Letter from the Chairman

The supply chain upheavals during the past couple of years are driving a shift towards rebalancing and resilience. As companies seek real-time data to transform their supply chains, AI and predictive analytics help capture insights and react to changing conditions. Your company is helping companies reconfigure their supply chains to ensure that they can serve their customers and stakeholders on time.

Dear Stakeholder,

The past couple of years have been a period of intense action and reflection. We have seen a global pandemic, geopolitical tensions, supply chain disruptions, the rise of cryptocurrency and many other public and private upheavals. As the dust settles, and a clearer picture of the world ahead emerges, I believe we are standing at the threshold of a period of great opportunity and growth.

In the face of widespread change, your company has shown remarkable resilience and adaptability, coming out stronger than ever, after catastrophic events like the global financial crisis or the pandemic.

In FY 2022, your company crossed a milestone of $25 billion in revenues, experiencing strong growth of 15.9%, adding an all-time high incremental revenues of $3.5 billion. Even more satisfyingly, this growth has come with an industry-leading operating margin of 25.3%. Since the start of the last decade, the company has grown over four times, comfortably outperforming its largest global competitors. This growth is the source of our energy and vibrancy, reflected in the 17.7% growth in market value to ₹13,83,427 crore in the past year.

The change in technology consumption reflects the prevailing trends in the economy. Recent events have accelerated digital adoption, put the spotlight on supply chain resilience and added urgency to the sustainability imperative. Each of these represents an opportunity that can contribute towards the growth of not just your company, but of the ecosystem as a whole.

Digital transformation is now an integral part of the functioning of enterprises, governments and societies. Your company continues to play a critical role in this transformation, helping clients embrace new technologies, initially to cope with the crisis, and since then, to innovate at scale and grow their businesses.

As a fitness enthusiast, I can tell you that the only way to transform in the long term is by strengthening one's core. It is no different for organizations. We work with large enterprises to simplify their technology landscape and strengthen their core by building a cloud-based digital foundation and embedding intelligent automation into their operations so they can focus on building memorable experiences for their customers.

Artificial intelligence and data are key differentiators for enterprises today. TCS helps its customers stay ahead of the game by investing in research and innovation, tapping the intellectual capital within the organization and also of our ecosystem through our Co-Innovation Network which includes leading academic institutions and start-ups working on cutting-edge technologies. Our insights and foresight are also crystallized in the form of AI-powered products and platforms that give customers actionable intelligence.

Another area that is a priority for me at the Tata group is sustainability and integrating that into business decision-making and business models. Your company is partnering with clients in taking up community initiatives jointly, in sharing best practices around diversity and inclusion, and importantly, in helping them achieve their sustainability objectives using technology. In addition to reducing its own carbon footprint in its journey to be net zero by 2030, your company is helping the world's largest corporations in developing and executing their sustainability roadmaps, deploying its portfolio of intellectual property and services to help them track their emissions, reduce their carbon footprint and get closer to their net zero goals.

The supply chain upheavals during the past couple of years are driving a shift towards rebalancing and resilience. As companies seek real-time data to transform their supply chains, AI and predictive analytics help capture insights and react to changing conditions—from widescale disruptions to individual customer complaints. Your company is helping companies reconfigure their supply chains in many ways, including rolling out connected logistics to efficiently manage business disruption and ensure that they can serve their customers and stakeholders on time.

I strongly believe that technology is at its most transformational when combined with the strength of human capital. In FY 2022, our employee strength grew to 592,195 with a record net addition of 103,546 employees. You will be proud of the way your company supported its employees and their families in dealing with the pandemic, including organizing what was perhaps the largest vaccination drive in corporate India for employees and families of not just TCS, but also of its extended ecosystem of partners and other group companies.

In turn, our employees have shown remarkable resilience, loyalty and tenacity in ensuring that our customers are not impacted, despite significant personal challenges. I salute their spirit.

Our purpose is anchored in the well-being of all our stakeholders, and the communities we operate in are very important stakeholders for us. Drawing from the legacy of the Tata group, we work closely with our communities to create equitable, inclusive pathways for all, especially women, youth and marginalized groups.

We leverage four forms of capital - Intellectual, Technological, Human, and Financial - to bridge the opportunity gap for people and communities. Our primary focus areas are education, skilling, employment, and entrepreneurship. Additionally, we invest in basic health and wellness, water sanitation and hygiene, conservation, and disaster relief efforts.

Since 2015, your company has invested $634 million in its community initiatives and empowered millions of people globally, primarily underserved students, minorities, youth, women and elders, to be literate, healthy, educated, digitally skilled, become rural entrepreneurs and gain employment.

As we look ahead to the future, we go back to a key pillar of our strategy - customer centricity. Our organization structure, our investments in new capabilities and intellectual property, our delivery models and contracting structures have all been shaped by our clients' needs. Our new organization structure is designed to make every client continue to feel deeply valued, and to leverage TCS' rich set of capabilities and contextual knowledge to transform, grow and build better futures. With scale and by steadily expanding its transformation capabilities, TCS is moving from pursuing opportunities, to shaping those opportunities in the years ahead.

I look forward to sharing with you more milestones in this journey in the coming years. On behalf of the Board of Directors of Tata Consultancy Services, I want to thank you for your continued trust, confidence, and support.

Warm regards,

N Chandrasekaran
Chairman

Letter from the CEO¹

Dear Stakeholder,

With near normalcy all around, the pain and suffering caused by the pandemic at the start of the year seem so distant now. But the memories of TCSers and their loved ones we lost during the year will forever remain with us. My thoughts and prayers are with everyone who endured the loss of friends and family members to the pandemic.

Given that context, I am grateful that on the business front we have much to feel happy about and celebrate. It has been a highly satisfactory year of consistently strong, profitable growth. In rupee terms, our revenue was ₹191,754 crore, which is growth of 16.8% (15.4% in constant currency).

Our profitability continues to be industry-leading, with the operating margin at 25.3%, and net margin at 20%. Our Earnings Per Share was at ₹103.62, growing 16.1% over the prior year.

Our new purpose-designed organization structure, along with continued investments in building newer capabilities, next generation delivery models and assets that help our clients innovate at scale, and in building our brand, will help us deepen our customer relationships, expand our addressable market, gain market share and power growth in the years ahead.

Our cash conversion continues to be very strong, with a cash conversion ratio of 104.2% and free cash flow of ₹36,985 crore.

The Board has recommended a final dividend of ₹22 for the year, bringing the total dividend for the year to ₹43 per share. Additionally, during the year, we successfully completed our fourth buyback in five years, to the tune of ₹18,000 crore, representing a total payout of ₹38,010 crore including buyback tax of ₹4,192 crore paid out in April 2022. This amounts to over 102.8% of the free cash flow.

*Excluding provision towards legal claim in prior year.

Beyond the headline numbers, we are pleased with the holistic nature of the growth, broad-based across all our industry verticals and major markets, and with a steadily expanding number of growth and transformation engagements in the portfolio.

Growth was led by Retail and Consumer Business which was impacted the most during the pandemic and which has bounced back strongly, growing 20.0%. Manufacturing grew 16.7%. Banking, Financial Services and Insurance grew 14.5% and Communications, Media and Technology grew 17.7%. Life Sciences and Healthcare grew 20.6% and Others which makes up 7.8% of revenues grew 15.5%.

All our major markets grew in the mid-teens or above. North America grew 18.7%. Continental Europe grew 15.2% and UK grew 18.5%. Among emerging markets, Latin America grew 18.6%. India grew 16%. Middle East & Africa grew 16.3% while Asia Pacific grew 6.9%.

Innovating for Greater Futures

Our outstanding performance this year, and the strong demand for our services that drove it, can be traced back to the innovation that enterprises scrambled to adopt at the start of the pandemic, to engage with customers digitally and to improve their operational resilience.

The cloud adoption trends strengthened further in FY 2022, with more clients embarking on multi-horizon cloud transformation journeys. However, the mindsets have changed. During the year, enterprises moved from thinking of technology-led innovation as a way of coping with pandemic challenges, to looking at it as a means of powering their growth and transformation (G&T), especially in the case of clients who had already moved their most critical workloads to the cloud.

While G&T initiatives tend to be business focused and technology agnostic, immense possibilities for business transformation open up once enterprises move some of their workloads to the hyperscaler cloud. This is triggering a wave of business innovation in the form of Horizon Two or Horizon Three initiatives by our clients.

In FY 2022, we won deals addressing a broad gamut of G&T objectives such as M&A, newer ways of working, product innovation, business model innovation and innovations around improved customer experience. We have been providing examples of these in our recent annual reports, including this year's report.

A new trend this year was the growing volume of sustainability-related innovation, a good indicator how this has become a top priority item on most CEO agendas. We have leveraged our deep expertise in IoT, advanced analytics, and machine learning to come up with a suite of offerings in this space, including intellectual property such as Clever Energy™, IP2™ and TCS Envirozone™. Clients across industries such as retail, manufacturing, utilities and consumer goods are engaging us to develop innovative technology-led solutions to reduce energy consumption, or to measure and track green-house gas emissions across their end-to-end supply chain, reduce their carbon footprint, reduce waste and promote recycling.

We are very proud of the steadily expanding number of G&T deals in our order book because each such win represents market share gain for TCS from legacy consulting organizations which have traditionally dominated this space. It is an outcome of our sustained investments in creating enabling capabilities within the organization, be it in cultivating contextual knowledge, or research and innovation, building intellectual property, deepening digital expertise, cultivating technology partnerships and building our brand.

The growing component of G&T revenue in our portfolio is also evidence that our differentiated, inside-out approach to transformation is resonating well with our clients. Our collaborative ways, and focus on harnessing collective contextual knowledge results in better buy-in for the transformation from stakeholders across the organization, setting it up for success. Our brand statement, 'Building on Belief', has also found strong resonance in the market, instilling hope into business and trust in the enterprise.

All-time High Order Book

All this is not to say that Horizon One spending, the investments that enterprises make at the start of their cloud journeys, while migrating to a new cloud-based digital core, is coming to an end as a key demand driver. Far from it, we saw strong deal flow right through the year from Horizon One initiatives. The sheer scale, depth of consulting expertise and full-service capabilities of our dedicated business units on each of the three large hyperscalers, and the investments we have made in building a rich portfolio of accelerators and toolsets for automating application and data estate modernization and cloud migration give us a distinct edge in this opportunity.

Clients engaged us for some, or all, of the activities, starting from cloud assessment, business case preparation, roadmap creation, ERP consolidation and migration, application and data modernization and cloud migration. When core applications are re-engineered using cloud-native architectures, or on-premise ERP is moved to SaaS, it is not just a technology transformation but also a business transformation.

Such cloud transformation engagements are material, multi-year transformation engagements which when completed, result in resilient, future-ready digital technology stacks that enable leaner, more agile operations and very importantly, serve as a scalable foundation for their innovation and growth.

Partnering with our clients in this initial phase is important not only for the sheer volume of business involved, but also because it is a gateway to the unbounded opportunity that the downstream innovation and transformation represent. The granular contextual knowledge of our clients' business and technology landscapes, gained while executing Horizon One and other ADM programs, are critical for our ability to proactively pitch innovative ideas and solutions for their growth and transformation.

The other big demand driver was outsourcing of business and IT operations. There were three key reasons why enterprises outsourced more in FY 2022: the need to free up people as well as financial resources to execute their growth and transformation initiatives; talent scarcity especially in digital technologies, made worse by the Great Resignation; and the desire for leaner and more resilient IT and business operations. During the year, we saw many instances where clients engaged TCS to transform their operating models, and then manage those operations on their behalf.

Here too, our delivery model innovation, the Machine First™ approach, helped us win many large deals and gain share over pure play outsourcing companies. Our transformational approach embeds powerful technologies like machine vision, machine learning, and our AI-powered intellectual property such as ignio™ and Cognix™ into the core of our clients' processes, transforming the human-machine interface and delivering much leaner, faster and more resilient business and IT operations.

Throughout the year, these three trends – increased spend on innovation and transformation, cloud migration and outsourcing – drove a strong flow of deals of all sizes. The total contract value of deals signed in the first three quarters averaged between $7-8 billion per quarter, capped by an all-time high order book of $11.3 billion in the fourth quarter. The robustness of the deal flow at the close of the year becomes evident when even after excluding the two mega deals of roughly a billion dollars each won in Q4, the order book TCV in Q4 was $9.5 billion, which is also an all-time high. The full year order book was $34.6 billion, our highest ever, representing a book to bill ratio of 1.3.

New Benchmarks in People Management

Our purpose-driven approach to business and our values have shaped TCS' culture and work environment. We believe in investing in our people and giving them opportunities to realize their full potential. We believe in decentralized decision-making, in empowering leaders on the front lines, and in providing them all the support they need in their journeys. We also believe in treating the organization as an extended family, and standing by each member in their hour of need. This was best demonstrated in our response to the brutal second wave of the pandemic at the start of FY 2022. We scaled up our employee engagement, provided hospitalization support and access to Covid care centers at our facilities in 13 cities and undertook a massive – possibly the largest of its kind, pan-India vaccination drive, covering over a million individuals – employees and their dependents.

This philosophy, and our progressive policies and work culture have resulted in a very strong employer brand, validated by several third-party assessments and accolades during the year. This played an critical role in helping your company cope with the industry-wide supply side challenges during the year.

To support the strong growth momentum in FY 2022, we flexed the strength of that employer brand to set new benchmarks and cross new milestones in attracting and managing talent at scale across the world. Our workforce crossed the half-million mark in the first half of the year, and we ended the year with a headcount of 592,195, an all-time high net addition of 103,546 employees.

The workforce remains a highly diverse one, with over 153 nationalities represented. We crossed an important diversity milestone this year, with the number of women in the workforce exceeding 200,000. We are also making progress, slowly but steadily, in improving gender diversity in the senior management ranks. Through focused leadership development programs, the number of women senior executives has grown 84% over the last 5 years, significantly higher than the male cohort.

Organic talent development continues to be a key focus area in our journey to be a G&T partner to more of our clients. TCSers collectively logged 60.3 million learning hours and acquired over 3.5 million digital competencies in FY 2022. Very importantly, the number of Contextual Masters in the organization crossed 50,000 this year, 24% of them women.

The year also witnessed a sharp rise in employee turnover across the industry. TCS' attrition in IT services (LTM) was 17.4% in FY 2022. Despite the increase, your company stood out with the lowest attrition in the industry and remained the benchmark for talent retention.

