goodwill of ₹ 1,106 crore and ₹ 1,127 crore as at March 31, 2019 and 2018, respectively, (relating to different CGUs individually immaterial) has been evaluated based on the cash flow forecasts of the related CGUs and the recoverable amounts of these CGUs exceeded their carrying amounts.

Under the Income-tax Act, 1961, Tata Consultancy Services Limited is liable to pay Minimum Alternate Tax in the tax holiday period. MAT paid can be carried forward for a period of 15 years and can be set off against the future tax liabilities. MAT is recognised as a deferred tax asset only when the asset can be measured reliably and it is probable that the future economic benefit associated with the asset will be realised. Accordingly, Tata Consultancy Services Limited has recognised a deferred tax asset of ₹ 1,170 crore.

Deferred tax liability on temporary differences of ₹ 8,456 crore as at March 31, 2019, associated with investments in subsidiaries, has not been recognised, as it is the intention of Tata Consultancy Services Limited to reinvest the earnings of these subsidiaries for the foreseeable future.

The Company and its subsidiaries have ongoing disputes with income tax authorities in India and in some of the jurisdictions where they operate. The disputes relate to tax treatment of certain expenses claimed as deductions, computation or eligibility of tax incentives or allowances, and characterisation of fees for services received. The Company and its subsidiaries have contingent liability of ₹ 1,504 crore and ₹ 5,639 crore as at March 31, 2019 and 2018, respectively, in respect of tax demands which are being contested by the Company and its subsidiaries based on the management evaluation and advice of tax consultants. In respect of tax contingencies of ₹ 318 crore and ₹ 318 crore as at March 31, 2019 and 2018, respectively, not included above, the Company is entitled to an indemnification from the seller of TCS e-Serve Limited.

The Group periodically receives notices and inquiries from income tax authorities related to the Group's operations in the jurisdictions it operates in. The Group has evaluated these notices and inquiries and has concluded that any consequent income tax claims or demands by the income tax authorities will not succeed on ultimate resolution.

The number of years that are subject to tax assessments varies depending on tax jurisdiction. The major tax jurisdictions of Tata Consultancy Services Limited include India, United States of America and United Kingdom. In India, tax filings from fiscal 2016 are generally subject to examination by the tax authorities. In United States of America, the federal statute of limitation applies to fiscals 2015 and earlier and applicable state statutes of limitation vary by state. In United Kingdom, the statute of limitation generally applies to fiscal 2016 and earlier.

Revenue disaggregation as per industry vertical and geography has been included in segment information (Refer note 32).

While disclosing the aggregate amount of transaction price yet to be recognised as revenue towards unsatisfied (or partially satisfied) performance obligations, along with the broad time band for the expected time to recognise those revenues, the Group has applied the practical expedient in Ind AS 115. Accordingly, the Group has not disclosed the aggregate transaction price allocated to unsatisfied (or partially satisfied) performance obligations which pertain to contracts where revenue recognised corresponds to the value transferred to customer typically involving time and material, outcome based and event based contracts.

Unsatisfied (or partially satisfied) performance obligations are subject to variability due to several factors such as terminations, changes in scope of contracts, periodic revaluations of the estimates, economic factors (changes in currency rates, tax laws etc). The aggregate value of transaction price allocated to unsatisfied (or partially satisfied) performance obligations is ₹ 82,489 crore out of which 54.48% is expected to be recognised as revenue in the next year and the balance thereafter. No consideration from contracts with customers is excluded from the amount mentioned above.

Employee benefits plans

Gratuity and pension

In accordance with Indian law, Tata Consultancy Services Limited and its subsidiaries in India operate a scheme of Gratuity which is a defined benefit plan. The gratuity plan provides for a lump sum payment to vested employees at retirement, death while in employment or on termination of employment of an amount equivalent to 15 to 30 days' salary payable for each completed year of service. Vesting occurs upon completion of five continuous years of service. The Company manages the plan through a trust. Trustees administer contributions made to the trust. Certain overseas subsidiaries of the Company also provide for retirement benefit pension plans in accordance with the local laws.

The following table sets out the details of the defined benefit retirement plans and the amounts recognised in the financial statements:

The assumptions used in accounting for the defined benefit plan are set out below:

	Year ended March 31, 2019		Year ended March 31, 2018
	Domestic plans	Foreign plans	Domestic plans	Foreign plans
Discount rate	7.00%-7.75%	0.75%-9.00%	7.25%-7.75%	0.60%-7.75%
Rate of increase in compensation levels of covered employees	6.00%-8.00%	1.25%-7.00%	5.00%-8.00%	1.25%-6.00%
Rate of return on plan assets	7.00%-7.75%	0.75%-9.00%	7.25%-7.75%	0.60%-7.75%
Weighted average duration of defined benefit obligations	8-11 years	6.25-27 years	8-12 years	5-28 years

The expected benefits are based on the same assumptions as are used to measure Group's defined benefit plan obligations as at March 31, 2019. The Group is expected to contribute ₹ 330 crore to defined benefit plan obligations funds for the year ended March 31, 2020 comprising domestic component of ₹ 315 crore and foreign component of ₹ 15 crore.

Notes forming part of the Consolidated Financial Statements

The significant actuarial assumptions for the determination of the defined benefit obligations are discount rate and expected salary increase. The sensitivity analysis below have been determined based on reasonably possible changes of the respective assumptions occurring at the end of the reporting period, while holding all other assumptions constant.

If the discount rate increases / decreases by 0.50%, the defined benefit obligations would increase / (decrease) as follows:

	(₹ crore)
	As at March 31, 2019	As at March 31, 2018
Increase of 0.50%	(157)	(143)
Decrease of 0.50%	175	158

If the expected salary growth increases / decreases by 0.50%, the defined benefit obligations would increase / (decrease) as follows:

	(₹ crore)
	As at March 31, 2019	As at March 31, 2018
Increase of 0.50%	120	96
Decrease of 0.50%	(113)	(90)

The sensitivity analysis presented above may not be representative of the actual change in the defined benefit obligations as it is unlikely that the change in assumptions would occur in isolation of one another as some of the assumption may be correlated.

Furthermore, in presenting the above sensitivity analysis, the present value of the defined benefit obligations has been calculated using the Projected Unit Credit Method at the end of the reporting period, which is the same as that applied in calculating the defined benefit obligation liability recognised in the balance sheet.

Each year an Asset - Liability matching study is performed in which the consequences of the strategic investment policies are analysed in terms of risk and return profiles. Investment and contribution policies are integrated within this study.

The defined benefit obligations shall mature after year ended March 31, 2019 as follows:

	(₹ crore)
Year ending March 31,	Defined benefit obligations
2020	262
2021	231
2022	242
2023	244
2024	242
2025-2029	1,274

Provident fund

In accordance with Indian law, all eligible employees of Tata Consultancy Services Limited in India are entitled to receive benefits under the provident fund plan in which both the employee and employer (at a determined rate) contribute monthly to a Trust set up by the Company to manage the investments and distribute the amounts entitled to employees. This plan is a defined benefit plan as the Company is obligated to provide its members a rate of return which should, at the minimum, meet the interest rate declared by Government administered provident fund. A part of the Company's contribution is transferred to Government administered pension fund. The contributions made by the Company and the shortfall of interest, if any, are recognised as an expense in profit or loss under employee benefit expenses. In accordance with an actuarial valuation of provident fund liabilities on the basis of guidance issued by Actuarial Society of India and based on the assumptions as mentioned below, there is no deficiency in the interest cost as the present value of the expected future earnings of the fund is greater than the expected amount to be credited to the individual members based on the expected guaranteed rate of interest of Government administered provident fund.

All eligible employees of Indian subsidiaries of the Company are entitled to receive benefits under the provident fund plan in which both the employee and employer (at a determined rate) contribute monthly to the Government administered provident fund plan. A part of the company's contribution is transferred to Government administered pension fund. *Loans receivables include inter-corporate deposits of ₹ 4,797 crore, with original maturity period within 50 months.

