VERDICT ON RELIANCE COMMERCIAL FIN TO SET PRECEDENT

SC Rejects RCFL Lenders' Plea for an Early Hearing

Creditors seek to expedite Authum's resolution plan, but Sebi has sought a stay on voting process

Joel Rebello@timesgroup.com

Mumbai: A vacation bench of the Supreme Court has declined a petition by lenders of Reliance Commercial Finance (RCFL) for an early hearing in the case that would have expedited resolution of the lender company. "The judge decided that there is no urgency to hear this case sooner, and so, the next date of hearing is sometime in July," said a person closely involved in the resolution. The lenders had filed a praecipe, a request for preemptive action.

RCFL owes creditors led by Bank of Baroda more than ₹5,000 crore. Lenders to RCFL have already approved a resolution plan submitted by Authum Investments & Infrastructure in July 2021. However, bondholders own more than 50% of the debt in Reliance Commercial Finance.

The Securities and Exchange Board of India (Sebi), regulator for bondholders, had sought the stay on voting in the Supreme Court because it wants all bondholders to be participating in such votes. Its stand is in contrast to the position of the debenture trust deed (DTD) and central bank guidelines that expect only 75% of bondholders to vote.

The Supreme Court order will create a precedent for Reliance Home Finance (RHF) and for all other financial services companies. On Friday, bondholders for RHF, who constitute 4% of the debt, voted on the resolution plan for the company. Authum is also the successful resolution applicant for RHF, with an offer of ₹1,724 crore cash up front, and a further

Case File

Authum is the successful bidder for both RCFL and RHF.

Lenders want to follow RBI approved process which allows voting to go ahead even if 75% of bond holders vote

But plan is stuck as Sebi wants to ensure that bond holders vote as per its rule ₹300 crore through 8% non-convertible debentures (NCDs) payable within one year, effectively giving creditors an 82% haircut on the ₹1,200 crore RHF owes to them.

"There are more than 20,000 bondholders in RHF, of which 94% are depositors with less than ₹5 lakh deposits. The plan envisages giving these depositors their full money back. We are confident that the majority of depositors will approve of the plan, though results of the vote have not been made public," said the person involved above.

IDBI Trusteeship Services Ltd, trustee for bondholders in RHF, has refrained from making public the voting as it is awaiting directions from the Chairperson of the lenders led by Yes Bank with 18% of the debt and lead lender Bank of Baroda (BoB) with close to 11% — approved the plan.

BoB is a public sector, the investment banking arm of BoB, and consultancy firm EY are helping lenders with the process.

RHF is among the biggest in Anil Ambani's financial services portfolio that includes commercial finance and insurance businesses.

'Partial Stake Sale in BPCL During Divestment may not Work'

Our Bureau

New Delhi: Selling just a part of the government stake in BPCL when its privatisation bid is revived may not work, a person familiar with the matter said. The government has been reportedly toying with the idea of selling part of the BPCL's stake when it restarts the divestment process as it would lower the funding requirement for the potential acquirer. The government had offered to sell its entire 53% stake in BPCL.

"Partial" or "haphazard" divestment doesn't work, the person said. The experience has shown that the government must sell its entire stake while privatising a company, he said, citing Air India's example. It was a "sensible decision" to stall the BPCL divestment process as there was just one bidder left in the fray and a single bidder always "dictates terms". The government will look at different divestment formats and undertake fresh consultations before restarting the BPCL privatisation process.