Community and planet

We continued to work with communities across the world, pursuing our long-standing commitment to programs in the areas of health, STEM education, skills development and the bridging of digital divides. These programs are scaling well in reach as well as depth of impact, touching the lives of over 1.7 million beneficiaries – women, youth and marginalized people.

To maximize the impact of our programs, we are now partnering with our customers in these initiatives. We engaged with 850 business leaders and teams, across 146 customer organizations and connected with over 50 government leaders on collaborative community efforts.

TCSers have also been quick to respond to the humanitarian tragedy in Ukraine, helping in rescue efforts, relief assistance, resilience support. To address the urgent needs of children, women, and those facing food insecurity, TCS is making a financial contribution of 1 million Euros to international humanitarian organizations like the UNICEF and the European Food Banks Federation which are helping support war refugees streaming into neighboring countries. We are also matching funds raised by employees, families, and their networks, up to 500,000 Euros, as donation to these two organizations.

On the environment front, we have good progress to report in our journey to become net zero by 2030 . Our absolute carbon footprint across Scope 1 and Scope 2 emissions reduced by 66% over base year 2016 due to focused initiatives around energy efficiency and transition to renewable energy. We made a big leap on the latter, with use of renewable energy across TCS' global operations growing to 37.2% of the total (15.6% in FY 2021).

Looking Ahead

Our all-time high order book, continued deal flow and pipeline velocity give us confidence in the sustainability of our business momentum. We are in the midst of a multi-year technology upgrade cycle that provides strong, structural growth drivers for the next few years.

The geo-political tensions in Europe and the resultant impact on global economic growth are real threats. However, the pandemic has shown us that enterprise spending on technology is far more resilient than most people credit it for. It is central to organizations' ability to innovate and differentiate in good times, and to survive and adapt in tough times. While evolving market dynamics may prompt reprioritizing of programs, we are confident that technology spending itself will continue to grow. That growth and our expanding market share give us confidence of being able to sustain a certain base case growth, with room to maximize in better years.

At our current pace of growth, it is only a matter of time before we double our revenues and hit the $50 billion mark. In our journey to that next logical milestone, we are focused on not only our velocity, but also on ensuring we get there fighting fit, so it does not become a finish line to stumble across, but a launchpad to achieve even greater heights. For this to happen we are focusing on two things.

One, we want to arrive at that milestone with a more balanced portfolio, with a much larger proportion of business transformation revenues, so we have two equally strong growth engines for the journey ahead. For this, we want to build on our initial successes in the G&T opportunity, and put in place a structured way to deepen existing innovation and transformation engagements, while expanding the number of clients for whom we provide such services.

Second, as we get larger, we shouldn't lose sight of what has brought us thus far – our customer centricity. Our success stems from the fact that year after year, our clients reward us with more work, and rank us #1 in customer satisfaction across all the service providers they work with. Our approach of putting the client at the center of everything we do, making them feel special, and investing in newer capabilities to create value in newer areas of their businesses, has paid us rich dividends. Regardless of how large we get, we want to make sure that our customer focus never wavers, and every client continues to feel just as valued.

We have rolled out a new organization structure that will help us achieve these two imperatives. It retains the atomicity of our earlier architecture, and its three dimensions – industry verticals, horizontal service lines and geography-based sales. We have now added a fourth dimension, the stage of the customer's relationship journey with TCS.

That journey begins when a client first signs up for some initial work. When we successfully deliver, they give us more work and that is how the relationship starts growing. As trust levels steadily go up, they start viewing TCS as a strategic partner and consolidate more and more of their technology requirements with us. That is how we have steadily grown and deepened relationships with nearly 60 clients globally who spend more than $100 million on us annually.

We have rearranged existing units into three business groups, each aligned to a particular phase in the customer relationship journey: the Relationship Incubation Group that will provide the high-touch, high engagement, delivery-focused model that new clients require; the Enterprise Growth Group which will do what today's TCS does best, that is, pull together capabilities from across the different service lines to stitch together solutions that address our clients' business needs when the relationship is in its hyper growth phase; and the Business Transformation Group that will manage our largest clients and help them accomplish their growth and transformation objectives.

As clients progress in their relationship journeys, the account ownership will seamlessly transition from one group to the next, with all three groups working in synchrony to make sure that every client gets a curated experience and that we steadily progress every client relationship to the highest level of maturity with TCS being their preferred growth and transformation partner.

This new purpose-designed organization structure, along with continued investments in building newer capabilities, next generation delivery models and assets that help our clients innovate at scale, and in building our brand, will help us deepen our customer relationships, expand our addressable market, gain market share and power growth in the years ahead. We thank you for your continued support in this exciting journey ahead.

Warm regards,

Rajesh Gopinathan
Chief Executive Officer and Managing Director

The Year Gone By

Won a very large contract from a Fortune 100 US company, further expanding the long-standing partnership, to transform the technology at its global data centers into a future-ready, hybrid cloud stack for greater agility, flexibility, and improved operational resilience. TCS will also deploy a new cognitive-powered operating model to run that stack, to improve the availability of business applications and enhance user experience.

Selected by Payments Canada, the country's largest payment organization, to transform its payment system operations and help implement the Real-Time Rail (RTR), the new real-time payments system that will allow Canadians to initiate payments and receive irrevocable funds in seconds, 24/7/365. TCS will leverage its deep knowledge of the payments domain, and extensive experience in designing and implementing large payment systems for clients across the world to help Payments Canada create and execute an integration roadmap for the RTR.

Completed the fourth successful share buyback in five years, to the tune of ₹18,000 crore at ₹4,500 per share, through the tender offer route, extinguishing 4 crore equity shares, representing 1.08% of the total paid-up equity share capital.

With three decades of experience in delivering market infrastructure solutions, TCS will be a valuable partner in the delivery of the Real-Time Rail. Testing and deployment is a critical step in the introduction of the new real-time payment system and we're excited to work with TCS to execute on this next step for the RTR as we help shape the future of payments in Canada.

Partnering with Takeda to Innovate at Scale

Takeda, the global biopharmaceutical giant, is on a digital transformation journey to innovatively use technology to create better experiences and outcomes for patients, providers and payers. This means innovating continuously on not only in core drug development but also in behind-the-scenes areas such as manufacturing, procurement, shipping and distribution, to make sure that Takeda's life-saving therapies reach more patients, faster.

Takeda partnered with TCS to develop an agile model that would enable the creation of new digital assets in a rapid and repeatable fashion. Leveraging TCS Pace™, a philosophy and framework for innovation at scale, TCS helped Takeda envisage an innovation factory delivery model called Enhanced Digital Global Experience (EDGE).

Departing from the traditional business analysis and design-build-test linear project life cycle, EDGE embraces co-creation, cross-functional collaboration, and continuous business-driven iterative innovation. Leveraging cloud technologies, design thinking, and location independent agile software development to provide an end-to-end product development capability, TCS is helping Takeda transform the way it launches digital products and services across its operations. A few examples:

- TCS helped build a drug substance optimization solution that uses machine learning to help supply planners optimally allocate the raw materials for drug production, leading to a 40x drop in raw material scrappage and an additional 200k doses produced annually.
- A mobile track-and-trace app was built to provide real-time visibility of product consignments for a newly launched product with a 72-hour shelf life.
- A transportation modeler was developed to help decision makers evaluate various transportation and shipping scenarios to optimize on time and cost of shipments while reducing Scope 3 carbon emissions.
- A controlled substance control tower was built to provide a single view of permits and visualization of risks associated with the global movement of controlled substance drug products.

We have developed a deep partnership with TCS to set up and run an innovation factory that's developing digital products and services across Takeda. This model centralizes domain expertise, design thinking and lean agile product development as part of an end-to-end capability that is driving digital transformation across our global supply chain. TCS is helping us embrace innovation at scale, and use the power of emerging technologies to transform our business.

Hansjoerg Magalhaes
Global Product Manager
ERP Commercial and Supply, Takeda

By partnering with TCS to scale up its innovation efforts using BizDevOps, Takeda has accomplished much in the short time since EDGE was implemented. The new innovation factory has released 12 products across over 40 design sprints at the peak of the pandemic, evaluated over 40 potential use cases and reduced the time-to-market for new products and services by 50% – a benchmark for organizations looking to embrace innovation at scale.

Co-Innovating with Bovemij to Fulfill its Mission and Drive Growth

For the last 60 years, Bovemij has been providing a variety of insurance services such as auto, fire, legal assistance, financing and other business services to mobility companies – vehicle dealerships, fleet owners, and service centers – in the Netherlands to help them compete successfully in the marketplace.

To keep fulfilling its mission of helping this ecosystem stay competitive in a digital world, Bovemij partnered with TCS to realize its digital strategy to expand the ecosystem and bring in a richer set of offerings that ecosystem participants could use to connect better with digital native consumers.

TCS leveraged its Pace Innovation Architecture and Pace sprints to jointly ideate and create unique, viable and feasible business propositions for the ecosystem which would be offered through a new Digital Mobility Platform that would connect Bovemij's mobility partners with consumers in a B2B2C model across the Netherlands.

TCS also set up a digital innovation factory, for repeatable agile innovation at scale, to take each of the business propositions and deliver them to market at speed. A minimum viable product was put together in six weeks, with relevant user stories to demonstrate outcomes and gain acceptance of internal and external stakeholders.

In addition to providing access to its full set of offerings to its regular B2B partners, Bovemij's new cloud-based Digital Mobility Platform is also enabling new B2C propositions – offered on a subscription basis – for its partners, to sell better to consumers while embedding its insurance and other offerings into those transactions. Other propositions seek to benefit the ecosystem as a whole. For example, consumers can sell their used cars on its portal, which mobility companies can bid for. Data from these consumer interactions are being harvested for further actionable insights for use by Bovemij's various business lines and other ecosystem partners.

Co-innovating with TCS is enabling Bovemij leverage the power of the ecosystem to offer innovative propositions to its partners and their consumers, carve out a new brand identity for itself in the market, create new revenue streams and drive growth.

Bovemij is committed to help the mobility ecosystem thrive in the digital world. We selected TCS as our partner to help us realize our digital strategy because of the co-innovation architecture and agile practices that they already had in place. Using that, we could jointly visualize the platform and the various business propositions, and rapidly build out each such proposition. Their expertise, creative ideas and agile ways helped us get our platform up and running much faster than we had anticipated.

INNOVATING FOR GREATER FUTURES:

A PANEL DISCUSSION

Why are enterprises accelerating their investments in innovation? How does TCS help enterprises innovate for greater futures?

Ananth: The initial trigger for this acceleration was the need to build resilience into the technology and business context of every enterprise. The next trigger was the adaptation required to compete in many contexts created by digital business models. Finally, as enterprises are moving into a post-pandemic world of new risks, challenges and opportunities, a more strategic, purpose driven strategy is driving innovation.

These factors are driving enterprises to develop a wide and deep innovation capability, which can scale. This is not easy. Most have found it difficult to measure up on both scale and speed. Smaller competitors may offer a non-stop stream of innovations. Large enterprises often struggle to innovate at that pace on their own, for lack of processes, toolsets and also sufficient dedicated bandwidth

Partnering with TCS can help them overcome all these issues. We help them create a strategic agenda using our tools and methods, especially our 'Clay Map', named so in honor of the late Clayton Christensen who greatly influenced our thinking on innovation. We also offer the TCS' Agile Innovation Cloud, a framework for operationalizing innovation at scale, which ensures that innovation does not happen by chance but by design. It brings together the best of TCS' innovation, global capabilities, ecosystem partnerships, and talent to help our clients define their strategy, create an innovation portfolio and scale the execution of innovation.

Our clients tap into our contextual knowledge of their business and technology landscapes, when they jointly ideate with our teams. They work with our start-up and academic partners at our Pace Ports™ to harvest many more innovation candidates than on their own. We then jointly design and build 'minimum viable products' of the most promising ideas in Agile 'Pace Sprints'. At a larger level, we help clients create a repeatable process which can significantly scale up and speed up their innovation.

A good example of this is the innovation factory we have set up for Takeda¹. Using cloud, design thinking, and location independent agile methods, our combined teams are taking up innovative ideas across procurement, logistics and finance, and building innovative digital assets at twice the velocity.

Krishnan: The three broad themes around which we saw our clients innovate the most were growth and transformation (G&T), resilience, and sustainability. We have been making significant investments in creating capabilities strategically relevant to each of these themes, some of which we have described in our prior years' annual reports as well.

G&T is most often about expanding organically or inorganically into adjacencies, be it of products and services, or customers and markets, and occasionally, moonshots. Good examples are our transformational engagements with clients like Swiss Re, Bovermij and RS Components described in our FY 2022 annual report², or the work we have done for Bayer, Damen Shipyards and Toyo Tires described in prior years' annual reports.

We have been leveraging our deep contextual knowledge of our clients' businesses, extensive industry knowledge and experience, our rich portfolio of intellectual property, digital engineering expertise and our differentiated inside-out approach to transformation to help bring their G&T visions to fruition.

Underpinning our work in G&T are our key innovation pillars – our Pace Ports™, the TCS Co-innovation Network (TCS COIN™), research collaborations with leading academic institutions, 'Future of Business' frameworks, W12 design studios, and our products and platforms like TCS BaNCS™, Optumera™, Optunique™, ADD, ignio™, Bringing Life to Things™, Cloudonomy™, and Cognix™ among others.

The second big theme is resilience, which is the ability to weather foreseen as well as unforeseen emergencies. In these last two years, many of our largest deal wins were around transforming clients' IT and business operating models, and their supply chain management processes, using ignio or TCS Cognix to embed intelligent automation for greater resilience and agility. Much of the rush to embrace the cloud in the early months of the pandemic was also driven by this need.

Lastly, we saw clients focus heavily on sustainability in FY 2022, particularly around carbon footprint reduction. Our investments in innovative digital solutions such as Envirozone™, Clever Energy™ and IP2™, and our expertise in cloud, data and analytics, AI and ML are helping us win more and more of such engagements, helping us amplify our contribution to the worldwide collective effort to mitigate climate change and build greater futures.

What we have observed is that as soon as enterprises simplify their IT landscapes and build a new, cloud-based digital core, supporting micro services in a cloud native environment, their ability to realize innovative ideas and deploy them in production shoots up.

Aren't large enterprises also constrained by their legacy technology stacks? How do they overcome that challenge?