Carrying amounts of cash and cash equivalents, trade receivables, unbilled receivables (previous year: unbilled revenues, loans receivables and trade payables as at March 31, 2019 and 2018, approximate the fair value. Difference between carrying amounts and fair values of bank deposits, earmarked balances with banks, other financial assets, other financial liabilities and borrowings subsequently measured at amortised cost is not significant in each of the periods presented. Fair value of investments carried at amortised cost is ₹ 704 crore and ₹ 192 crore as at March 31, 2019 and 2018, respectively.

Fair value hierarchy

The fair value hierarchy is based on inputs to valuation techniques that are used to measure fair value that are either observable or unobservable and consist of the following three levels:

- Level 1 — Inputs are quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.
- Level 2 — Inputs are other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e. as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices).
- Level 3 — Inputs are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs). Fair values are determined in whole or in part using a valuation model based on assumptions that are neither supported by prices from observable current market transactions in the same instrument nor are they based on available market data.

The cost of unquoted investments included in Level 3 of fair value hierarchy approximate their fair value because there is a wide range of possible fair value measurements and the cost represents estimate of fair value within that range.

(b) Derivative financial instruments and hedging activity

The Group's revenue is denominated in various foreign currencies. Given the nature of the business, a large portion of the costs are denominated in Indian Rupee. This exposes the Group to currency fluctuations.

The Board of Directors have constituted a Risk Management Committee (RMC) to frame, implement and monitor the risk management plan of the Group which inter-alia covers risks arising out of exposure to foreign currency fluctuations. Under the guidance and framework provided by the RMC, the Group uses various derivative instruments such as foreign exchange forward, currency options and futures contracts in which the counter party is generally a bank.

The following are outstanding currency options contracts, which have been designated as cash flow hedges:

Foreign currency	As at March 31, 2019			As at March 31, 2018
	No. of contracts	Notional amount of contracts (In millions)	Fair value (₹ crore)	No. of contracts	Notional amount of contracts (In millions)	Fair value (₹ crore)
US Dollar	28	1,000	128	24	1,466	20
Great Britain Pound	24	177	23	34	263	(23)
Euro	33	239	50	26	216	1
Australian Dollar	26	181	22	21	150	12
Canadian Dollar	21	99	14	-	-	-

The movement in cash flow hedging reserve for derivatives designated as cash flow hedges is as follows:

	Intrinsic value	Time value	Intrinsic value	Time value
Balance at the beginning of the year	(2)	(69)	105	(17)
(Gain) / loss transferred to profit and loss on occurrence of forecasted hedge transactions	(488)	458	(127)	340
Deferred tax on (gain) / loss transferred to profit and loss on occurrence of forecasted hedge transactions	94	(25)	15	(38)
Change in the fair value of effective portion of cash flow hedges	641	(414)	5	(399)
Deferred tax on fair value of effective portion of cash flow hedges	(111)	20	-	45
Balance at the end of the year	134	(30)	(2)	(69)

In addition to the above cash flow hedges, the Group has outstanding foreign exchange forward, currency options and futures contracts with notional amount aggregating ₹ 34,939 crore and ₹ 22,404 crore whose fair value showed a net gain of ₹ 288 crore and net loss of ₹ 12 crore as at March 31, 2019 and 2018, respectively. Although these contracts are effective as hedges from an economic perspective, they do not qualify for hedge accounting.

Exchange gain of ₹ 408 crore and exchange loss of ₹ 52 crore on foreign exchange forward, currency options and futures contracts that do not qualify for hedge accounting have been recognised in the consolidated statement of profit and loss for the years ended March 31, 2019 and 2018, respectively.

Net foreign exchange gains include gain of ₹ 30 crore and exchange loss of ₹ 213 crore transferred from cash flow hedging reserve for the years ended March 31, 2019 and 2018, respectively.

Notes forming part of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Net gain on derivative instruments of ₹ 104 crore recognised in cash flow hedging reserve as at March 31, 2019, is expected to be transferred to the statement of profit and loss by March 31, 2020. The maximum period over which the exposure to cash flow variability has been hedged is through calendar year 2019.

Following table summarises approximate gain / (loss) on Group's other comprehensive income on account of appreciation / depreciation of the underlying foreign currencies.

	(₹ crore)
	As at March 31, 2019	As at March 31, 2018
10% Appreciation of the underlying foreign currencies	(64)	(323)
10% Depreciation of the underlying foreign currencies	1,370	1,054

(c) Financial risk management

The Group is exposed primarily to fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates, credit, liquidity and interest rate risks, which may adversely impact the fair value of its financial instruments. The Group has a risk management policy which covers risks associated with the financial assets and liabilities. The risk management policy is approved by the Board of Directors. The focus of the risk management committee is to assess the unpredictability of the financial environment and to mitigate potential adverse effects on the financial performance of the Group.

(i) Market risk

Market risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices. Such changes in the values of financial instruments may result from changes in the foreign currency exchange rates, interest rates, credit, liquidity and other market changes. The Group's exposure to market risk is primarily on account of foreign currency exchange rate risk.

(i) (a) Foreign currency exchange rate risk

The fluctuation in foreign currency exchange rates may have potential impact on the consolidated statement of profit and loss and other comprehensive income and equity, where any transaction references more than one currency or where assets / liabilities are denominated in a currency other than the functional currency of the respective entities. Considering the countries and economic environment in which the Group operates, its operations are subject to risks arising from fluctuations in exchange rates in those countries.

The Group, as per its risk management policy, uses derivative instruments primarily to hedge foreign exchange. Further, any movement in the functional currencies of the various operations of the Group against major foreign currencies may impact the Group's revenue in international business.

The Group evaluates the impact of foreign exchange rate fluctuations by assessing its exposure to exchange rate risks. It hedges a part of these risks by using derivative financial instruments in line with its risk management policies.

The foreign exchange rate sensitivity is calculated by aggregation of the net foreign exchange rate exposure and a simultaneous parallel foreign exchange rates shift of all the currencies by 10% against the respective functional currencies of Tata Consultancy Services Limited and its subsidiaries.

The following analysis has been worked out based on the net exposures for each of the subsidiaries and Tata Consultancy Services Limited as of the date of balance sheet which could affect the statement of profit and loss and other comprehensive income and equity. Further the exposure as indicated below is mitigated by some of the derivative contracts entered into by the Group as disclosed in note 30(b).

The following table sets forth information relating to foreign currency exposure as at March 31, 2019:

	(₹ crore)
	USD	EUR	GBP	Others
Net financial assets	2,519	321	500	1,285
Net financial liabilities	(82)	-	(10)	(308)

Notes forming part of the Consolidated Financial Statements

10% appreciation / depreciation of the respective foreign currencies with respect to functional currency of Tata Consultancy Services Limited and its subsidiaries would result in decrease / increase in the Group's profit before taxes by approximately ₹ 423 crore for the year ended March 31, 2019.

The following table sets forth information relating to foreign currency exposure as at March 31, 2018:

	(₹ crore)
	USD	EUR	GBP	Others
Net financial assets	2,481	349	266	1,228
Net financial liabilities	(298)	(1)	(6)	(359)

10% appreciation / depreciation of the respective foreign currencies with respect to functional currency of Tata Consultancy Services Limited and its subsidiaries would result in decrease / increase in the Group's profit before taxes by approximately ₹ 366 crore for the year ended March 31, 2018.

(i) (b) Interest rate risk

The Group's investments are primarily in fixed rate interest bearing investments. Hence, the Group is not significantly exposed to interest rate risk.

(ii) Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk of financial loss arising from counterparty failure to repay or service debt according to the contractual terms or obligations. Credit risk encompasses of both, the direct risk of default and the risk of deterioration of creditworthiness as well as concentration of risks. Credit risk is controlled by analysing credit limits and creditworthiness of customers on a continuous basis to whom the credit has been granted after obtaining necessary approvals for credit.

Financial instruments that are subject to concentrations of credit risk principally consist of trade receivables, unbilled receivables, investments, derivative financial instruments, cash and cash equivalents, bank deposits and other financial assets. Inter-corporate deposits of ₹ 7,725 crore are with a financial institution having a high credit-rating assigned by credit-rating agencies. Bank deposits include an amount of ₹ 4,870 crore held with two Indian banks having high credit rating which are individually in excess of 10% or more of the Group's total bank deposits as at year ended March 31, 2019. None of the other financial instruments of the Group result in material concentration of credit risk.

Exposure to credit risk

The carrying amount of financial assets represents the maximum credit exposure. The maximum exposure to credit risk was ₹ 89,172 crore and ₹ 81,771 crore as at March 31, 2019 and 2018, respectively, being the total of the carrying amount of balances with banks, bank deposits, investments, trade receivables, unbilled receivables (previous year: unbilled revenue), contract assets and other financial assets.

The Group's exposure to customers is diversified and no single customer contributes to more than 10% of outstanding trade receivables, unbilled receivables (previous year: unbilled revenue) and contract assets as at March 31, 2019 and 2018.

Geographic concentration of credit risk

Geographic concentration of trade receivables (gross and net of allowances), unbilled receivables (previous year: unbilled revenue) and contract assets is as follows:

	As at March 31, 2019		As at March 31, 2018
	Gross%	Net%	Gross%	Net%
United States of America	45.95	46.67	41.83	42.49
India	11.83	10.37	14.29	13.00
United Kingdom	14.12	14.30	13.46	13.59

Geographical concentration of trade receivables, unbilled receivables (previous year: unbilled revenue) and contract assets is allocated based on the location of the customers.

Notes forming part of the Consolidated Financial Statements

(iii) Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk refers to the risk that the Group cannot meet its financial obligations. The objective of liquidity risk management is to maintain sufficient liquidity and ensure that funds are available for use as per requirements. The Group consistently generated sufficient cash flows from operations to meet its financial obligations as and when they fall due.

32) Segment information

Operating segments are defined as components of an enterprise for which discrete financial information is available that is evaluated regularly by the chief operating decision maker, in deciding how to allocate resources and assessing performance. The Group's chief operating decision maker is the Chief Executive Officer and Managing Director.

Notes forming part of the Consolidated Financial Statements

The business segments comprise: 1) Banking, Financial Services and Insurance, 2) Manufacturing, 3) Retail and Consumer Business, 4) Communication, Media and Technology and 5) Others such as Energy, Resources and Utilities, Life Science and Healthcare, s-Governance and Products.

Revenue and expenses directly attributable to segments are reported under each reportable segment. Expenses which are not directly identifiable to each reporting segment have been allocated on the basis of associated revenue of the segment or manpower efforts. All other expenses which are not attributable or allocable to segments have been disclosed as unallocable expenses.

Assets and liabilities that are directly attributable or allocable to segments are disclosed under each reportable segment. All other assets and liabilities are disclosed as unallocable. Property, plant and equipment that are used interchangeably among segments are not allocated to reportable segments.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing (SAs) specified under Section 143(10) of the Act. Our responsibilities under those SAs are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Standalone Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the Code of Ethics issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the standalone financial statements under the provisions of the Act and the Rules thereunder, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the Code of Ethics. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters ('KAM') are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the standalone financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the standalone financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Other Information

The Company's management and Board of Directors are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Company's annual report, but does not include the standalone financial statements and our auditors' report thereon.

Our opinion on the standalone financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the standalone financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the standalone financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Management's Responsibility for the Standalone Financial Statements

The Company's management and Board of Directors are responsible for the matters stated in Section 134(5) of the Act with respect to the preparation of these standalone financial statements that give a true and fair view of the state of affairs, profit / loss (including other comprehensive income), changes in equity and cash flows of the Company in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, including the Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS) specified under Section 133 of the Act. This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding of the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the standalone financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the standalone financial statements, management and Board of Directors are responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Board of Directors is also responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Standalone Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the standalone financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these standalone financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the standalone financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under Section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the company has adequate internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the standalone financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditors' report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the standalone financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the standalone financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the standalone financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditors' report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

Annexure B to the Independent Auditors' Report

(Referred to in paragraph 1(A)(f) under 'Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements' section of our report of even date)

Report on the Internal Financial Controls under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act")

We have audited the internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements of Tata Consultancy Services Limited ("the Company") as of 31 March 2019 in conjunction with our audit of the standalone financial statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The Company's management is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control with reference to financial statements criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the "Guidance Note") issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India ("ICAI"). These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to the Company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Act.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls with reference to financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note and the Standards on Auditing, issued by ICAI and deemed to be prescribed under Section 143(10) of the Act, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls, both applicable to an audit of Internal Financial Controls and, both issued by ICAI. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls with reference to financial statements was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial control system with reference to financial statements and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls with reference to financial statements included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls with reference to financial statements, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the standalone financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial controls system with reference to financial statements.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls with reference to Financial Statements

A company's internal financial control with reference to financial statements is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control with reference to financial statements includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls with reference to Financial Statements

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls with reference to financial statements, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls with reference to financial statements to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control with reference to financial statements may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion, the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system with reference to standalone financial statements and such internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements were operating effectively as at 31 March 2019, based on the internal control with reference to financial statements criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note issued by the ICAI.

Notes forming part of the Financial Statements

1) Corporate information

Tata Consultancy Services Limited (referred to as "TCS Limited" or "the Company") provides IT services, consulting and business solutions that has been partnering with many of the world's largest businesses in their transformation journeys for the last fifty years. The Company offers a consulting-led, cognitive powered, integrated portfolio of IT, business and engineering services and solutions. This is delivered through its unique Location-Independent Agile delivery model recognised as a benchmark of excellence in software development.

The Company is a public limited company incorporated and domiciled in India. The address of its corporate office is TCS House, Raveline Street, Fort, Mumbai - 400001. As at March 31, 2019, Tata Sons Private Limited (formerly Tata Sons Limited), the holding company owned 72.02% of the Company's equity share capital.

The Board of Directors approved the financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2019 and authorised for issue on April 12, 2019.

2) Significant accounting policies

(a) Statement of compliance

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the Indian Accounting Standards (referred to as "Ind AS") as prescribed under section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 read with Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules as amended from time to time.

(b) Basis of preparation

These financial statements have been prepared in Indian Rupee (₹) which is the functional currency of the Company.

These financial statements have been prepared on historical cost basis, except for certain financial instruments which are measured at fair value or amortised cost at the end of each reporting period, as explained in the accounting policies below. Historical cost is generally based on the fair value of the consideration given in exchange for goods and services. Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. All assets and liabilities have been classified as current and non-current as per the Company's normal operating cycle. Based on the nature of services rendered to customers and time elapsed between deployment of resources and the realisation in cash and cash equivalents of the consideration for such services rendered, the Company has considered an operating cycle of 12 months.

The statement of cash flows have been prepared under indirect method.

(c) Use of estimates and judgements

The preparation of these financial statements in conformity with the recognition and measurement principles of Ind AS requires the management of the Company to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported balances of assets and liabilities, disclosures of contingent liabilities as at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of income and expense for the periods presented.

Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimates are revised and future periods are affected.

Key sources of estimation of uncertainty at the date of the financial statements, which may cause a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year, are in respect of impairment of investments, useful lives of property, plant and equipment, valuation of deferred tax assets and fair value measurement of financial instruments, these are discussed below. Key sources of estimation of uncertainty in respect of revenue recognition, employee benefits and provisions and contingent liabilities have been discussed in their respective policies.

Impairment of investments in subsidiaries

The Company reviews its carrying value of investments carried at amortised cost annually, or more frequently when there is indication for impairment. If the recoverable amount is less than its carrying amount, the impairment loss is accounted for.