NGS: I call them heritage. They have been around and doing a good job of running their businesses in a way that encapsulates their organization's processes, checks and balances. Most organizations have worked to build APIs or middleware that enable their digital strategies, though they are suboptimal.

What we have observed is that as soon as enterprises simplify their IT landscapes and build a new, cloud-based digital core, supporting micro services in a cloud native environment, their ability to realize innovative ideas and deploy them in production shoots up. They are able to anchor or participate in ecosystems at will, which drives growth and innovation.

You may recall the scalable, customer-centric digital operating model we built for the Phoenix Group, using TCS BaNCS³. Our platform is extensible, supporting the required APIs and microservices for them to leverage fintechs and our TCS COIN partners to enable the differentiation in the front.

Krishnan: We see this same dynamic with the broader set of clients who undertake Horizon One cloud transformations. Besides enhanced ability to integrate innovative new solutions into the core, their appetite for innovation itself goes up. The richness of the technology capabilities built into today's hyperscaler clouds triggers more innovative thinking and the desire to experiment with those powerful technologies to reimagine different aspects of the business.

Another challenge that large enterprises face is the need to invest for the longer-term growth of their businesses, without disrupting near-term financials. TCS helps them square this circle by providing a line of sight for funding the innovation pipeline or the transformation by helping optimize operations.

We work closely with the client to reimagine parts of their IT and business operations, or perhaps their IT infrastructure, using our Machine First™ approach. The resultant operating models are leaner, more agile and more responsive. This frees up inhouse talent to take up the more exciting innovation and transformation initiatives. One large US client of ours for whom we are building a new, cloud-native digital platform to support their business forays into adjacencies, calls it their 'save to invest' strategy.

How do you see clients' transition from Horizon One to Horizon Two spending affect your growth? Will there be a slump and subsequent recovery?

Krishnan: The term multi-horizon may suggest clearly delineated, sequential phases but in reality, clients don't wait to complete Horizon One, that is, migration of all their workloads to the cloud before commencing their Horizon Two initiatives. These progress concurrently.

Even as existing workloads are migrated to the cloud, newer cloud-native systems are built to enhance customer experience or to drive product or business model innovation. That is how we have been able to give examples of G&T engagements being executed as part of Horizon Two investments in our quarterly earnings calls, even though we are still in the middle of the Horizon One opportunity.

We expect the transition to be a seamless one. Horizon One is a bounded opportunity and will plateau at some point when most of the workloads are migrated. By that time, the other two horizons, which are boundless opportunities would have scaled up and will support our future growth. All our investments into building our G&T capabilities, our branding and the new organization structure are geared to help us maximize our participation at that point.

In the last couple of years, the industry has seen deal sizes reducing. What is driving that?

Is that why smaller companies are growing faster? Also, is that why you adopted a new organization structure?

NGS: Our order book has had a good mix of small and medium projects, as well as large outsourcing and transformation deals in FY 2022. This mix is important for our short and long term business growth. Projects are increasingly executed using Agile methods. The focus here is to deliver 'speed to value' by structuring the program over multiple monthly sprints. Here clients are more comfortable structuring the contracts with short tenures. The rise in the number of short tenure deals is linked to the growing share of such work in our order book.

On the outsourcing front too, average deal tenures have come down on the heritage stacks. That is because enterprises are in the midst of a technology transition. As clients migrate to the cloud, their legacy infrastructure, application and data estates will eventually be replaced, re-engineered, re-platformed or retired. Given the desire to get this transformation done rapidly, they are outsourcing the run and change of the existing portfolio for relatively shorter tenures and hence lower TCVs.

Krishnan: The impression about smaller companies growing faster is more due to sampling bias, based on a handful of highly visible outperformers. That is not true if you look at the global cohort. Even though the bottom quartile by revenue size had its best growth in a decade in 2021, it still underperformed the top quartile by a significant margin.

Overall, the current demand environment is a rising tide that has lifted all boats. Horizon One is a very democratic opportunity, largely technology-centric. Having enough people with the requisite certifications and skills is sufficient to participate in this opportunity. The severe talent scarcity is also driving a broad outsourcing demand. Also, smaller players are enjoying strong demand from clients in the small and medium enterprise category, with little competition from larger providers.

All deals are important to us. Billion-dollar deals are especially important because they boost medium-term visibility and provide us opportunities to bring the whole of TCS' offerings to play. We are very pleased at winning two such deals during the year.

We adopted the new organization for a very different reason, so we reach our next revenue milestone, fighting fit. The new structure is designed to ensure that our clients receive curated experiences which make them feel just as valued, no matter how large we grow. It is also designed to help us replicate best practices across our client base and expand the number of clients who bank on us as their trusted growth and transformation partner.

The large scale vendor consolidation anticipated two years ago doesn't seem to have materialized. How come?

Krishnan: Vendor consolidation is typically done to find an alternative strategic provider with a richer set of capabilities and a superior execution track record. However, the sharp recovery and subsequent growth in demand, coinciding with the great resignation and talent scarcity, have resulted in enterprises focusing more on pursuing their immediate technology priorities.

That said, we still won several large deals during the year where we displaced incumbents. If you look at the global market, the industry grew 6% whereas all the top tier players grew double digits, indicating that the longer-term consolidation trends are very much intact.

The industry didn't see too many billion-dollar deals in FY 2022. How important are they for longer-term growth?

NGS: All deals are important to us. Billion-dollar deals are especially important because they boost medium-term visibility and provide us opportunities to bring the whole of TCS' offerings to play. We are very pleased at winning two such deals during the year. Having said that, the perceived importance of such deals for longer term growth need not be exaggerated versus smaller deals of say, $100million+ TCv.

For sustained longer term growth, what matters is that the base order book size, excluding the occasional mega deal, keeps growing year after year, and that the quality of revenue keeps improving with higher value engagements. Our average order book size which used to be in the $6-7 billion range in FY 2021 moved to the $7-8 billion range in FY 2022, and ended with an all-time high order book of $11.3 billion in Q4. We are very pleased with that progression.

How will the tensions in Europe, rising inflation and the looming threat of a recession affect spending on innovation, on technology and on your growth outlook?

Ananth: Let me address the innovation part. It is a misconception that innovation is a nice-to-have activity apt for only good times. In fact, it is essential at all times, good or bad. In good times, enterprises may fund more product innovation or customer experience transformation, targeting business growth or increased customer intimacy.

In tough times, they find new ways of working to boost their resilience and adaptability – for example, re-designing the value chain at a strategic level. The sheer volume of innovation we saw over the last two years, even in the face of bleak business outlook, is testament to that. We designed and rolled out AI-powered digitized underwriting and claims processing for insurers, omnichannel experiences with in-aisle checkouts for retailers, or remote monitoring and pre-emptive maintenance of equipment for manufacturers and utilities. None of these are ‘nice to have’ capabilities. These were necessary to simply stay in business, to stay relevant in the face of changing consumer behavior, and to cope with the operational challenges posed by the pandemic.

So even in an economic slowdown, innovation doesn't stop. They may reprioritize one program over another based on shifting objectives, but the spending will continue. Partnering with TCS to innovate at scale will enable them to try out more ideas, and experiment more extensively with the same budget, and improve the yield on their innovation investment.

NGS: We have been through multiple disruptive macroeconomic events in the last decade and a half – the GFC, taper tantrums, Eurozone crisis, Brexit, the pandemic and now the war and the resulting humanitarian crisis. We always take a view that business is about growing in a constrained environment and over these events, we have survived, continued to grow and have ensured that we stay ahead of the technology curve. This speaks to the resilience of our business model, and of the essential nature of the services we offer to businesses across the world.

Today, technology is central to any enterprise. Businesses are rooted in technology, to the extent that every company is aspiring to become a technology company. Insurers are launching technology platforms for their ecosystem partners, and generating new revenue streams from that. The world's largest banks are incubating fintechs within the enterprise, and betting on those to drive their future growth. Retailers are depending heavily on online sales. These are all recent structural changes.

So conventional wisdom on technology spending, based on historic behaviors during prior slowdowns, may not be as reliable. In the post-pandemic world, we expect technology spending to hold up well even in a downturn.

We can't predict the future, but based simply on the deal signing momentum, our pipeline, and our on the ground observations of clients planning multi-horizon investments for their growth and transformation, we remain confident that we are on a good growth trajectory for the next three to five years.

Transforming Israel's Banking Sector

The Government of Israel's Ministry of Finance was looking to encourage the entry of new digital-only banks that would boost competition, spark greater innovation and rejuvenate the banking sector. It selected TCS to play a leading role in this initiative, for its deep domain knowledge in the banking industry and experience in working with the largest financial institutions in the world.

TCS built the Banking Service Bureau (BSB), a shared, end-to-end digital banking operations platform powered by TCS BaNCS™, that start-up banks can easily plug into, to launch their operations quickly and securely. It connects to the entire banking and securities ecosystem in Israel, including local and international payment gateways, stock exchanges, various regulatory authorities and market data providers.

The first bank to commence operations using BSB is One Zero Digital Bank, Israel's first completely digital bank, and the first to receive a banking license in the country in over 40 years. Currently running as a pilot, the bank will be open for all customers in the coming months.

Besides start-up banks, incumbent banks can also take advantage of the BSB's modular architecture and consume only specific best-in-class capabilities to gain competitive differentiation and drive growth.

One of the modules in the BSB is its Digital Bank Guarantee platform, powered by TCS' Quartz® blockchain solution. It digitally transforms the end-to-end lifecycle of guarantees, enables seamless data sharing with various beneficiaries, faster execution, reduced errors, and enhanced transparency, security and data privacy. Bank Hapoalim, Israel's largest bank, with a 30% share of all bank guarantees in the country, has signed up for this platform.

As the first digital start-up bank in Israel, our motto is to provide differentiated banking services and use technology to its fullest potential to deliver an innovative alternate to traditional banks.

While we have started with Israel, we are keen to grow in other markets too. As part of this journey, TCS' Banking Service Bureau powered by the TCS BaNCS product suite has helped us gain an early lead by making available a full digital core for banking, including the necessary infrastructure and operational processes. This has given us the space to focus on our core offerings and launch banking services in rapid time.

Enabling Swiss Re's Risk Partnership Strategy for Future Growth

Swiss Re, one of the world's leading providers of reinsurance, insurance, and other forms of insurance-based risk transfer, conducts its business with a clear vision: to make the world more resilient. The company supports its clients with its deep knowledge of risk and its capital strength, and helps the world rebuild, renew, and move forward.

A distinctive aspect of Swiss Re's business strategy is leveraging ecosystems across its different businesses to go beyond conventional reinsurance into new products, services, and even entirely new models for risk business. It is creating new collaborative business models where it partners with corporates to create new solutions with embedded insurance, or with other insurers, reinsurers and even governments to leverage shared knowledge, expertise, and capabilities – protecting more customers, in newer ways.

TCS is helping Swiss Re realise this ecosystem vision in its credit and surety reinsurance business by building a cloud-native, microservices-based end-to-end underwriting platform, including the front-end digital channels and a digital marketplace that offers instant quotes.

The new platform will leverage cloud-native capabilities to help Swiss Re transform its underwriting processes, using larger and richer datasets, deep analytics, and automation to significantly enhance the underwriting quality, speed, and throughput. This will enable Swiss Re to provide a superior customer experience, offer a broader range of products, and take on more business.

The platform is being architected so that it can be opened up to other insurers or reinsurers, giving them access to new attractive risk pools through Swiss Re's extensive network of banks and other lenders.

The partnership with TCS will equip Swiss Re with a platform to power future growth by expanding its underwriting capacity to take on new business, while creating an additional revenue stream from the ceded risk distributed to other reinsurers.

Our clients and partners are at the heart of Swiss Re's strategy, and together we make the world more resilient. We offer tech-enabled risk knowledge and data-driven insight to address inefficiencies in the market and support data-driven business decisions. TCS has been a collaborative technology partner in our drive for digital transformation. We are moving into a modern cloud-based landscape which will realise our vision, power our future growth, and solve business and global challenges.

How did you cope with supplyside challenges due to the Great Resignation this year? Is the worst behind us?

Milind: Yes, it has been a challenging year for employers all over the world. In our industry, it wasn't as much due to the Great Resignation, as a churn within the industry. Peers who had not anticipated the sharp demand recovery scrambled to fulfill it by poaching at scale from other companies. That triggered a cycle of hiring and counter-hiring of each other's employees, sending attrition rates shooting across the industry.

Our attrition went up as well. But our commitment to people, investing in them and empowering them to realize their potential, along with closer employee engagement, have helped us remain a benchmark in talent retention. We also expanded our hiring program, flexing the strength of our employer brand to attract experienced and fresh talent at scale. We undertook several other tactical measures to cope with the supply side challenges, including generous promotions, retention bonuses and increased use of sub-contractors.

More importantly, we addressed the structural problem of industry-wide talent scarcity by training and onboarding 118,000 fresh engineers in FY 2022. This massive infusion of fresh talent by us, as well as by others in the industry, should start easing the problem in FY 2023. There are some early signs of this. Our attrition is plateauing on a quarterly annualized basis. LTM attrition will likely rise further in the first half of FY 2023 and after that, it should start tapering.

Over the last 3 years, your net addition has significantly outstripped your revenue growth. Where is the disconnect?

Milind: There are two reasons. One, there was significant offshore shift during the pandemic due to greater acceptance of remote working, local talent scarcity, and the flow of work to where the talent resides. That was deflationary in nature. Second, we have been hiring additional numbers ahead of demand, in anticipation of continued growth momentum and to have a ready bench to back-fill attrition.

Despite the strong growth during the year, the operating margin stayed flat. How should we look at margins for the next year?

Samir: During the year, our annual salary increase and the tactical interventions that Milind referred to, resulted in a 330 bps margin headwind. Operating leverage, improved realizations and some currency support helped us mitigate to the extent of 270 bps, resulting in an industry-leading operating margin of 25.3%.

Looking ahead, I expect the supplyside headwinds to persist for most of the year. Additionally, as things normalize, travel and facilities expenses should also inch up. That will be mitigated by the full year benefit of large numbers of fresh engineers onboarded in FY 2022, leverage from continued revenue growth, improved realizations and hopefully, some currency support. Overall, we want to keep our margins stable in the medium term.

You used to guide to a 26-28% range? Is that no longer viable?

Samir: We don't provide revenue or margin guidance. However, 26-28% remains our longer term aspirational band for the operating margin. Setting aside short term headwinds, we don't see any change to our longer term cost structures or our relative competitiveness. Just five quarters ago, we were in that band, so there is no reason why we can't get there again.