Notes forming part of the Financial Statements

Useful lives of property, plant and equipment

The Company reviews the useful life of property, plant and equipment at the end of each reporting period. This reassessment may result in change in depreciation expense in future periods.

Valuation of deferred tax assets

The Company reviews the carrying amount of deferred tax assets at the end of each reporting period. The policy has been explained under note 2(i).

Fair value measurement of financial instruments

When the fair value of financial assets and financial liabilities recorded in the balance sheet cannot be measured based on quoted prices in active markets, their fair value is measured using valuation techniques including the Discounted Cash Flow model. The inputs to these models are taken from observable markets where possible, but where this is not feasible, a degree of judgement is required in establishing fair values. Judgements include considerations of inputs such as liquidity risk, credit risk and volatility. Changes in assumptions about these factors could affect the reported fair value of financial instruments. The policy has been further explained under note 2(j).

(d) Revenue recognition

The Company earns revenue primarily from providing IT services, consulting and business solutions. The Company offers a consulting-led, cognitive powered, integrated portfolio of IT, business and engineering services and solutions.

Effective April 1, 2018, the Company has applied Ind AS 115 which establishes a comprehensive framework for determining whether, how much and when revenue is to be recognised. Ind AS 115 replaces Ind AS 18 Revenue and Ind AS 11 Construction Contracts. The Company has adopted Ind AS 115 using the cumulative effect method. The effect of initially applying this standard is recognised at the date of initial application (i.e. April 1, 2018). The standard is applied retrospectively only to contracts that are not completed as at the date of initial application and the comparative information in the statement of profit and loss is not restated – i.e. the comparative information continues to be reported under Ind AS 18 and Ind AS 11. Refer note 2(d) – Significant accounting policies – Revenue recognition in the Annual report of the Company for the year ended March 31, 2018, for the revenue recognition policy as per Ind AS 18 and Ind AS 11. The impact of the adoption of the standard on the financial statements of the Company is insignificant.

Revenue is recognised upon transfer of control of promised products or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration which the Company expects to receive in exchange for those products or services.

- Revenue from time and material and job contracts is recognised on output basis measured by units delivered, efforts expended, number of transactions processed, etc.
- Revenue related to fixed price maintenance and support services contracts where the Company is standing ready to provide services is recognised based on time elapsed mode and revenue is straight lined over the period of performance.
- In respect of other fixed-price contracts, revenue is recognised using percentage-of-completion method ('POC method') of accounting with contract costs incurred determining the degree of completion of the performance obligation. The contract costs used in computing the revenues include cost of fulfilling warranty obligations.
- Revenue from the sale of distinct internally developed software and manufactured systems and third party software is recognised upfront at the point in time when the system / software is delivered to the customer. In cases where implementation and / or customisation services rendered significantly modifies or customises the software, these services and software are accounted for as a single performance obligation and revenue is recognised over time on a POC method.
- Revenue from the sale of distinct third party hardware is recognised at the point in time when control is transferred to the customer.
- The solutions offered by the Company may include supply of third-party equipment or software. In such cases, revenue for supply of such third party products are recorded at gross or net basis depending on whether the Company is acting as the principal or as an agent of the customer. The Company recognises revenue in the gross amount of consideration when it is acting as a principal and at net amount of consideration when it is acting as an agent.

Notes forming part of the Financial Statements

Revenue is measured based on the transaction price, which is the consideration, adjusted for volume discounts, service level credits, performance bonuses, price concessions and incentives, if any, as specified in the contract with the customer. Revenue also excludes taxes collected from customers.

Revenue from subsidiaries is recognised based on transaction price which is at arm's length.

Contract assets are recognised when there is excess of revenue earned over billings on contracts. Contract assets are classified as unbilled receivables (only act of invoicing is pending) when there is unconditional right to receive cash, and only passage of time is required, as per contractual terms.

Unearned and deferred revenue ("contract liability") is recognised when there is billings in excess of revenues.

The billing schedules agreed with customers include periodic performance based payments and / or milestone based progress payments. Invoices are payable within contractually agreed credit period.

In accordance with Ind AS 37, the Company recognises an onerous contract provision when the unavoidable costs of meeting the obligations under a contract exceed the economic benefits to be received.

Contracts are subject to modification to account for changes in contract specification and requirements. The Company reviews modification to contract in conjunction with the original contract, basis which the transaction price could be allocated to a new performance obligation, or transaction price of an existing obligation could undergo a change. In the event transaction price is revised for existing obligation, a cumulative adjustment is accounted for.

The Company disaggregates revenue from contracts with customers by industry verticals, geography and nature of services.

Use of significant judgements in revenue recognition

- The Company's contracts with customers could include promises to transfer multiple products and services to a customer. The Company assesses the products / services promised in a contract and identifies distinct performance obligations in the contract. Identification of distinct performance obligation involves judgement to determine the deliverables and the ability of the customer to benefit independently from such deliverables.
- Judgement is also required to determine the transaction price for the contract. The transaction price could be either a fixed amount of customer consideration or variable consideration with elements such as volume discounts, service level credits, performance bonuses, price concessions and incentives. The transaction price is also adjusted for the effects of the time value of money if the contract includes a significant financing component. Any consideration payable to the customer is adjusted to the transaction price, unless it is a payment for a distinct product or service from the customer. The estimated amount of variable consideration is adjusted in the transaction price only to the extent that it is highly probable that a significant reversal in the amount of cumulative revenue recognised will not occur and is reassessed at the end of each reporting period. The Company allocates the elements of variable considerations to all the performance obligations of the contract unless there is observable evidence that they pertain to one or more distinct performance obligations.
- The Company uses judgement to determine an appropriate standalone selling price for a performance obligation. The Company allocates the transaction price to each performance obligation on the basis of the relative standalone selling price of each distinct product or service promised in the contract. Where standalone selling price is not observable, the Company uses the expected cost plus margin approach to allocate the transaction price to each distinct performance obligation.
- The Company exercises judgement in determining whether the performance obligation is satisfied at a point in time or over a period of time. The Company considers indicators such as how customer consumes benefits as services are rendered or who controls the asset as it is being created or existence of enforceable right to payment for performance to date and alternate use of such product or service, transfer of significant risks and rewards to the customer, acceptance of delivery by the customer, etc.
- Revenue for fixed-price contract is recognised using percentage-of-completion method. The Company uses judgement to estimate the future cost-to-completion of the contracts which is used to determine the degree of completion of the performance obligation.

Notes forming part of the Financial Statements

- Contract fulfilment costs are generally expensed as incurred except for certain software licence costs which meet the criteria for capitalisation. Such costs are amortised over the contractual period or useful life of licence whichever is less. The assessment of this criteria requires the application of judgement, in particular when considering if costs generate or enhance resources to be used to satisfy future performance obligations and whether costs are expected to be recovered.
- (e) Dividend income is recorded when the right to receive payment is established. Interest income is recognised using the effective interest method.

(f) Leases

Finance lease

Assets taken on lease by the Company in its capacity as lessee, where the Company has substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership are classified as finance lease. Such leases are capitalised at the inception of the lease at lower of the fair value or the present value of the minimum lease payments and a liability is recognised for an equivalent amount. Each lease rental paid is allocated between the liability and the interest cost so as to obtain a constant periodic rate of interest on the outstanding liability for each year.

Operating lease

Lease arrangements where the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of an asset substantially vest with the lessor, are recognised as operating lease. Operating lease payments are recognised on a straight line basis over the lease term in the statement of profit and loss, unless the lease agreement explicitly states that increase is on account of inflation.

(g) Cost recognition

Costs and expenses are recognised when incurred and have been classified according to their nature.

The costs of the Company are broadly categorised in employee benefit expenses, cost of equipment and software licences, depreciation and amortisation expense and other expenses. Employee benefit expenses include salaries, incentives and allowances, contributions to provident and other funds and staff welfare expenses. Other expenses mainly include fees to external consultants, facility expenses, travel expenses, communication expenses, bad debts and advances written off, allowance for doubtful trade receivable and advances (net) and other expenses. Other expenses is an aggregation of costs which are individually not material such as commission and brokerage, recruitment and training, entertainment, etc.