We have kept our margins in the same tight band for over a decade now. During this period, we have outgrown our largest and far more acquisitive local and global peers, and delivered better margins..

You have had industry-leading margins for several years. Is that constraining your growth versus peers?

Samir: We don't think so. We truly believe that it is possible to pursue profitable growth without compromising on either. The data bears us out. We have kept our margins in the same tight band for over a decade now. During this period, we have outgrown our largest and far more acquisitive local and global peers, and delivered better margins..

The underlying premise of the question is that with similar costs, higher margins must mean higher prices versus competition, and therefore lower sales. The flaw lies in that assumption on costs. While raw costs may be similar, our cost of delivery is lower because of higher level of industrialization in our delivery model, better training and better employer practices, resulting in better retention. So we are able to compete very effectively, and are winning all time high order books without compromising on profitability.

Let me also explain briefly how we manage margins on the ground. We have devolved decision-making to managers on the frontlines, closest to customers and best positioned to assess the tradeoffs. We hold them accountable for growth as well as profitability, while giving them autonomy to shape the commercials of individual engagements. This has given us a class of empowered, entrepreneurial leaders who win deals going head-to-head with our most aggressive peers on prices, if need be, while making up for the impact elsewhere, and delivering the committed margin at a portfolio level.

Of course, we continue to invest heavily in building capabilities to pursue the large organic growth opportunity. We are also open to acquiring assets which add to our capabilities or IP assets, but the decision is based more on valuations and ease of integration.

Switching gears, only 13% of the senior management are women. What are you doing to increase diversity at senior levels?

Ritu: We recognize the need to have a more diverse workforce, and have been running a structured program to drive diversity and inclusion within the organization. For us, diversity is not just gender diversity. We take a broader and more inclusive view, including gender, nationality, education, ethnicity, orientation, accessibility and so on. By that measure, diversity in senior management is over 30%.

We currently have over 153 nationalities in our workforce. TCS is one of the largest employers of women in the world, with over 210,000 women in the workforce. This diversity is an aggregate outcome of deliberate efforts around hiring in every market, talent development, promotion and retention, and policies specifically designed to encourage talented individuals, regardless of demographic profile, to plan longer term careers in TCS.

Women make up 13% of our senior management. But that figure doesn't tell the full story. Within that cohort, women fulfill 30% of our business development and delivery management roles. That is the pool from which tomorrow's business heads and top leaders will emerge, so I find that extremely encouraging.

Also, that percentage translates into nearly 4,000 senior women executives, making ours one of the largest such teams in the world. Our policy of grooming and promoting leadership from within, personalized assessments, leadership development programs, promotions and the collective efforts of the entire leadership team have helped us grow the number of women in that cohort by 84% over the last five years.

With continued push and with new leadership positions opening up faster, and in larger numbers because of the high growth environment we are in, we are confident that we will make more progress over the next five years, than we did in the last five. But there are no shortcuts to this.

Why not? You could just announce a target to have 50% women in senior management and hire accordingly?

Ritu: Yes, we could. Hiring only women senior managers from outside for all new leadership roles would certainly give us an opportunity to trumpet our leadership in gender diversity. But I see this as unsustainable.

Women's overall participation in the labor force here is under 20%, perhaps 15% if you take the urban workforce. The percentage at senior management levels is much smaller, and the available hiring pool is a fraction of that. Given this lack of availability at an industry level, companies would simply end up hiring and re-hiring each others' senior executives, driving up industry-level executive churn.

Instead, the industry should address this at a systemic level, and collectively do more of what we are currently doing at TCS. Run school-level programs to encourage girls to pursue STEM education and careers, support mentoring programs, provide opportunities to women returning after career breaks, invest in leadership development and increase the number of women at all levels. That will expand the industry's female leadership pool and give everyone an opportunity to avail the benefits of diversity.

Milind: Also, parachuting external candidates into leadership positions just to achieve a diversity quota

One of the biggest contributors to our industry-leading talent retention is our long-standing policy of preferring internal candidates for new leadership positions. Hence our organic approach. This may take time to show on the outside, but it is fairer to our employees and more sustainable in the long run.

is demoralizing to existing employees, men and women, whose own growth aspirations get derailed. One of the biggest contributors to our industry-leading talent retention is our long-standing policy of preferring internal candidates for new leadership positions. Hence our organic approach. This may take time to show on the outside, but it is fairer to our employees and more sustainable in the long run.

As you look at doubling your revenue, what will TCS' workforce look like? Will you have a million employees?

Milind: We believe our workforce will be more diverse, demographically and geographically. With a larger business transformation component in our revenue mix, I expect that we will also have more diverse capabilities within the workforce – more researchers and innovators, more business consultants across industry verticals and technology horizontals, more product and IP owners, more solution architects, and more specialists in softer areas like empathetic design and organizational change management.

It is harder to predict how the headcount will grow. With a larger component of G&T revenues with higher realizations, IP-linked revenues and the mainstreaming of technologies like low code/no code which are less effort intensive, we should be able to double revenues without needing a million employees. But even if it comes to that, we are no longer intimidated by large numbers. Our model has proved its scalability, and we are confident we will continue to remain a benchmark in talent management.

Helping RS Components Deepen Customer Relationships and Drive Profitable Growth

RS Components, the world's largest distributor of electronics and maintenance products, is a trading brand of UK-based Electrocomponents plc. The company supplies industrial products, electronic and electrical components, test and measurement equipment, engineering tools and consumables via e-commerce, telephone and RS Local stores. It operates in 32 countries serving over 1.2 million customers with 500,000 stocked products from over 2,500 leading suppliers.

RS Components partnered with TCS to create a new business model that would enable new value-added services in industrial maintenance, foster closer relationships with customers, and drive further demand for its products. TCS used its Bringing Things to Life™ IoT framework, and its deep domain knowledge in digital manufacturing, remote diagnostics and predictive services to help build a new AWS IoT based reporting and condition monitoring system that has been branded RS Industria.

This scalable, secure new platform allows customers to connect their manufacturing assets quickly and easily, for real time monitoring that provides insights into the causes of production losses and component failure.

RS Components' first client for this solution, a food manufacturing site in the UK, has a number of high value assets such as industrial motors, production line equipment and a treatment plant connected to the platform. The real-time monitoring and insights generated by the system have helped cut fresh water consumption, and also reduce the effort and cost of managing the wastewater treatment.

The system is also being used to help reduce the site's energy consumption by monitoring usage at a production line level, highlighting specific areas of energy loss in the production process. In the near future, the customer is using the modularity of RS Industria to rapidly expand the system to enable condition monitoring of critical assets.

RS Components and TCS are now working together to replicate this success for other end-customers in other industry segments. Partnering with TCS for its growth and transformation has helped RS Components embrace a new business model that makes it a valued and trusted business partner to its customers, creates new revenue streams, boosts profitability and reinforces its position as an innovation pioneer in the industrial component ecosystem.

Partnering with TCS in launching RS Industria brought a number of strengths to us – their IIoT expertise, their knowledge around remote diagnostics and predictive services, their understanding of the Amazon Web platform and how to build really advanced solutions in that space and lastly their collaborative way of working. All of these helped us realize our vision around this new offering much faster.

Boosting Colruyt's Competitiveness with Algorithmic Pricing

Colruyt is a leading retailer in Europe with online shops and over 1,000 physical outlets across Belgium, Luxembourg and France. It has ten business formats and diversified business lines.

Colruyt's business success has been built on keeping costs down and investing resources in guaranteeing the lowest price for every product at any time. But this is no easy feat. Staying on top means monitoring competitors' online and in-store prices and promotions, and responding to changes with updated prices for those items, as well as for hierarchically linked items, across all stores and business formats.

Over time, Colruyt's pricing processes were finding it difficult to cope with the sheer volumes and complexity. Colruyt started the successful collaboration with TCS as the strategic partner to harness the power of automation and other digital technologies to transform its pricing platform.

Colruyt and TCS collaborated successfully to implement the Next-Gen Pricing Engine, an algorithmic, near real-time, intelligent system that automates the deployment of the pricing strategy across products, linked items, stores, channels and brands. To improve the instore price recording from competitor locations, a real time mobile app was launched to boost the productivity and accuracy. The system uses in-parallel memory processing for large volumes of data to generate price recommendations at near real time speed.

Very importantly, the engine caters to the varied pricing strategies relevant to Colruyt's different business lines – regular everyday low prices, high-low, promotions and markdown, enabling the competitive benefits to accrue across the enterprise.

Partnering with TCS for the innovative use of technology is helping Colruyt respond to competitors 24 x 7 with speed and agility, capturing over 100,000 competitor prices, and processing up to 50 million reaction prices per day. This has helped the retailer strengthen its competitive differentiation, live up to its brand promise and drive growth.

At Colruyt, we continuously focus on technology innovation to help our businesses respond quickly to changes in the market, and to grow. The Next-Gen Pricing Engine is one such innovative, mission-critical platform that we have built in partnership with TCS. Their deep retail industry knowledge, digital expertise and collaborative ways of working helped us accomplish our vision to harness the power of AI, automation and digital technologies to help elevate our brand and strengthen our competitive edge.

Transforming India's Lending Sector with a New Digital Platform

Non-Banking Financial Companies (NBFCs) are a key component of India's financial ecosystem, helping make credit and other financial services accessible to the small-scale and unorganized sectors, and to the large unbanked population. However, with low technology intensity and largely manual processes, these firms have struggled to meet consumer expectations around digital experience and speed of service on the one hand, and with regulatory compliance and lack of easy access to capital on the other hand. This has held back the sector's growth relative to the market's potential.

Recognizing that the industry's fragmented structure and common attributes lent itself to a cloud-based SaaS platform, TCS built a first-of-its-kind, cloud-based lending and securitization solution, bringing together the power of two of its highly successful products – TCS BaNCS™ and TCS iON™, and the DigiGOV™ governance framework, to completely digitize and reimagine the core processes for the sector.

The new platform is a collaborative, connected system that transforms the end-to-end lending and securitization value chain, offering secure and timely flow of data among stakeholders within the ecosystem. It leverages AI and ML to enhance end-customer and internal-stakeholder experience, and improve speed and accuracy in decision-making.

NBFCs subscribing to the platform benefit from enhanced customer experience, improved liquidity, more resilient and agile operations, and improved regulatory compliance across lending and securitization. Impressed with the rich functionality, flexibility and scalability of the solution, some of India's largest private sector banks are also adopting it for their personal lending business.

Aadhar Housing Finance Limited, a housing finance company with a pan-India presence implemented TCS' lending and securitization solution in FY 2022 and has been able to transform its operations, end to end.

At the back end, TCS' solution has helped strengthen controls, ease regulatory compliance, enhance data security and drive operational efficiency. On the front end, it has enabled easier and more efficient customer experience. The solution's robust lead management processes, with lead tracking and reporting have helped drive Aadhar's growth and expand its market presence.

Our partnership with TCS is helping us to realise our strategy of investing in technology enabled solutions to improve customer experience. We hope to reap the full benefit of this transformation to expand our market reach.

Management Discussion and Analysis

Overview of the Industry

The global economy recovered strongly in CY 2021 even as new variants of the COVID-19 virus fueled additional waves of the pandemic. Robust policy support in advanced economies, availability of vaccines and relaxation of pandemic restrictions helped economies bounce back, collectively expanding world output by an estimated 6.1%¹.

Global technology spending grew strongly in 2021 to $1.7 trillion². The primary drivers were accelerated investments in digital transformation and cloud adoption in response to changed consumer behaviors and the need for greater operational resilience. Additionally, there was increased outsourcing by enterprises looking to free up financial as well as human resources to execute their transformation programs. A severe talent scarcity added to the outsourcing imperative. IT services grew 6.2% YoY, crossing $899 billion while BPM grew nearly 5% to reach $211 billion.

The global IT services industry continues to be a highly fragmented one, with even the largest provider having a mid-single digit market share. TCS is among the largest IT services providers globally, with a market share of 2.3%, and has outperformed the market, growing significantly higher than market growth over the last decade.

This may be attributed to market share gains resulting from TCS' customer-centric strategy and organization structure, a very stable management team, focused investments in building superior capabilities, better execution resulting greater customer satisfaction, and steadily expanding participation in customers' growth and transformation spends.

TCS' Business

An Overview

TCS is an IT services, consulting and business solutions organization partnering many of the world's largest businesses in their transformational journeys for the last 54 years. It has a global presence, deep domain expertise in multiple industry verticals and a complete portfolio of offerings – grouped under consulting and service integration, application services, digital transformation services, cloud services, engineering services, cognitive business operations, and products and platforms – targeting every C-suite stakeholder.

The company leverages all these and its deep contextual knowledge of its customers' businesses to craft unique, high quality, high impact solutions designed to deliver differentiated business outcomes. These solutions are delivered using its Secure Borderless Workspaces™ (SBWS™) operating model which enables a highly distributed, Location Independent Agile™ delivery.

TCS geographic footprint covers North America, Latin America, the United Kingdom, Continental Europe, Asia-Pacific, India, and Middle-East and Africa.

TCS considers industry verticals as its primary go-to-market business segments. The key vertical clusters are: Banking, Financial Services and Insurance (BFSI), Retail and Consumer Business, Communications, Media and Technology (CMT), Manufacturing, Life Sciences and Healthcare and Others. The last category includes Energy, Resources and Utilities, Public Services and others.

Strategy for Sustainable Growth³

Customer-centricity is at the heart of TCS' strategy, organization structure and investment decisions. TCS' customer-centric worldview helps spot trends early, embrace business opportunities by making the right investments and mitigating risks while discharging its social and environmental responsibilities.

TCS has been broadening and deepening customer relationships by continually looking for new opportunities and newer areas in their businesses to add value, proactively investing in building newer capabilities, reskilling its workforce and launching newer services, solutions, products and platforms to address those opportunities.

In the last few years, the company has been using its investments in research and innovation, its intellectual property and deep contextual knowledge of the customer's business and technology landscape to proactively pitch ideas and solutions designed to improve the client's topline and help drive competitive differentiation.

These growth and transformation (G&T) engagements are higher value engagements catering to the needs of a broader set of stakeholders in the client organization, and is helping drive a steady increase in the scope and scale of services consumed year after year, and expand TCS' share of wallet, as evidenced by the client metrics.