(h) Foreign currency

Foreign currency transactions are recorded at exchange rates prevailing on the date of the transaction. Foreign currency denominated monetary assets and liabilities are retranslated at the exchange rate prevailing on the balance sheet date and exchange gains and losses arising on settlement and restatement are recognised in the statement of profit and loss. Non-monetary assets and liabilities that are measured in terms of historical cost in foreign currencies are not retranslated.

(i) Income taxes

Income tax expense comprises current tax expense and the net change in the deferred tax asset or liability during the year. Current and deferred taxes are recognised in statement of profit and loss, except when they relate to items that are recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, in which case, the current and deferred tax are also recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, respectively.

Current income taxes

The current income tax expense includes income taxes payable by the Company and its branches in India and overseas. The current tax payable by the Company in India is Indian income tax payable on worldwide income after taking credit for tax relief available for export operations in Special Economic Zones (SEZs).

Current income tax payable by overseas branches of the Company is computed in accordance with the tax laws applicable in the jurisdiction in which the respective branch operates. The taxes paid are generally available for set off against the Indian income tax liability of the Company's worldwide income.

Advance taxes and provisions for current income taxes are presented in the balance sheet after off-setting advance tax paid and income tax provision arising in the same tax jurisdiction and where the relevant tax paying unit intends to settle the asset and liability on a net basis.

Deferred income taxes

Deferred income tax is recognised using the balance sheet approach. Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are recognised for deductible and taxable temporary differences arising between the tax base of assets and liabilities and their carrying amount, except when the deferred income tax arises from the initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and affects neither accounting nor taxable profit or loss at the time of the transaction.

Deferred income tax assets are recognised to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences and the carry forward of unused tax credits and unused tax losses can be utilised.

The carrying amount of deferred income tax assets is reviewed at each reporting date and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred income tax asset to be utilised.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using substantively enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which the temporary differences are expected to be received or settled.

For operations carried out in SEZs, deferred tax assets or liabilities, if any, have been established for the tax consequences of those temporary differences between the carrying values of assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases that reverse after the tax holiday ends.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when they relate to income taxes levied by the same taxation authority and the relevant entity intends to settle its current tax assets and liabilities on a net basis.

Deferred tax assets include Minimum Alternative Tax (MAT) paid in accordance with the tax laws in India, to the extent it would be available for set off against future current income tax liability. Accordingly, MAT is recognised as deferred tax asset in the balance sheet when the asset can be measured reliably and it is probable that the future economic benefit associated with the asset will be realised.

(j) Financial instruments

Financial assets and liabilities are recognised when the Company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument. Financial assets and liabilities are initially measured at fair value. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of financial assets and financial liabilities (other than financial assets and financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss) are added to or deducted from the fair value measured on initial recognition of financial asset or financial liability.

The Company derecognises a financial asset only when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the asset expire, or when it transfers the financial asset and substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the asset to another entity. The Company derecognises financial liabilities when, and only when, the Company's obligations are discharged, cancelled or have expired.

Cash and cash equivalents

The Company considers all highly liquid financial instruments, which are readily convertible into known amounts of cash that are subject to an insignificant risk of change in value and having original maturities of three months or less from the date of purchase, to be cash equivalents. Cash and cash equivalents consist of balances with banks which are unrestricted for withdrawal and usage.

Financial assets at amortised cost

Financial assets are subsequently measured at amortised cost if these financial assets are held within a business whose objective is to hold these assets to collect contractual cash flows and the contractual terms of the financial assets give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income

Financial assets are measured at fair value through other comprehensive income if these financial assets are held within a business whose objective is achieved by both collecting contractual cash flows on specified dates that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding and selling financial assets.

Notes forming part of the Financial Statements

The Company has made an irrevocable election to present subsequent changes in the fair value of equity investments not held for trading in other comprehensive income.

Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss

Financial assets are measured at fair value through profit or loss unless they are measured at amortised cost or at fair value through other comprehensive income on initial recognition. The transaction costs directly attributable to the acquisition of financial assets and liabilities at fair value through profit or loss are immediately recognised in statement of profit and loss.

Financial liabilities

Financial liabilities are measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

Equity instruments

An equity instrument is a contract that evidences residual interest in the assets of the Company after deducting all of its liabilities. Equity instruments issued by the Company are recognised at the proceeds received net of direct issue cost.

Hedge accounting

The Company designates certain foreign exchange forward, currency options and futures contracts as hedge instruments in respect of foreign exchange risks. These hedges are accounted for as cash flow hedges.

The Company uses hedging instruments that are governed by the policies of the Company which are approved by the Board of Directors. The policies provide written principles on the use of such financial derivatives consistent with the risk management strategy of the Company.

The hedge instruments are designated and documented as hedges at the inception of the contract. The Company determines the existence of an economic relationship between the hedging instrument and hedged item based on the currency, amount and timing of their respective cash flows. The effectiveness of hedge instruments to reduce the risk associated with the exposure being hedged is assessed and measured at inception and on an ongoing basis. If the hedged future cash flows are no longer expected to occur, then the amounts that have been accumulated in other equity are immediately reclassified in net foreign exchange gains in the statement of profit and loss.

The effective portion of change in the fair value of the designated hedging instrument is recognised in the other comprehensive income and accumulated under the heading cash flow hedging reserve.

The Company separates the intrinsic value and time value of an option and designates as hedging instruments only the change in intrinsic value of the option. The change in fair value of the time value and intrinsic value of an option is recognised in the statement of other comprehensive income and accounted as a separate component of equity. Such amounts are reclassified into the statement of profit and loss when the related hedged items affect profit or loss.

Hedge accounting is discontinued when the hedging instrument expires or is sold, terminated or no longer qualifies for hedge accounting. Any gain or loss recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated in equity till that time remains and is recognised in statement of profit and loss when the forecasted transaction ultimately affects the profit or loss.

(k) Provisions and contingent liabilities

A provision is recognised when the Company has a present obligation as a result of past event and it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation, in respect of which a reliable estimate can be made. These are reviewed at each balance sheet date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimates.

Contingent liabilities are disclosed when there is a possible obligation arising from past events, the existence of which will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within the control of the Company or a present obligation that arises from past events where it is either not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation or a reliable estimate of the amount cannot be made. Contingent assets are neither recognised nor disclosed in the financial statements.

(l) Investment in subsidiaries

Investment in subsidiaries are measured at cost less impairment loss, if any.

Notes forming part of the Financial Statements

(m) Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment are stated at cost comprising of purchase price and any initial directly attributable cost of bringing the asset to its working condition for its intended use, less accumulated depreciation (other than freehold land) and impairment loss, if any.

Depreciation is provided for property, plant and equipment on a straight line basis so as to expense the cost less residual value over their estimated useful lives based on a technical evaluation. The estimated useful lives and residual value are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any change in estimate accounted for on a prospective basis.

The estimated useful lives are as mentioned below:

Type of asset	Useful lives
Buildings	20 years
Leasehold improvements	Lease term
Plant and equipment	10 years
Computer equipment	4 years
Vehicles	4 years
Office equipment	5 years
Electrical installations	10 years
Furniture and fixtures	5 years

Assets held under finance lease are depreciated over the shorter of the lease term and their useful lives.

Depreciation is not recorded on capital work-in-progress until construction and installation is complete and the asset is ready for its intended use.

(n) Intangible assets

Intangible assets purchased are measured at cost as of the date of acquisition, as applicable, less accumulated amortisation and accumulated impairment, if any.

Intangible assets consist of rights under licensing agreement and software licences which are amortised over licence period which equates the useful life ranging between 2-5 years on a straight line basis over the period of its economic useful life.

(o) Impairment

(i) Financial assets (other than at fair value)

The Company assesses at each date of balance sheet whether a financial asset or a group of financial assets is impaired. Ind AS 109 requires expected credit losses to be measured through a loss allowance. In determining the allowances for doubtful trade receivables, the Company has used a practical expedient by computing the expected credit loss allowance for trade receivables based on a provision matrix. The provision matrix takes into account historical credit loss experience and is adjusted for forward looking information. The expected credit loss allowance is based on the ageing of the receivables that are due and allowance rates used in the provision matrix. For all other financial assets, expected credit losses are measured at an amount equal to the 12-months expected credit losses or at an amount equal to the life time expected credit losses if the credit risk on the financial asset has increased significantly since initial recognition.

(ii) Non-financial assets

Tangible and intangible assets

Property, plant and equipment and intangible assets with finite life are evaluated for recoverability whenever there is any indication that their carrying amounts may not be recoverable. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount (i.e. higher of the fair value less cost to sell and the value-in-use) is determined on an individual asset basis unless the asset does not generate cash flows that are largely independent of those from other assets. In such cases, the recoverable amount is determined for the Cash Generating Unit (CGU) to which the asset belongs.

Notes forming part of the Financial Statements

If the recoverable amount of an asset (or CGU) is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset (or CGU) is reduced to its recoverable amount. An impairment loss is recognised in the statement of profit and loss.

(p) Employee benefits

(i) Defined benefit plans

For defined benefit plans, the cost of providing benefits is determined using the Projected Unit Credit Method, with actuarial valuations being carried out at each balance sheet date. Remeasurement, comprising actuarial gains and losses, the effect of the changes to the asset ceiling and the return on plan assets (excluding interest), is reflected immediately in the balance sheet with a charge or credit recognised in other comprehensive income in the period in which they occur. Past service cost, both vested and unvested, is recognised as an expense at the earlier of (a) when the plan amendment or curtailment occurs; and (b) when the entity recognises related restructuring costs or termination benefits.

The retirement benefit obligations recognised in the balance sheet represents the present value of the defined benefit obligations reduced by the fair value of scheme assets. Any asset resulting from this calculation is limited to the present value of available refunds and reductions in future contributions to the scheme.

(ii) Defined contribution plans

Contributions to defined contribution plans are recognised as expense when employees have rendered services entitling them to such benefits.

(iii) Short-term employee benefits

All employee benefits payable wholly within twelve months of rendering the service are classified as short-term employee benefits. Benefits such as salaries, wages etc. and the expected cost of ex-gratia are recognised in the period in which the employee renders the related service. A liability is recognised for the amount expected to be paid when there is a present legal or constructive obligation to pay this amount as a result of past service provided by the employee and the obligation can be estimated reliably.

(iv) Compensated absences

Compensated absences which are expected to occur within twelve months after the end of the period in which the employee renders the related services are recognised as undiscounted liability at the balance sheet date. Compensated absences which are not expected to occur within twelve months after the end of the period in which the employee renders the related services are recognised as an actuarially determined liability at the present value of the defined benefit obligation at the balance sheet date.

(q) Inventories

Inventories consists of (a) Raw materials, sub-assemblies and components, (b) Work-in-progress, (c) Stores and spare parts and (d) Finished goods. Inventories are carried at lower of cost and net realisable value. The cost of raw materials, sub-assemblies and components is determined on a weighted average basis. Cost of finished goods produced or purchased by the Company includes direct material and labour cost and a proportion of manufacturing overheads.

(r) Earnings per share

Basic earnings per share is computed by dividing profit or loss attributable to equity shareholders of the Company by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year. The Company did not have any potentially dilutive securities in any of the years presented.

3) Recent Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS)

Ministry of Corporate Affairs ("MCA"), through Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Amendment Rules, 2019 and Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Second Amendment Rules, has notified the following new and amendments to Ind ASs which the Company has not applied as they are effective from April 1, 2019:

Ind AS 116 – Leases

Ind AS 116 will replace the existing leases standard, Ind AS 17 Leases. Ind AS 116 sets out the principles for the recognition, measurement, presentation and disclosure of leases for both lessees and lessors. It introduces a single, on-balance sheet lessee accounting model for lessees. A lessee recognises right-of-use asset representing its right to use the underlying asset and a lease liability representing its obligation to make lease payments. The standard also contains enhanced disclosure requirements for lessees. Ind AS 116 substantially carries forward the lessor accounting requirements in Ind AS 17.

The Company will adopt Ind AS 116, effective annual reporting period beginning April 1, 2019. The Company will apply the standard to its leases, retrospectively, with the cumulative effect of initially applying the standard, recognised on the date of initial application (April 1, 2019). Accordingly, the Company will not restate comparative information, instead, the cumulative effect of initially applying this Standard will be recognised as an adjustment to the opening balance of retained earnings as on April 1, 2019. On that date, the Company will recognise a lease liability measured at the present value of the remaining lease payments. The right-of-use asset is recognised at its carrying amount as if the standard had been applied since the commencement date, but discounted using the lessee's incremental borrowing rate as at April 1, 2019. In accordance with the standard, the Company will elect not to apply the requirements of Ind AS 116 to short-term leases and leases for which the underlying asset is of low value.

On transition, the Company will be using the practical expedient provided the standard and therefore, will not reassess whether a contract, is or contains a lease, at the date of initial application.

The Company is in the process of finalising changes to systems and processes to meet the accounting and reporting requirements of the standard.

With effect from April 1, 2019, the Company will recognise new assets and liabilities for its operating leases of premises and other assets. The nature of expenses related to those leases will change from lease rent in previous periods to (a) amortization change for the right-to-use asset, and (b) interest accrued on lease liability.

Previously, the Company recognised operating lease expense on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease, and recognised assets and liabilities only to the extent that there was a timing difference between actual lease payments and the expense recognised.

As a lessor, sublease shall be classified as an operating lease if the head lease is classified as a short term lease. In all other cases, the sublease shall be classified as a finance lease.

On preliminary assessment, for leases other than short-term leases and leases of low value assets, the Company will recognise a right-of-use asset of ₹ 4,206 crore and a corresponding lease liability of ₹ 5,029 crore with the cumulative effect of applying the standard by adjusting retained earnings net of taxes. There will be consequent reclassification in the cash flow categories in the statement of cash flows.

Ind AS 12 – Income taxes (amendments relating to income tax consequences of dividend and uncertainty over income tax treatments)

The amendment relating to income tax consequences of dividend clarify that an entity shall recognise the income tax consequences of dividends in profit or loss, other comprehensive income or equity according to where the entity originally recognised those past transactions or events. The Company does not expect any impact from this pronouncement. It is relevant to note that the amendment does not amend situations where the entity pays a tax on dividend which is effectively a portion of dividends paid to taxation authorities on behalf of shareholders. Such amount paid or payable to taxation authorities continues to be charged to equity as part of dividend, in accordance with Ind AS 12.

The amendment to Appendix C of Ind AS 12 specifies that the amendment is to be applied to the determination of taxable profit (tax loss), tax bases, unused tax losses, unused tax credits and tax rates, when there is uncertainty over income tax treatments under Ind AS 12. It outlines the following: (1) the entity has to use judgement, to determine whether each tax treatment should be considered separately or whether some can be considered together. The decision should be based on the approach which provides better predictions of the resolution of the uncertainty (2) the entity is to assume that the taxation authority will have full knowledge of all relevant information while examining any amount (3) entity has to consider the probability of the relevant taxation authority accepting the tax treatment and the determination of taxable profit (tax loss), tax bases, unused tax losses, unused tax credits and tax rates would depend upon the probability. The Company does not expect any significant impact of the amendment on its financial statements.

Ind AS 109 – Prepayment Features with Negative Compensation

The amendments relate to the existing requirements in Ind AS 109 regarding termination rights in order to allow measurement at amortised cost (or, depending on the business model, at fair value through other comprehensive income) even in the case of negative compensation payments. TCS Limited does not expect this amendment to have any impact on its financial statements.