At an aggregate level, this strategy has resulted in deep and enduring customer relationships, a vibrant and engaged workforce, industry-leading profitability, a steady expansion of the addressable market, and a proven track record in delivering longer term stakeholder value.

Enabling Investments

TCS pioneered⁴ the use of the word 'digital' to describe the new family of technologies that emerged in the last decade. Quick to recognize the potential of cloud, the company made investments ahead of time in launching new platform-based business models as far back as in 2009⁵, reskilling the workforce, research and innovation, building collaborative workspaces and innovation centers, intellectual property, and alliances and partnerships. Those early investments have given TCS a head start in participating in its customers' G&T journeys.

Over the last 3 years, TCS has been investing in a network of Pace Ports, co-innovation hubs in all its major markets, to provide a physical space for

TCS teams to engage with clients in ideation, rapid prototyping and agile development of innovative ideas. These hubs also house researchers and members of TCS' extended innovation ecosystem of start-ups and academia. Adding to the Pace Ports in Tokyo, New York, Pittsburgh and Toronto, the company inaugurated the Pace Port at Amsterdam in May 2021, and a Digital Garage in Sydney in February 2022.

TCS continued to invest in intellectual property, launching new variants within the ignio™ suite and building newer functionality and features in the TCS BaNCS™ suite, the Algo Retail suite, the TCS ADD suite, HOBS, TwinX, MasterCraft and Jile. Across each of the industry verticals, the relevant business units launched new service offerings and solutions, catering to the evolving needs of the market – such as the ESG Integration solution suite on all three hyperscaler platforms covering EU taxonomy, Sustainable IT, Green Mortgage, Carbon Bank and Cal-C (Carbon Calculator).

The company launched Cyber Defense Suite – a comprehensive suite of modular, quickly adoptable cyber security services on a single platform – to provide enterprises with a unified 360-degree visibility and predictive intelligence to proactively defend and respond against evolving risks.

TCS' dedicated practice units around AWS, Microsoft Azure and Google Cloud Platform, launched in FY 2021, offer customers the full range of transformational and operational services on the respective hyperscaler stacks, spanning advisory services, migration, application and data modernization, including SaaS and enterprise productivity suites, infrastructure, cyber-security and edge.

These units have been steadily investing in training, certifications, credentials and in building solutions and intellectual property on their respective hyperscaler stacks. In FY 2022, TCS added TCS Omnistore, TCS MasterCraft, 5G Edge Suite, TwinX and its suite of sustainability solutions – namely TCS Clever Energy, TCS IP2 and TCS Envirozone – to the list of its software products and solutions available on the various hyperscaler platforms. TCS also launched Google Cloud Garages for co-innovation leveraging analytics and AI on the cloud, at its Pace Ports in Amsterdam, New York and Tokyo.

New Organization Structure

TCS rolled out a new, industry-first organization structure at the end of FY 2022 that further enhances the company's customer centricity. The new model recognizes that customers' needs vary and evolve over time as they progress in their relationship journey with TCS, and enables the delivery of a curated experience best suited for each customer's current stage in that journey. It does this by adding a fourth dimension – i.e. customer relationship stage – to the existing three dimensions of TCS' organization structure: geography, industry vertical and service line.

Customer acquisition will continue to be done by local sales teams in the various markets. Existing customers in major markets will continue to be serviced by the same client partners, but the governance layer on top has been realigned. Instead of being governed as vertical-wise business groups, customers have now been segmented by relationship stage, and vested with three business groups:

- Relationship Incubation Group to manage new relationships which require a higher level of hand holding and a differentiated, high touch delivery;
- Enterprise Growth Group to manage relationships which are in the high growth phase;
- Business Transformation Group to manage large and mature relationships.

The company's primary reporting segments will continue to be industry verticals and geographic markets. Existing verticalized governance structures, the Industry Solution Units (ISUs) and sub-ISUs, will see their portfolios realigned and rationalized under these three business groups. Customers in emerging markets will continue to be serviced by local country-based organizations.

The sharper customer focus enabled by the new structure and the resultant curated customer experiences are expected to enhance customer intimacy, facilitate cross-selling and up-selling, expand share of wallet and prepare the company for the journey ahead.

Enterprise Risk Management

While the world and businesses are recovering from the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic of the last two years, new external and internal risks continue to challenge businesses in every possible way amplifying existing risks. Not only are the nature of risks evolving, but the speed of risk is increasing with faster time to impact. Geo-political situations like the Russia Ukraine war have further forced global businesses to revisit their operations, delivery, supply chains and contractual aspects. Operating in an uncertain and ever-changing environment, TCS' global operations bring in considerable complexities and TCS' robust enterprise risk management framework aids in ensuring the strategic objectives are achieved. This framework enables risk identification, risk assessment, risk response planning and actions, risk monitoring and overall risk governance. Key Risk Indicators are used to identify and assess risks. The digital platform for integrated risk management provides an enterprise-wide view of risks covering strategic, operational, compliance, financial and catastrophic risks, providing a holistic approach towards informed decision making. Risks are assessed and managed at various levels with a top-down and bottom-up approach covering the enterprise, the business units, the geographies, the functions, the customer relationships and projects.

TCS management assessed the effectiveness of the company's internal control over financial reporting (as defined in Regulation 17 of SEBI LODR Regulations 2015) as of March 31, 2022.

B S R & Co. LLP, the statutory auditors of TCS have audited the financial statements included in this annual report and have issued an attestation report on the company's internal control over financial reporting (as defined in section 143 of Companies Act 2013).

TCS has appointed Ernst & Young LLP to oversee and carry out internal audit of its activities. The audit is based on an internal audit plan, which is reviewed each year in consultation with the statutory auditors and approved by the audit committee. In line with international practice, the conduct of internal audit is oriented towards the review of internal controls and risks in the company's operations such as software delivery, accounting and finance, procurement, employee engagement, travel, insurance, IT processes, including most of the subsidiaries and foreign branches.

TCS also undergoes periodic audit by specialized third party consultants and professionals for business specific compliances such as quality management, service management, information security, etc. The audit committee reviews reports submitted by the management and audit reports submitted by internal auditors and statutory auditors. Suggestions for improvement are considered and the audit committee follows up on corrective action. The audit committee also meets TCS' statutory auditors to ascertain, inter alia, their views on the adequacy of internal control systems and keeps the board of directors informed of its major observations periodically.

Based on its evaluation (as defined in section 177 of Companies Act 2013 and Regulation 18 of SEBI LODR Regulations 2015), TCS' audit committee has concluded that, as of March 31, 2022, the company's internal financial controls were adequate and operating effectively.

Corporate Social Responsibility

Overview

TCS' vision is to empower people and communities to build self-reliance through technology while promoting the values of fairness, equity and respect for human rights. Its mission is to connect people to opportunities in the digital economy while building equitable, inclusive pathways for all – especially women, youth, and marginalized groups.

TCS has been a signatory to the UN Global Compact (UNGC) since 2006 and is aligned with its ten principles. The Company supports the principles contained in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, the ILO Declaration on Fundamental Principles and Rights at Work, and the United Nations Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights. These principles guide TCS' community initiatives.

The company continues to invest in addressing the most pressing needs of the community, focusing on education, skilling, employability, and digital entrepreneurship with a focus on bridging the opportunity gap for people and communities. It invests in health and wellness, water sanitation and hygiene, conservation, and disaster relief efforts to support the basic needs of communities.

Through its unique engagement model, TCS leverages its intellectual capability, technology expertise, large employee base volunteering their time and skills and of course financial capacity to invest in programs that deliver longer term social impact across the globe.

Its programs are holistic and comprehensive, and designed to be flexible and adaptable, meeting the specific needs of communities and regions around the world. To build capacity of grassroots organizations working in local communities, TCS also invests in strategic partnerships, research, and insights by providing pro-bono technology consulting. This model of engagement allows TCS to empower communities, create generational improvements and build greater futures.

In FY 2022, TCS estimates that its global community initiatives reached more than 1.7 million beneficiaries, made possible by over 58,900 employees contributing over 700,000 hours of their volunteering time to support local community initiatives.

Mapping of TCS' CSR Programs with SDG Goals

Adult Literacy Program - Creating access to literacy on a path to livelihoods

Despite years of investments, illiteracy continues to be a core impediment stopping individuals from realizing their potential. TCS' Adult Literacy Program, through its digital literacy solution has been addressing this over the past 2 decades in India and West Africa. Women have been a key target group, with the program offering them a path to financial independence and an opportunity to be role models for their children, especially girls, in their families. Till date, over 1.08 million learners, over 80% of them women, have benefited from this program. The program runs in over 162 districts across 20 states and union territories across India, and also in Burkina Faso, West Africa.

TCS has further expanded the scope of this program in response to India's new National Education Policy, which emphasizes the need for digital literacy, financial, legal, and electoral literacy, disaster management and environmental literacy in addition to functional literacy, to empower communities. New modules on the platform include financial literacy skills (8-10 hours), digital literacy skills (5-7 hours), citizen entitlement awareness (3-4 hours) and disaster risk reduction awareness (8-10 hours).

In FY 2022, over 7,400 learners gained basic literacy skills.

The impact of this program has been transformational and transgenerational. It is promoting social inclusion, financial stability and economic growth, empowering neo-literates with better access to the financial system, government benefit programs and a greater say in family and community decision-making.

Program outcomes include:

- 81% of the learners have encouraged their own children especially girls to go to school.
- 75% learners expressed that their self-esteem has increased because of this program.
- 67% learners feel that they have started participating more in the decision-making process in their family.

Ignite My Future (IMF) - empowering educators and creating skills of the future

As technology change accelerates, the workforce of tomorrow requires new age skills and capabilities to be productive. Computational thinking is one such futuristic skill that not only provides learners with a problem-solving mindset, but also enables access to high skilled jobs, enabling communities to benefit from the adoption of new technologies. However, there has been limited integration of this skill within classrooms across the globe. Educators that play a key role in creating access are themselves

'Sampa' stands out for her perseverance and dedication, and for showing that self-will and determination triumphs against all odds. When she first approached one of TCS' partner organizations working with individuals with developmental disabilities, she was in her mid-twenties, illiterate and suffering from disorganized thoughts, preoccupation, aggressive behavior and a shattered sense of self.

Introduced to TCS's digital literacy solution ALP, she gradually started taking interest in learning, drawn by the colourful and attractive content. She was seen observing the letters and numbers on her own, and slowly started comprehending them. She took everyone by surprise when the National Institute of Open Schooling results were announced, and she got an A grade.

It took 5 long years to bring her back to a life of self-dignity. Sampa now works in a café run by the partner organization, and is able to handle the finances of the café business and contribute meaningfully.

not empowered to embed this within the learning curriculum.

TCS' IMF, implemented in North America, UK, India, Latin America and APAC, has created global access for educators and students to hone this skill set. Equity and inclusion are integrated in the program design, to specifically enable access for underserved students from marginalized communities.

Scenario-based lesson plans, teacher training and resources, immersive and interactive engagements for families as well as a year-round network of support for educators through the Learning Leaders Program ensures that the program addresses the critical needs of every stakeholder in the learning journey - creating long-term integration of a highly valued skill set. To meet virtual and hybrid learning demands, all aspects of the program were restructured for online delivery, remaining inclusive of communities with varying digital access and tools.

IMF launched its largest Global Innovations Teacher Project to-date with 24 teachers from 5 countries reaching over 500 students. Over 100 TCS employee volunteers supported the 6-week project.

In FY 2022, the program empowered nearly 435,000 students and educators.

Program outcomes include:

- 81% educators were ready to use resources in their classroom post-training.
- 90% educators reported they have returned to in-person instruction.

- $10K+ average savings to each district and educator from free training.

goIT (go Innovate Together) – Digital Innovation Program for Students

The jobs of tomorrow are changing rapidly. Economies around the world are dealing with the disparity between the needs of employers and the skills that youth possess. According to the National Science Foundation, it is predicted that 80% of the jobs created in the next decade will require some form of math and science skills. The lack of sufficient numbers of students pursuing these streams, and insufficient focus on innovation, problem-solving and creativity in school curricula, are seen as big challenges to the digital economy.

Anne LeBlanc is a middle school teacher at Halifax Regional in Nova Scotia, Canada. Anne uses Ignite My Future resources to make computational thinking come to life for her students, in all core subjects. She and her students have participated in two IMF Global Collaborations through which she has had the opportunity to collaborate with teachers from around the world.

Through this project, that relies on students' using computational thinking to solve a global problem, Anne has found that her classroom gets bigger and the world gets smaller for her students. This project has also been beneficial to one of her French speaking students as he is able to translate his videos and other students' videos allowing collaboration to happen even across language barriers.

"My students have found that through connecting with other students outside of their community they are more alike, than they are different." Anne supports and collaborates with like-minded educators through IMF global network of Learning Leaders.

TCS' flagship digital innovation and career readiness program, goIT (go Innovate Together), prepares students with the skills and mindsets to pursue careers of the future. Through engaging design workshops and custom mentorship experiences, goIT benefits students by challenging stereotypes and inspiring future leaders to pursue the careers of tomorrow, most of which will involve STEM and the computer sciences.

goIT uses a four-pronged model of (1) volunteer driven engagements, in-person or virtually, (2) seamless year-round connects via goIT Online, (3) SDG-focused monthly challenges and (4) Custom mentorship experiences designed to introduce student local experts and opportunities. Each prong, layered with partnerships with school districts and mentoring by industry professionals from TCS, makes goIT a unique program that helps students develop core skills that enable them to be productive in the jobs of tomorrow.

After over a decade of success and a footprint of 40 countries, goIT has now benefited over 100,000 students who have designed more than 26,000 tech-for-good digital innovation prototypes.

In FY 2022, more than 30,000 students and educators benefited from this program.

Program outcomes include:

- 87% students felt they could be computer scientists after their goIT experience.

Four learners from Sinenjongo High School in Cape Town, celebrated their win in the goIT Tech-savvy Challenge, hosted by TCS in partnership with Steam education specialist Sakhikamva Foundation.

The event saw more than 455 participants from nine high schools across the Western and Eastern Cape battle it out with their ideas for a winning app that could change their local communities. Eventually, learners from Sinenjongo High and Goodwood College took the top three positions.

The founder of Sakhikamva Foundation, Fatima Jakoet said the foundation was impressed by all the participants of the competition but inspired by learners from Cape Town who worked hard to win the tech challenge.