Ind AS 19 – Plan Amendment, Curtailment or Settlement

The amendments clarify that if a plan amendment, curtailment or settlement occurs, it is mandatory that the current service cost and the net interest for the period after the re-measurement are determined using the assumptions used for the re-measurement. In addition, amendments have been included to clarify the effect of a plan amendment, curtailment or settlement on the requirements regarding the asset ceiling. TCS Limited does not expect this amendment to have any significant impact on its financial statements.

Ind AS 23 – Borrowing Costs

The amendments clarify that if any specific borrowing remains outstanding after the related asset is ready for its intended use or sale, that borrowing becomes part of the funds that an entity borrows generally when calculating the capitalisation rate on general borrowings. TCS Limited does not expect any impact from this amendment.

Ind AS 28 – Long-term Interests in Associates and Joint Ventures

The amendments clarify that an entity applies Ind AS 109 Financial Instruments, to long-term interests in an associate or joint venture that form part of the net investment in the associate or joint venture but to which the equity method is not applied. TCS Limited does not currently have any long-term interests in associates and joint ventures.

Ind AS 103 – Business Combinations and Ind AS 111 – Joint Arrangements

The amendments to Ind AS 103 relating to re-measurement clarify that when an entity obtains control of a business that is a joint operation, it re-measures previously held interests in that business. The amendments to Ind AS 111 clarify that when an entity obtains joint control of a business that is a joint operation, the entity does not re-measure previously held interests in that business. TCS Limited will apply the pronouncement if and when it obtains control / joint control of a business that is a joint operation.

The assumptions used in accounting for the defined benefit plan are set out below:

Discount rate	7.75%	7.75%
Rate of increase in compensation levels of covered employees	6.00%	6.00%
Rate of return on plan assets	7.75%	7.75%
Weighted average duration of defined benefit obligations	8 years	8 years

The expected benefits are based on the same assumptions as are used to measure the Company's defined benefit plan obligations as at March 31, 2019. The Company is expected to contribute ₹ 315 crore to defined benefit plan obligations funds for the year ending March 31, 2020.

The significant actuarial assumptions for the determination of the defined benefit obligations are discount rate and expected salary increase. The sensitivity analysis below have been determined based on reasonably possible changes of the respective assumptions occurring at the end of the reporting period, while holding all other assumptions constant.

If the discount rate increases / decreases by 0.50%, the defined benefit obligations would increase / (decrease) as follows:

	(₹ crore)
	As at March 31, 2019	As at March 31, 2018
Increase of 0.50%	(100)	(79)
Decrease of 0.50%	108	85

If the expected salary growth increases / decreases by 0.50%, the defined benefit obligations would increase / (decrease) as follows:

	(₹ crore)
	As at March 31, 2019	As at March 31, 2018
Increase of 0.50%	109	85
Decrease of 0.50%	(102)	(80)

Notes forming part of the Financial Statements

The sensitivity analysis presented above may not be representative of the actual change in the defined benefit obligations as it is unlikely that the change in assumptions would occur in isolation of one another as some of the assumption may be correlated.

Furthermore, in presenting the above sensitivity analysis, the present value of the defined benefit obligations has been calculated using the Projected Unit Credit Method at the end of the reporting period, which is the same as that applied in calculating the defined benefit obligation liability recognised in the balance sheet.

Each year an Asset - Liability matching study is performed in which the consequences of the strategic investment policies are analysed in terms of risk and return profiles. Investment and contribution policies are integrated within this study.

The defined benefit obligations shall mature after year ended March 31, 2019 as follows:

Year ending March 31,	(₹ crore)
	Defined benefit obligations
2020	241
2021	223
2022	233
2023	233
2024	230
2025-2029	1,155

Provident fund

In accordance with Indian law, all eligible employees of the Company in India are entitled to receive benefits under the provident fund plan in which both the employee and employer (at a determined rate) contribute monthly to a Trust set up by the Company to manage the investments and distribute the amounts entitled to employees. This plan is a defined benefit plan as the Company is obligated to provide its members a rate of return which should, at the minimum, meet the interest rate declared by Government administered provident fund. A part of the Company's contribution is transferred to Government administered pension fund. The contributions made by the Company and the shortfall of interest, if any, are recognised as an expense in statement of profit and loss under employee benefit expenses. In accordance with an actuarial valuation of provident fund liabilities on the basis of guidance issued by Actuarial Society of India and based on the assumptions as mentioned below, there is no deficiency in the interest cost as the present value of the expected future earnings of the fund is greater than the expected amount to be credited to the individual members based on the expected guaranteed rate of interest of Government administered provident fund.

The details of fund and plan assets are given below:

	(₹ crore)
	As at March 31, 2019	As at March 31, 2018
Fair value of plan assets	14,555	13,084

Net excess / (shortfall)	-	-

The plan assets have been primarily invested in Government securities and corporate bonds.

Notes forming part of the Financial Statements

Carrying amounts of cash and cash equivalents, trade receivables, unbilled receivables (previous year: unbilled revenue), loans receivables and trade payables as at March 31, 2019 and March 31, 2018 approximate the fair value. Difference between carrying amounts and fair values of bank deposits, earmarked balances with banks, other financial assets, other financial liabilities and borrowings subsequently measured at amortised cost is not significant in each of the periods presented.

Fair value hierarchy:

The fair value hierarchy is based on inputs to valuation techniques that are used to measure fair value that are either observable or unobservable and consists of the following three levels:

- Level 1 — Inputs are quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.
- Level 2 — Inputs are other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e. as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices).
- Level 3 — Inputs are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs). Fair values are determined in whole or in part using a valuation model based on assumptions that are neither supported by prices from observable current market transactions in the same instrument nor are they based on available market data.

The cost of unquoted investments included in Level 3 of fair value hierarchy approximate their fair value because there is a wide range of possible fair value measurements and the cost represents estimate of fair value within that range.

The following table summarises financial assets and liabilities measured at fair value on a recurring basis and financial assets that are not measured at fair value on a recurring basis (but fair value disclosure are required):

(b) Derivative financial instruments and hedging activity

The Company's revenue is denominated in various foreign currencies. Given the nature of the business, a large portion of the costs are denominated in Indian Rupee. This exposes the Company to currency fluctuations.

The Board of Directors of the Company has constituted a Risk Management Committee (RMC) to frame, implement and monitor the risk management plan of the Company which inter-alia covers risks arising out of exposure to foreign currency fluctuations. Under the guidance and framework provided by the RMC, the Company uses various derivative instruments such as foreign exchange forwards, currency option and futures contracts in which the counter party is generally a bank.

The following are outstanding currency options contracts, which have been designated as cash flow hedges:

Foreign currency	As at March 31, 2019			As at March 31, 2018
	No. of contracts	Notional amount of contracts (In millions)	Fair value (₹ crore)	No. of contracts	Notional amount of contracts (In millions)	Fair value (₹ crore)

Deferred tax on fair value of effective portion of cash flow hedges	(111)	20	-	47
Balance at the end of the year	134	(30)	(2)	(69)

Notes forming part of the Financial Statements

In addition to the above cash flow hedges, the Company has outstanding foreign exchange forward, currency options and futures contracts with notional amount aggregating ₹ 34,593 crore and ₹ 22,404 crore whose fair value showed a net gain of ₹ 288 crore and net loss of ₹ 12 crore as at March 31, 2019 and 2018, respectively. Although these contracts are effective as hedges from an economic perspective, they do not qualify for hedge accounting.

Exchange gain of ₹ 405 crore and exchange loss of ₹ 52 crore on foreign exchange forward, currency options and futures contracts that do not qualify for hedge accounting have been recognised in the consolidated statement of profit and loss for the years ended March 31, 2019 and 2018, respectively.

Net foreign exchange gains include gain of ₹ 30 crore and exchange loss of ₹ 213 crore transferred from cash flow hedging reserve for the years ended March 31, 2019 and 2018, respectively.