“What we have seen in this year’s South African goIT Challenge is young people expressing their ability to be problem-solvers who can contribute to a better world,” said Jakoet.

Speaking about her team’s app idea, WO-MEN, Sinenjongo High School learner Lilitha Masizana said: “We are so happy and excited to have won, and as a team we stand by what our app was designed to do – to promote gender equality and the acceptance of gender diversity, which includes a conversation platform to highlight the impacts of gender inequality.”

- 96% students reported that they gained positive insights from their TCS volunteer mentor.
- 80% showed an increased interest in STEM and Computer Science.
- 88% students demonstrated an understanding of how technology can be used to improve their community.

Youth Employment Program - connecting India's rural youth to careers in digital economy

TCS' Youth Employment Program (YEP) focuses on one of the biggest challenges in India, which is unemployment, underemployment, and lack of access to high paying jobs among youth. It is estimated that 7 million people are annually added to the workforce, but the education and skills profile of the existing workforce is very poor - especially in rural and semi-urban locations. The pandemic has created an even bigger need to integrate digital and technology related skills within the learning experience to ensure that youth can avail of the jobs that are available in the market.

YEP connects India's youth to careers in the digital economy through the development of competencies in numerical ability, logical reasoning, communication, programming and domain skills. The program also provides career guidance and interview skills to help youth navigate through opportunities available in the market. Over the last two years, the program has gone virtual. The program has:

- Enhanced employability of rural underprivileged youth from socially, economically and geographically disadvantaged communities.
- Provided youth, especially those from historically marginalized and low-income families, with industry-specific experiential learning that improves exposure to the kind of skills and competencies required to make them a highly viable industry resource.

- Ensured continuous availability of highly skilled and cross-functional talent pool for the industry.
- Increased diversity and gender parity within the workforce while creating inclusion and access for marginalized groups across the country.
- Promoted sustained and inclusive economic growth, full and productive employment and decent work.

In FY 2022, more than 19,700 students were trained in India and LATAM, of whom more than 7,400 students gained employment in sectors such as IT and ITeS, Retail, Banking and others. Today, the program runs in 35 States & Union territories across India.

Biki Minj is a young woman who had never seen her father's face. She was brought up by her widowed mother, a tea garden labourer in Darjeeling and a worker in the children's hostel.

Biki began picking up English at the age of two, when she and her mother moved into the children's hostel. At Biki's own school, only the local language was used during instruction.

Biki had dreams of attending college after she graduated from high school, but the family could not afford it. Instead, she took up a hospitality management course and joined an airline as ground staff in Kolkata. Unfortunately, the airline went out of business, forcing Biki to look for other work. She ended up in a small town in the Uttar Dinajpur district of West Bengal teaching English in a school for four years.

During that period, she continued her BA studies in IGNOU through distance learning and became a Graduate in English. On a trip to Siliguri, Biki learned about TCS' Youth Employment Program that was about to be launched in the city. She enrolled herself for the training and travelled 30 km every day from her grandmother's house to reach the training centre. Biki worked tirelessly, learning as much as she could during the program and earning recognition from her instructors. Her efforts paid off when she was offered a full-time position at TCS during a recruitment drive in Siliguri.

Since she joined TCS, Biki has been able to experience a freedom she never thought possible. Earning a regular salary allowed her to begin saving money to build a house for herself and her mother, a house that will one day be testimony to a life of independence and self-respect.

Program outcomes include:

- 4X enhancement in income for individuals from marginalized communities in comparison to elementary occupations.
- 80% indicated that better jobs led to a change of role as earning member.
- 74% indicated an enhancement of status in the family and community.

Entrepreneurship and Self-Employment

India has 30% youth unemployment (15-29 years) compared to a 15% global average, and 325 million Indians are from historically disadvantaged and marginalized communities. Lack of proper technology infrastructure, knowledge and resources in villages have prevented communities from accessing opportunities presented by the digital economy.

Since 2014, the TCS' BridgelIT program has addressed social inequalities by empowering marginalized youth to become rural entrepreneurs and civic leaders in their villages. Partnering with local NGOs, TCS engages the cohort through a 5-year period, offering them skills, mentoring, technology, tools and resources. These digital entrepreneurs become serve as the last-mile-connect for people in the villages, delivering essential digital services in the areas of education, adult literacy, unemployment, social discrimination. This facilitates a 'bridging' of access and opportunities between youth in rural, underserved areas and those in urban towns. Through this strategic approach, the program has:

- Upskilled young men and women from marginalized communities to be successful digital entrepreneurs.

Twenty-seven-year-old entrepreneur Bapi Raita is a member of the Saura tribe which has some of the most severe problems with obtaining adequate nutrition in India. Starvation deaths are common among the Saura. Despite earning a diploma in Civil Engineering, Bapi was forced to do odd jobs to make ends meet for his family.

Bapi married, moving to Bangalore with his wife and working in a garment factory for nearly a year. When his wife fell ill, Bapi was had no choice but to return to his village to help manage her care. Still needing to earn money to support his family, Bapi learned about BridgelIT from a local NGO in Odisha and registered for the training. Over the course of the program, Bapi learned how to do business in the digital space with the training and mentoring provided by the BridgelIT facilitators, an opportunity which would have never been possible.

On completion of BridgelIT, and with equipment donated by TCS, Bapi was able to start his own online business. As his business began growing, so did his earnings. Bapi is now earning nearly ₹ 1.30 lakhs from just ₹ 4,000 before completing BridgelIT.

Bapi also wears BridgelIT Cluster Lead's hat for the area where he operates in. With this comes the responsibility to mentor seven other digital entrepreneurs from nearby villages. He gets a great sense of fulfilment when he carries out his role as a Leader.

Bapi proudly says, "BridgelIT has changed my life and has brought hope of a good future for me and my family. It has brought brightness to our lives and our community."

- Empowered them with digital technologies – facilitating a platform for essential online services within rural areas.
- Enabled them to educate students in Government schools and support literacy for adults through digital tools and resources.

Currently running in 30 districts across India, TCS' vision is to expand this program to all of India's aspirational districts. In FY 2022, BridgeIT has enabled 321 entrepreneurs across 20 districts in 9 States.

Program outcomes include:

- 1.5X earnings compared to other self-employed individuals in rural areas.
- 95% indicated increased income and improved standard of living.
- 92% women indicated higher self-esteem at home.

Digital Impact Square (DISQ), a TCS Foundation Initiative, is an open social innovation platform designed to enhance the lives of citizens. The platform encourages innovation using digital technologies, to address the needs of citizens by inviting individuals or teams who want to bring in a change and create an impact in society through digital innovations.

DISQ has nurtured over 55 changemakers from around 590 innovators since 2016.

The program has received high appreciation from stakeholders in the government and social organization such as Social Alpha, Tata Trusts and Unltd India. There has been immense interest from various parts of the country in replicating the DISQ model. DISQ collaborated partners to identify potential opportunities for students.

Ekatvam Innovations Program outcomes the 'Most Promising Solution' globally by a panel of water experts from Ramboll, Grundfos and the International Water Association in a global competition. They were awarded scholarships to participate in the International Water Congress 2022 in Copenhagen.

Overall, the program has supported 12 solutions in reaching self-sufficiency.

Thought Leadership, Research and Insights

Digital Empowers

Digital Empowers, TCS' global thought leadership program in CSR, explores the intersection of technology and social impact, spotlighting the crucial role technology plays in finding solutions for intractable social issues. The purpose of the program is to raise awareness of digital technologies and social issues, explore the art of what's possible, and foster cross sector partnerships.

The program focuses on convening experts from technology, business, non-profit, public policy, and academia to ideate, collaborate, and create digitally driven solutions to social impact challenges. Since the inception of the program in 2018, Digital Empowers has engaged with over 6,000 experts across India, South Africa, the UK, and Mexico to expand collective knowledge and collaborate to come up with new solutions to the most pressing community issues, with the potential to scale and be applicable throughout the world.

TCS runs the Pitch for Purpose, a competition for start-up social entrepreneurs, to showcase mission-driven founders across the world whose fledgling businesses are solving issues by deploying emerging technology and cutting-edge innovation. The competition grew in 2021, with over 200 entrepreneurs applying, and eight finalists pitching to a live panel of expert judges. Elliot Roth, Founder of Spira Inc., won the first-place prize with his innovative solution that creates carbon negative materials from genetically engineered algae.

In August 2021, Digital Empowers, in partnership with the U.S. Chamber of Commerce Foundation, published a culminating report, Technology as a Catalyst for Empowering Communities. With nine different topics examined, the report captured the unique insights, best practices, and key learnings from dozens of experts across sectors and industries that are actively driving social change using digital tools and technologies.

Health and Wellness

Healthy communities can drive better economic development and a feeling of wellbeing. TCS recognizes the importance of health and wellness, and promotes it among its employees as well as in local communities across the world. Its CSR initiatives seek to create new, systemic solutions that address society's biggest health challenges.

TCS has provided an integrated Hospital Management System and IT infrastructure, which includes a comprehensive and fully integrated, web-based solution, to The Cancer Institute (CI), Chennai and Tata Medical Center (TMC), Kolkata. As a result of laboratory equipment integration, a larger number of patients have benefited, with the solution providing 100% coverage of patients via virtual engagements, including those that did not show up or were not reachable. Patient care services implemented this year improved patient satisfaction and reduced anxiety.

A 15-bed COVID-19 care facility was setup and made operational at the Cancer Institute during the second COVID wave to facilitate care for COVID-affected patients. Patient Care Coordinators (PCCs) at TMC Kolkata continued to support patients by managing virtual-consultation processes, pediatric OPD appointments, patient crowd management and new patient management. Patients Investigation Reports were made available on the TMC website for online viewing directly by patients, without the need for physically visiting the hospital to collect reports.

Water Sanitation and Hygiene

Jal Jeevan Mission, a project by the Ministry of Jal Shakti, Government of India, has been supported by the Tata Group, with TCS providing key expertise in applying a 'Bridgital model' for monitoring rural water service delivery as well as enhanced stakeholder engagement via digitally enabled workflows.

To address several issues in rural water supply, TCS created an IoT-based smart water management solution for remote monitoring and control. This innovative solution is end-to-end, from source to tap, feature rich, uses advanced analytics and has high fidelity with over 99.9% uptime and accuracy. It can work in poor cellular network coverage areas (particularly in remote and rural villages) and is powered by solar power, best suited for off-grid environments.

This solution has so far helped provide regular, adequate, and clean drinking water to nearly 75,000 beneficiaries across 14 villages spread across 8 states and union territories in India.

It has helped identify distribution issues – such as outages, leakages or low pressure, and led to timely resolutions. It recently alerted both officials and the local community of fast depleting groundwater levels, that led the villagers to build a source strengthening structure to recharge their borewell.

With TCS' IoT-based smart water management solutions, communities are able to:

- Ensure equitable and adequate water quantity, quality and periodicity.
- Reduce water borne diseases through water quality monitoring.
- Improve lives of rural households, especially women and girls.

Pro-Bono Technology Support to Social Organisations

As part of TCS' pro-bono technology support interventions or Tech4Good Programme, TCS continues to help community-based organizations and non-profits seeking to create social and environmental impact across the globe. TCS has been leveraging its abundant technology and Intellectual capital to create exponential impact across the globe by delivering pro-bono digital services to social organizations. The company's engagement strategy utilizes its contextual knowledge and the knowledge from a diverse network of experts to develop innovative solutions to unique problems within the community.

- The Resume Builder, an application created by TCS' Social Innovation Lab in close collaboration with TCS Research and Innovation group, helps participants of the Youth Employment Program generate standardized resumes, setting them up for success in the job market. The application has been piloted with over 3,000 YEP participants and slated to be expand further in the future.
- In Australia, TCS provided pro bono technology empowerment to Meals on Wheels NSW, Food Ladder, Charitable Recycling Australia, The Indigenous Marathon Foundation and Briometrix so they could continue to support people who depended on their services even during in the pandemic.

"Since TCS helped us develop the calculator, we have been able to reach greater audiences both through our website and networks and also through our members," said Omer Soker, CEO, Charitable Recycling Australia.

- In Italy during the peak of the pandemic, TCS supported San Martino, a social enterprise focused in helping non-nationals living in Italy start their careers to create a fair ground for employment. TCS designed, developed and implemented a digital solution so they can continue to help people from all backgrounds across Italy kickstart their careers.

"Thanks to the great support of TCS experts, San Martino was able to design and implement a Career Guidance section on their website specifically designed for international students," explained Mario Porcelli, Managing Director for San Martino Servizi.

- In North America, TCS continues to build pro-bono digital solutions for organizations like The Council for Responsible Sport, International Medical Corps and so on. The Council for Responsible Sport helps sporting organizers assess the Environmental, Social, and Governance impact of events and has been helping organizers of i.e., the Bank of America Chicago Marathon to track their resource usage and impact for years.
- TCS' 2,000-hour pro bono commitment to the 'Re-Score project' helped envision the Council's drive to create a digital solution, leveraging cloud-based technology that would serve as a first-of-its-kind in the field. Re-Score makes credible guidance and performance tracking accessible to all organizations that host sporting events.
- For International Medical Corps, a global, non-profit, humanitarian aid organization spread across 30 countries in Africa, Asia and Middle East with a focus on providing health services support, clean water and hygiene education, women's and children's health and emergency response and preparedness, TCS helped reimagine their vendor prequalification system and digitized the processes for improved efficiency and operational resilience.

Employee Engagement

TCS' skill-based CSR initiatives offer volunteering opportunities to employees, helping them give back to the communities, imbuing them with a higher sense of purpose. Our people-centric investments go beyond the boundaries of our organization, into communities across the world, where we support initiatives to bridge the digital divide, and address some of the most pressing issues in countries where we live and work.

TCS' Employee Volunteer Program (EVP) offers opportunities to employees for contributing their time and effort towards societal well-being, while sensitizing them to the issues that are plaguing the world. Volunteering fosters a sense of fraternity, bringing employees together and engaging them in ways beyond work.

During the devastating second wave of COVID-19 in India, EVP team has worked with various internal TCS teams such as Safety First, Cares to create the content for several community support initiatives. The content was then used to create awareness Praveen Kumar a TD faculty from MBU, started volunteering for goIT program with training workshops for around 400 students from a nearby school in Kanchipuram. During sessions on problem-solving and design thinking, he interacted with students and was amused by how they related to the concepts in their own unique ways. He says seeing students view the process of learning as a game transported him back to his school days. He also believes that being around students can help one forget about their sorrows, anxieties, and stresses, hence boosting one's energy and spreading positivity. His journey continues to shape many more subsequent generation's students, preparing them for 21st-century skills. He has also been an active faculty member for weekly YEP workshops, conducted several business communication sessions for YEP colleges in Tamil Nadu. He urges other volunteers to deliver the courses with enthusiasm, provide examples and share real-world references to enable students to relate to concepts and apply their learnings in everyday activities.