Net gain on derivative instruments of ₹ 104 crore recognised in cash flow hedging reserve as at March 31, 2019, is expected to be transferred to the statement of profit and loss by March 31, 2020. The maximum period over which the exposure to cash flow variability has been hedged is through calendar year 2019.

Following table summarises approximate gain / (loss) on the Company's other comprehensive income on account of appreciation / depreciation of the underlying foreign currencies.

	(₹ crore)
	As at March 31, 2019	As at March 31, 2018
10% Appreciation of the underlying foreign currencies	(64)	(323)
10% Depreciation of the underlying foreign currencies	1,370	1,054

(c) Financial risk management

The Company is exposed primarily to fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates, credit, liquidity and interest rate risks, which may adversely impact the fair value of its financial instruments. The Company has a risk management policy which covers risks associated with the financial assets and liabilities. The risk management policy is approved by the Board of Directors. The focus of the risk management committee is to assess the unpredictability of the financial environment and to mitigate potential adverse effects on the financial performance of the Company.

i. Market risk

Market risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices. Such changes in the values of financial instruments may result from changes in the foreign currency exchange rates, interest rates, credit, liquidity and other market changes. The Company's exposure to market risk is primarily on account of foreign currency exchange rate risk.

a) Foreign currency exchange rate risk

The fluctuation in foreign currency exchange rates may have potential impact on the statement of profit and loss and other comprehensive income and equity, where any transaction references more than one currency or where assets / liabilities are denominated in a currency other than the functional currency of the Company.

Considering the countries and economic environment in which the Company operates, its operations are subject to risks arising from fluctuations in exchange rates in those countries.

The Company, as per its risk management policy, uses derivative instruments primarily to hedge foreign exchange. Further, any movement in the functional currency of the various operations of the Company against major foreign currencies may impact the Company's revenue in international business.

The Company evaluates the impact of foreign exchange rate fluctuations by assessing its exposure to exchange rate risks. It hedges a part of these risks by using derivative financial instruments in line with its risk management policies.

The foreign exchange rate sensitivity is calculated by aggregation of the net foreign exchange rate exposure and a simultaneous parallel foreign exchange rates shift of all the currencies by 10% against the functional currency of the Company.

The following analysis has been worked out based on the net exposures of the Company as of the date of balance sheet which could affect the statements of profit and loss and other comprehensive income and equity. Further the exposure as indicated below is mitigated by some of the derivative contracts entered into by the Company as disclosed in note 29(b).

Notes forming part of the Financial Statements

The following table sets forth information relating to foreign currency exposure as at March 31, 2019:

	(₹ crore)
	USD	EUR	GBP	Others
Net financial assets	4,431	275	837	1,203
Net financial liabilities	4,044	178	414	377

10% appreciation / depreciation of the respective foreign currencies with respect to functional currency of the Company would result in decrease / increase in the Company's profit before taxes by approximately ₹ 173 crore for the year ended March 31, 2019.

The following table sets forth information relating to foreign currency exposure as at March 31, 2018:

	(₹ crore)
	USD	EUR	GBP	Others
Net financial assets	3,783	431	944	1,218
Net financial liabilities	3,077	323	761	541

10% appreciation / depreciation of the respective foreign currencies with respect to functional currency of the Company would result in decrease / increase in the Company's profit before taxes by approximately ₹ 168 crore for the year ended March 31, 2018.

b) Interest rate risk

The Company's investments are primarily in fixed rate interest bearing investments. Hence, the Company is not significantly exposed to interest rate risk.

ii. Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk of financial loss arising from counterparty failure to repay or service debt according to the contractual terms or obligations. Credit risk encompasses of both, the direct risk of default and the risk of deterioration of creditworthiness as well as concentration of risks. Credit risk is controlled by analysing credit limits and creditworthiness of customers on a continuous basis to whom the credit has been granted after obtaining necessary approvals for credit.

Financial instruments that are subject to concentrations of credit risk principally consist of trade receivables, unbilled receivables, investments, derivative financial instruments, cash and cash equivalents, bank deposits and other financial assets. Inter-corporate deposits of ₹ 6,750 crore are with a financial institution having a high credit-rating assigned by credit-rating agencies. Bank deposits include an amount of ₹ 4,850 crore held with two Indian banks having high credit rating which are individually in excess of 10% or more of the Company's total bank deposits as at March 31, 2019. None of the other financial instruments of the Company result in material concentration of credit risk.

Exposure to credit risk

The carrying amount of financial assets represents the maximum credit exposure. The maximum exposure to credit risk was ₹ 75,278 crore and ₹ 68,711 crore as at March 31, 2019, and 2018, respectively, being the total of the carrying amount of balances with banks, bank deposits, investments excluding equity and preference investments, trade receivables, unbilled receivables (previous year: unbilled revenue), contract assets and other financial assets.

The Company's exposure to customers is diversified and no single customer contributes to more than 10% of outstanding trade receivable, unbilled receivables (previous year: unbilled revenue) and contract assets as at March 31, 2019 and March 31, 2018.

Notes forming part of the Financial Statements

Geographic concentration of credit risk

Geographic concentration of trade receivables (gross and net of allowances), unbilled receivables (previous year: unbilled revenue) and contract assets is as follows:

	As at March 31, 2019		As at March 31, 2018
	Gross%	Net%	Gross%	Net%
United States of America	49.42	50.53	39.37	40.41
India	16.45	14.87	19.47	17.87
United Kingdom	15.39	15.55	17.18	17.35

Geographical concentration of trade receivables, unbilled receivables (previous year: unbilled revenue) and contract assets is allocated based on the location of the customers.

iii. Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk refers to the risk that the Company cannot meet its financial obligations. The objective of liquidity risk management is to maintain sufficient liquidity and ensure that funds are available for use as per requirements.

The Company consistently generated sufficient cash flows from operations to meet its financial obligations as and when they fall due.

The tables below provide details regarding the contractual maturities of significant financial liabilities as at:

Realization	This is the revenue received by the Company per utilized effort. Pricing varies by service and by market. Consequently, there can be changes in realization compared to a prior period, due to changes in the underlying business or geographic mix during the period. This does not necessarily mean that like-to-like pricing has changed. Also, realization doesn’t take into account the costs and therefore, higher realization is not necessarily better or more profitable.
Related Party Transactions	Any transaction between a company and its related party involving transfer of services, resources or any obligation, regardless of whether a price is charged. Please refer the Company’s policy on Related Party Transactions: http://www.tcs.com/ir-corporate-governance .
Revenue	Revenue is the income earned by the Company from operations by providing IT & consulting services, software licenses, and hardware equipment to customers
Robotic Process Automation	RPA is the use of software to automate high-volume, repeatable tasks that previously required humans to perform. RPA is best suited for relatively simple and stable processes. Dynamic changes in the environment require ongoing upkeep of the robots, diluting the economic benefit of the automation. Increasingly, customers are preferring cognitive automation over RPA.
RPA	See Robotic Process Automation

SEZ	See Special Economic Zone
Shareholder Payout Ratio	Shareholder Payout Ratio is the proportion of earnings paid to shareholders as a percentage of the Company's earnings, i.e. Net Income attributable to Shareholders of the Company. Payout can be in the form of dividend (including dividend distribution tax) and share buyback.

Total Contract Value	TCV is an aggregation of the value of all the contracts signed during a period, and is a useful indicator of demand.
Trade Receivable	This is the sum of all the invoices outstanding at the end of the period. To get a complete picture of the total outstanding, one can also add the Unbilled Receivables and subtract the Unearned and Deferred Revenues. Trade Receivable is normally viewed in proportion to the size of the organization's revenue and so it is expressed as Days' Sales Outstanding or DSO.
Turnkey Contracts	See Fixed Price Contracts
Unbilled Receivable	Unbilled Receivable is excess of revenue earned over billings on contracts for which the Company has an unconditional right to receive cash, and only passage of time is required for invoicing the customer, as per contractual terms.