Chai Eng Law an HR Specialist has been an active YEP volunteer for over six years. Once her session was scheduled over a weekend, yet the students seemed incredibly happy to be at the college. As she watched their faces filled with enthusiasm, she knew volunteering for this program would be worth her time and effort, which later turned out to be 100% true. She says, "I strongly believe that in learning, you will teach, and in teaching, you will learn. YEP, gives me the opportunity to practice this belief of mine." Her weekends would pass by in a blink of an eye, and the benefits from this program far outweighed the inconveniences she faced. She felt overwhelmed when she saw her students gradually overcome their hesitation to converse in English and eventually became more confident in spoken English. She recalls, one day as she was about to enter the lift in her office building, she spotted a young associate stepping out of the lift. Her joy knew no bounds when she recognized this person as a YEP trainee who had appeared at a mock interview conducted by her.

on the importance of vaccination to curb vaccine hesitancy, facilitating mental health awareness sessions for beneficiaries of the CSR initiatives and the community at large. EVP team has owned and managed this entire process by liaising with internal CSR teams and external TCS functions.

More than 58,900 TCS associates volunteered nearly 700,000 hours towards various programs in FY 2022 aligned to Sustainable Development Goals 3, 4, 5, 8, 10, and 13.

Program outcomes include:

- Through Pro Engage, TCSers from 13 countries and 8 regions supported 204 pro bono projects, contributing 14,000+ hours to NGOs in India, NA, and LATAM.
- IMF kicked off a Global Teacher Collaboration with 29 teachers from 5 countries, engaging 100+ volunteers from NA and LATAM over 6 weeks.
- Celebrated the 7th annual Sadhana Month, through which over 16,000+ volunteers from India, NA, and LATAM donated 215,000 hours of service in their local communities.
- Leaders with Purpose, a civic leadership program designed to nurture and prepare TCS leaders with the skill to lead societal change, which was successfully running in North America for the last 3 years, was launched in India, UK&I and LATAM. The program harnesses the leadership, communication, and project management skills needed to create a sustained commitment to social impact within our industry and communities.

Empowering Communities in the Fight Against COVID 19

| 7. Statement by director responsible for the business responsibility report, highlighting ESG related challenges, targets and achievements (listed entity has flexibility regarding the placement of this disclosure)³¹ TCS has set forth its new carbon reduction goal to reduce its absolute greenhouse gas emissions across Scope 1 and Scope 2 by 70% by 2025 (over 2016 base year), and to achieve net zero emissions by 2030. The new goal is after having achieved the previous target of reducing its specific carbon footprint by half by 2020 (versus baseline year FY 2008), ahead of schedule. N G Subramaniam, COO & Executive Director, TCS³²: "Our net zero goal underlines our renewed commitment to environmental stewardship. To curb emissions and limit global warming to well below 2, preferably to 1.5 degrees Celsius, compared to pre-industrial levels, all organizations will have to reimagine existing business models and aim for sustainable growth. We are in a unique position to combine our purpose-driven world view with digital innovation to not only drive our own sustainability, but also partner with customers, civil society and governments to lead and shape solutions for a sustainable future," At the core of TCS' strategy to reduce its carbon footprint is improved energy efficiency through the addition of more green buildings to the company's real estate portfolio, reduction of IT system power usage, and the use of TCS Clever Energy™, which leverages IoT, machine learning and AI to optimize energy consumption across campuses. TCS' Vision 25x25 is a strategic lever that delinks TCS' business growth from campus expansion, and brings down emissions related to employee commutes and business travel. Other elements of the company's net zero aspiration include greater use of renewable sources of energy and carbon removal offsets. Environmental targets and achievements are part of Natural Capital section, which is on Page 31 of Integrated Annual Report. |

TCS uses multiple energy sources in its daily operations, electricity being the primary source. Majority of the electricity comes from conventional sources, but TCS has increased the share of renewable electricity (RE) over the years through onsite rooftop solar generation, third party procurement and purchase of Energy Attribute Certificate (EAC) (in select geographies). Other sources of energy include natural gas (mainly used for space heating/cooling), district heating and cooling, fuel used in company owned vehicles, cooking gas used in cafeteria and diesel used in diesel generators (mainly used as a back-up source for power shortages). The RE consumption as a % of total electricity consumption has increased from 15.6% in FY 2021 to 37.2% in FY 2022. The electricity used across India operations reduced by 6.5% Y-o-Y. For global operations, there is an increase in total electricity use by 2.7% Y-o-Y due to the increased reporting boundary in FY 2022 covering operations in North America (NA), Asia Pacific (APAC), Europe and Middle East.

5. Please provide details of air emissions (other than GHG emissions) by the entity, in the following format:

TCS being a service sector company does not have significant air emissions other than those arising from operation of DG sets during power outages.

TCS's operations in India have necessary consent under the Air (Prevention & Control of Pollution) Act (1981), for operation of DG set and ensures compliance to the conditions which includes stack emission parameters like nitrous oxide, non-methane hydrocarbons, carbon monoxide, particulate matter, etc. Stack emission monitoring is conducted as per the frequency required under the Consent To Operate (CTO) the DG.

The DG stack emissions are sampled and analyzed by government approved laboratories and the reports are reviewed by the internal team to ensure compliance to the CTO conditions. These stack emission reports are submitted to government authorities (State Pollution Control Boards) as per consent conditions. These reports are also verified during internal and external audits to check compliance.

6. Provide details of greenhouse gas emissions (Scope 1 and Scope 2 emissions) & its intensity, in the following format⁷³:

The Scope 1 emissions are from direct GHG sources like fuel used in company owned vehicles, diesel generators and cafeteria, fugitive emissions from refrigerants and fuel used for space heating. These amount to about 10.6%

⁷³ GRI 305-1; GRI 305-2, GRI 305-4. Scope 1 emissions have been calculated using the emissions factors published by the DEFRA conversion factors 2021. For Scope 2 emissions – for India, the source is the emissions factor in the CO2 Baseline Database for the Indian Power Sector, User Guide, Version 16.0, March 2021, published by the Central Electricity Authority of India. For Australia, Canada, Europe, North America, New Zealand, Hong Kong and UK emission factors specific to the region published by local authorities are used. ⁷⁴ TCS has not calculated the emission intensity per full time employee (FTE) during the pandemic years as the employees working out of offices was very less.

7. Does the entity have any project related to reducing Green House Gas emission? If Yes, then provide details⁷⁵.

Yes. TCS has taken up the target to reduce its absolute Scope 1 and Scope 2 carbon footprint by 70% by 2025 and become net zero by 2030. To achieve these targets, the green-house gas management approach has four key levers – green infrastructure, green IT, IT-enabled operational efficiencies, and renewable energy. These energy efficiency initiatives have resulted in avoidance of GHG emissions of approximately 3,200 tCO2e in FY 2022.

Green Infrastructure and IT enabled operational efficiency:

All new campuses owned by TCS are designed according to green building standards for energy and resource efficiency. They have roof top solar photovoltaic installations to reduce the carbon footprint. Currently, 34 TCS offices spanning across over 28.2 million sq. ft of office area, are certified green buildings by Indian Green Building Council (IGBC). These make up over 64.4% of TCS' total real estate portfolio in India.

In FY 2022, projects were taken up to improve the energy efficiency in existing buildings as well through retrofits. Cooling systems were upgrade to efficient energy star rated appliances. UPS resizing and consolidation. Modular UPS were adopted where feasible. Other auxiliaries like pumps, cooling towers, etc. were also replaced. TCS' resource optimization center continues to help monitor the energy use on real time basis to optimize it further by leveraging AI and ML.

Green IT:

Green IT initiatives include a) IT Energy optimization in Data center and Equipment rooms and b) IT energy optimization in the delivery centers. Data center and Equipment room efficiency projects included replacement of over

⁷⁵ GRI 305-5

Renewable Energy

The company continued to augment the roof top solar photo voltaic installations this year as well taking the total installed capacity to 10.2 MWp contributing to 3.76 percent of total electricity use in the reporting year. Solar roof top installations at Adibatla Hyderabad (2,154 kWp) and TCS Center Kochi (207 kWp) was completed within the reporting year. The company increased the renewable energy procurement through third party PPA for solar energy at TCS Siruseri office and switch over to green tariff for its operations in the states of Karnataka and Maharashtra. This resulted in an increase in the renewable energy use to 37.2% of the company's total energy use in FY 2022. TCS is committed to improve the RE mix in its energy portfolio further in the coming years.

Carbon Neutrality:

The company has become carbon neutral across Scope 1 and Scope 2 carbon footprint for its operations in Asia Pacific (APAC)⁷⁶, Europe and North America (NA) for FY 2022 in line with PAS 2060:2014 standards assured by Bureau Veritas India Limited.

9. Briefly describe the waste management practices adopted in your establishments. Describe the strategy adopted by your company to reduce usage of hazardous and toxic chemicals in your products and processes and the practices adopted to manage such wastes⁸⁰.

TCS being an IT services and consulting organization, does not manufacture physical products and therefore does not use any hazardous or toxic chemicals in any of its processes. The company has offices and facility operations, and the waste is generated from the auxiliary processes used to run these facilities. Based on the nature of services, TCS' facilities mostly generate electronic, electrical, and municipal solid waste, and generate very less hazardous waste and do not use toxic chemicals. Potentially hazardous and regulated wastes such as lead-acid batteries and waste lube oil are generated in relatively smaller proportions which are disposed through government approved recyclers as per regulations. E-waste is disposed to government approved e-waste recyclers.

TCS is committed to sustain the best practices that have already been institutionalized like segregation of all recyclable wastes, 100% compliance to management practices for regulated wastes like hazardous and e-waste and 100% recycling on printer and toner cartridges, paper and packaging wastes. TCS also ensures 100% disposal of biomedical waste (BMW) through govt authorized BMW disposal agencies in India as per regulatory requirements. The company targets to maximize the recycling and reuse of all waste categories to divert waste from landfill.

5. Does the entity have a framework/ policy on cyber security and risks related to data privacy? (Yes/No) If available, provide a web-link of the policy¹⁰⁰.

Yes.

From data privacy aspects, TCS' commitment to privacy is espoused in its TCS Global Privacy Policy. This is accessible at <https://www.tcs.com/privacy-policy-commitment>.

TCS has defined and implemented a Global Privacy policy that is applicable to all its legal entities, branches, lines of businesses and functions. The global privacy policy is a "gold standard of privacy" addressing applicable privacy regulations and based on inputs from industry bodies dealing with privacy.

¹⁰⁰ GRI 2-23

The Global Privacy policy covers all stakeholders across the value chain including – employees (full-time and contracted), customers, partners, vendors/suppliers, and any other stakeholder whose Personal Data is processed. All third parties (vendors/suppliers) are engaged / contracted with adequate due diligence, and commitment towards privacy obligations.

From a cyber security aspect, TCS has implemented cutting edge security tools to protect itself from external as well as internal threats.

TCS has moved to a proactive early detection approach. Any approach to protect an organization from threats, needs to focus on all the risks and learnings from various attacks, understanding the modus operandi of the attacker and ensure that adequate processes and latest in technology are implemented to protect and provide proactive detection capabilities. TCS has implemented a comprehensive threat intelligence framework to proactively identify external threats as they unfold globally, be it a ransomware propagation, a nation state actor group, attackers for purely monetary gain etc. The threat intelligence framework includes gathering intel on external threats by means of commercial, government, open source and vendor security feeds, threat hunting in dark web, analyse new attack patterns and constantly monitoring the publication of vulnerabilities or various tools and software in use in the organization. The threat intel information is processed in TCS' AI/ML based correlation tools and automated scripts ensure that the indicators of compromise from the threat feeds are automatically blocked on the perimeter devices.

TCS has also rearchitected its network and has implemented tools in tandem to work in a defence in depth model to provide a holistic protection against threat vectors/actors. The defence in depth model has a strong multi-layered perimeter setup consisting of Next Gen Firewalls, Intrusion Prevention Systems, DDoS attack protection for critical resources, Web Application Firewalls, Advanced malware protection and other email gateway security controls. TCS network design is compartmentalized for every customer and critical resources to ensure that the services provided to each customer remains isolated. This network design ensures that if there is an impact at one customer end, say a ransomware attack on a customer network, the segregated network along with the company's incident response process ensures that there is no impact to other network segments.

In addition to the perimeter defences, TCS has implemented technical controls and processes within the network to protect the information resources. Tools based on machine learning that can detect and prevent known and unknown ransomware, malware and active intruder attempts to exploit like lateral movement, privilege escalation or credential dumping in addition to many other malicious actions. AI/ML tools that can detect behaviour anomalies of users. Tools that can correlate audit logs from various sources. Alerts from these tools are monitored 24x7x365 by the TCS Cyber Security Operations Center.

TCS has also implanted a strong vulnerability management program which includes proactively identifying vulnerabilities in its network and systems by conducting periodic vulnerability assessments, penetration tests and red team exercises.

Other Information

The Holding Company's management and Board of Directors are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Holding Company's Annual Report, but does not include the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon. The Holding Company's annual report is expected to be made available to us after the date of this auditor's report

Our opinion on the consolidated financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the consolidated financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information identified above when it becomes available and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the consolidated financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

When we read the Holding Company's annual report, if we conclude that there is a material misstatement therein, we are required to communicate the matter to those charged with governance and take necessary actions, as applicable under the relevant laws and regulations.

Management's and Board of Directors' Responsibilities for the Consolidated Financial Statements

The Holding Company's Management and Board of Directors are responsible for the preparation and presentation of these consolidated financial statements in terms of the requirements of the Act that give a true and fair view of the consolidated state of affairs, consolidated profit/ loss and other comprehensive income, consolidated statement of changes in equity and consolidated cash flows of the Group in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, including the Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS) specified under Section 133 of the Act. The respective Management and Board of Directors of the Companies included in the Group are responsible for maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding the assets of each Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; the selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the consolidated financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, which have been used for the purpose of preparation of the consolidated financial statements by the Management and Board of Directors of the Holding Company, as aforesaid.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, the respective Management and Board of Directors of the companies included in the Group are responsible for assessing the ability of each Company to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the respective Board of Directors either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The respective Board of Directors of the Companies included in the Group are responsible for overseeing the financial reporting process of each Company.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors' report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under Section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on the internal financial controls with reference to the consolidated financial statements and the operating effectiveness of such controls.

- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by Management and Board of Directors.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of Management and Board of Directors use of the going concern basis of accounting in preparation of consolidated financial statements and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the appropriateness of this assumption. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.

- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of entities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audit of financial information of such entities included in the consolidated financial statements. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with those charged with governance of the Holding Company and such other Companies included in the consolidated financial statements of which we are the independent auditors regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditors' report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

(Referred to in paragraph A(f) under 'Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements' section of our report of even date)

Opinion

In conjunction with our audit of the consolidated financial statements of Tata Consultancy Services Limited (hereinafter referred to as "the Holding Company") as of and for the year ended 31 March 2022, we have audited the internal financial controls with reference to the consolidated financial statements of the Holding Company and such companies incorporated in India under the Companies Act, 2013 which are its subsidiary companies, as of that date.

In our opinion, the Holding Company and such companies incorporated in India which are its subsidiary companies, have, in all material respects, adequate internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements and such internal financial controls were operating effectively as at 31 March 2022, based on the internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements criteria established by such companies considering the essential components of such internal controls stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (the "Guidance Note").

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The respective Company's management and the Board of Directors are responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements based on the criteria established by the respective Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note. These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to the respective company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013 (hereinafter referred to as "the Act").

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note and the Standards on Auditing, prescribed under section 143(10) of the Act, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements were established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of the internal controls based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls with reference to Consolidated Financial Statements

A company's internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of consolidated financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of consolidated financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the consolidated financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls with reference to Consolidated Financial Statements

financial statements, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

1) Corporate information

Tata Consultancy Services Limited (“the Company”) and its subsidiaries (collectively together with employee welfare trusts referred to as “the Group”) provide IT services, consulting and business solutions and have been partnering with many of the world’s largest businesses in their transformation journeys. The Group offers a consulting-led, cognitive powered, integrated portfolio of IT, business and engineering services and solutions. This is delivered through its unique Location-Independent Agile delivery model recognised as a benchmark of excellence in software development.

The Company is a public limited company incorporated and domiciled in India. The address of its corporate office is TCS House, Raveline Street, Fort, Mumbai - 400001. As at March 31, 2022, Tata Sons Private Limited, the holding company owned 72.27% of the Company’s equity share capital.

The Board of Directors approved the consolidated financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2022 and authorised for issue on April 11, 2022.

2) Statement of compliance

These consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the Indian Accounting Standards (referred to as “Ind AS”) prescribed under section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 read with the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules as amended from time to time.

3) Basis of preparation

These consolidated financial statements have been prepared on historical cost basis except for certain financial instruments and defined benefit plans which are measured at fair value or amortised cost at the end of each reporting period. Historical cost is generally based on the fair value of the consideration given in exchange for goods and services. Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. All assets and liabilities have been classified as current and non-current as per the Group’s normal operating cycle. Based on the nature of services rendered to customers and time elapsed between deployment of resources and the realisation in cash and cash equivalents of the consideration for such services rendered, the Group has considered an operating cycle of 12 months.

The statement of cash flows have been prepared under indirect method, whereby profit or loss is adjusted for the effects of transactions of a non-cash nature, any deferrals or accruals of past or future operating cash receipts or payments and items of income or expense associated with investing or financing cash flows. The cash flows from operating, investing and financing activities of the Group are segregated. The Group considers all highly liquid investments that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value to be cash equivalents.

The functional currency of the Company and its Indian subsidiaries is the Indian Rupee (₹). The functional currency of foreign subsidiaries is the currency of the primary economic environment in which the entity operates. Foreign currency transactions are recorded at exchange rates prevailing on the date of the transaction. Foreign currency denominated monetary assets and liabilities are retranslated at the exchange rate prevailing on the balance sheet dates and exchange gains and losses arising on settlement and restatement are recognised in the statement of profit and loss. Non-monetary assets and liabilities that are measured in terms of historical cost in foreign currencies are not retranslated.

The significant accounting policies used in preparation of the consolidated financial statements have been discussed in the respective notes.

4) Basis of consolidation

The Company consolidates all entities which are controlled by it.

The Company establishes control when; it has power over the entity, is exposed, or has rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the entity and has the ability to affect the entity's returns by using its power over relevant activities of the entity.

Entities controlled by the Company are consolidated from the date control commences until the date control ceases.

The results of subsidiaries acquired, or sold, during the year are consolidated from the effective date of acquisition and up to the effective date of disposal, as appropriate.

The financial statements of the Group companies are consolidated on a line-by-line basis and all inter-company transactions, balances, income and expenses are eliminated in full on consolidation.

Changes in the Company's interests in subsidiaries that do not result in a loss of control are accounted for as equity transactions. The carrying amount of the Company's interests and the non-controlling interests are adjusted to reflect the changes in their relative interests in the subsidiaries. Any difference between the amount by which the non-controlling interests are adjusted and the fair value of the consideration paid or received is recognised directly in equity and attributed to shareholders of the Company.

Assets and liabilities of entities with functional currency other than the functional currency of the Company have been translated using exchange rates prevailing on the balance sheet date. Statement of profit and loss of such entities has been translated using weighted average exchange rates. Translation adjustments have been reported as foreign currency translation reserve in the statement of changes in equity. When a foreign operation is disposed off in its entirety or partially such that control, significant influence or joint control is lost, the cumulative amount of exchange differences related to that foreign operation recognised in OCI is reclassified to statement of profit and loss as part of the gain or loss on disposal.

5) Use of estimates and judgements

The preparation of consolidated financial statements in conformity with the recognition and measurement principles of Ind AS requires management to make estimates and judgements that affect the reported balances of assets and liabilities, disclosures of contingent liabilities as at the date of consolidated financial statements and the reported amounts of income and expenses for the periods presented.

Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimates are revised and future periods are affected.

The Group uses the following critical accounting estimates in preparation of its consolidated financial statements:

(a) Revenue recognition

Revenue for fixed-price contracts is recognised using percentage-of-completion method. The Group uses judgement to estimate the future cost-to-completion of the contracts which is used to determine degree of completion of the performance obligation.

(b) Useful lives of property, plant and equipment

The Group reviews the useful life of property, plant and equipment at the end of each reporting period. This reassessment may result in change in depreciation expense in future periods.

(c) Impairment of goodwill

The Group estimates the value-in-use of the cash generating units (CGUs) based on the future cash flows after considering current economic conditions and trends, estimated future operating results and growth rate and anticipated future economic and regulatory conditions. The estimated cash flows are developed using internal forecasts. The discount rates used for the CGUs represent the weighted average cost of capital based on the historical market returns of comparable companies.

(d) Fair value measurement of financial instruments

When the fair value of financial assets and financial liabilities recorded in the balance sheet cannot be measured based on quoted prices in active markets, their fair value is measured using valuation techniques including the Discounted Cash Flow model. The inputs to these models are taken from observable markets where possible, but where this is not feasible, a degree of judgement is required in establishing fair values. Judgements include considerations of inputs such as liquidity risk, credit risk and volatility. Changes in assumptions about these factors could affect the reported fair value of financial instruments.

(e) Provision for income tax and deferred tax assets

The Group uses estimates and judgements based on the relevant rulings in the areas of allocation of revenue, costs, allowances and disallowances which is exercised while determining the provision for income tax. A deferred tax asset is recognised to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences and tax losses can be utilised. Accordingly, the Group exercises its judgement to reassess the carrying amount of deferred tax assets at the end of each reporting period.

(f) Provisions and contingent liabilities

The Group estimates the provisions that have present obligations as a result of past events and it is probable that outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligations. These provisions are reviewed at the end of each reporting period and are adjusted to reflect the current best estimates.

The Group uses significant judgements to assess contingent liabilities. Contingent liabilities are recognised when there is a possible obligation arising from past events, the existence of which will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within the control of the Group or a present obligation that arises from past events where it is either not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation or a reliable estimate of the amount cannot be made. Contingent assets are neither recognised nor disclosed in the consolidated financial statements.

(g) Employee benefits

The accounting of employee benefit plans in the nature of defined benefit requires the Group to use assumptions. These assumptions have been explained under employee benefits note.

(h) Leases

The Group evaluates if an arrangement qualifies to be a lease as per the requirements of Ind AS 116. Identification of a lease requires significant judgement. The Group uses significant judgement in assessing the lease term (including anticipated renewals) and the applicable discount rate.

The Group determines the lease term as the non-cancellable period of a lease, together with both periods covered by an option to extend the lease if the Group is reasonably certain to exercise that option; and periods covered by an option to terminate the lease if the Group is reasonably certain not to exercise that option. In assessing whether the Group is reasonably certain to exercise an option to extend a lease, or not to exercise an option to terminate a lease, it considers all relevant facts and circumstances that create an economic incentive for the Group to exercise the option to extend the lease, or not to exercise the option to terminate the lease. The Group revises the lease term if there is a change in the non-cancellable period of a lease.

The discount rate is generally based on the incremental borrowing rate specific to the lease being evaluated or for a portfolio of leases with similar characteristics.

(i) Impact of COVID-19 (pandemic)

The Group has taken into account all the possible impacts of COVID-19 in preparation of these consolidated financial statements, including but not limited to its assessment of, liquidity and going concern assumption, recoverable values of its financial and non-financial assets, impact on revenue recognition owing to changes in cost budgets of fixed price contracts, impact on leases and impact on effectiveness of its hedges. The Group has carried out this assessment based on available internal and external sources of information upto the date of approval of these consolidated financial statements and believes that the impact of COVID-19 is not material to these consolidated financial statements and expects to recover the carrying amount of its assets. The impact of COVID-19 on the consolidated financial statements may differ from that estimated as at the date of approval of these consolidated financial statements owing to the nature and duration of COVID-19.

6) Recent pronouncements

Ministry of Corporate Affairs (“MCA”) notifies new standard or amendments to the existing standards under Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules as issued from time to time. On March 23, 2022, MCA amended the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Amendment Rules, 2022, applicable from April 1, 2022, as below:

Ind AS 103 – Reference to Conceptual Framework

The amendments specify that to qualify for recognition as part of applying the acquisition method, the identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed must meet the definitions of assets and liabilities in the Conceptual Framework for Financial Reporting under Indian Accounting Standards (Conceptual Framework) issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India at the acquisition date. These changes do not significantly change the requirements of Ind AS 103. The Group does not expect the amendment to have any significant impact in its financial statements.

Ind AS 16 – Proceeds before intended use

The amendments mainly prohibit an entity from deducting from the cost of property, plant and equipment amounts received from selling items produced while the company is preparing the asset for its intended use. Instead, an entity will recognise such sales proceeds and related cost in profit or loss. The Group does not expect the amendments to have any impact in its recognition of its property, plant and equipment in its financial statements.

Ind AS 37 – Onerous Contracts – Costs of Fulfilling a Contract

The amendments specify that the ‘cost of fulfilling’ a contract comprises the ‘costs that relate directly to the contract’. Costs that relate directly to a contract can either be incremental costs of fulfilling that contract (examples would be direct labour, materials) or an allocation of other costs that relate directly to fulfilling contracts. The amendment is essentially a clarification and the Group does not expect the amendment to have any significant impact in its financial statements.

Ind AS 109 – Annual Improvements to Ind AS (2021)

The amendment clarifies which fees an entity includes when it applies the '10 percent' test of Ind AS 109 in assessing whether to derecognise a financial liability. The Group does not expect the amendment to have any significant impact in its financial statements.

Ind AS 116 – Annual Improvements to Ind AS (2021)

The amendments remove the illustration of the reimbursement of leasehold improvements by the lessor in order to resolve any potential confusion regarding the treatment of lease incentives that might arise because of how lease incentives were described in that illustration. The Group does not expect the amendment to have any significant impact in its financial statements.

7) Business combinations

The Group accounts for its business combinations under acquisition method of accounting. Acquisition related costs are recognised in the consolidated statement of profit and loss as incurred. The acquiree's identifiable assets, liabilities and contingent liabilities that meet the condition for recognition are recognised at their fair values at the acquisition date.

Purchase consideration paid in excess of the fair value of net assets acquired is recognised as goodwill. Where the fair value of identifiable assets and liabilities exceed the cost of acquisition, after reassessing the fair values of the net assets and contingent liabilities, the excess is recognised as capital reserve.

The interest of non-controlling shareholders is initially measured either at fair value or at the non-controlling interests' proportionate share of the acquiree's identifiable net assets. The choice of measurement basis is made on an acquisition-by-acquisition basis. Subsequent to acquisition, the carrying amount of non-controlling interests is the amount of those interests at initial recognition plus the non-controlling interests' share of subsequent changes in equity of subsidiaries.

Business combinations arising from transfers of interests in entities that are under common control are accounted at historical cost. The difference between any consideration given and the aggregate historical carrying amounts of assets and liabilities of the acquired entity is recorded in shareholders' equity.

8) Financial assets, financial liabilities and equity instruments

Financial assets and liabilities are recognised when the Group becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument. Financial assets and liabilities are initially measured at fair value. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of financial assets and financial liabilities (other than financial assets and financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss) are added to or deducted from the fair value measured on initial recognition of financial asset or financial liability.

The Group derecognises a financial asset only when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the asset expire, or when it transfers the financial asset and substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the asset to another entity. The Group derecognises financial liabilities when, and only when, the Group's obligations are discharged, cancelled or have expired.

Cash and cash equivalents

The Group considers all highly liquid investments, which are readily convertible into known amounts of cash that are subject to an insignificant risk of change in value to be cash equivalents. Cash and cash equivalents consist of balances with banks which are unrestricted for withdrawal and usage.

Financial assets at amortised cost

Financial assets are subsequently measured at amortised cost if these financial assets are held within a business whose objective is to hold these assets in order to collect contractual cash flows and the contractual terms of the financial assets give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income

Financial assets are measured at fair value through other comprehensive income if these financial assets are held within a business whose objective is achieved by both collecting contractual cash flows on specified dates that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding and selling financial assets.

The Group has made an irrevocable election to present subsequent changes in the fair value of equity investments not held for trading in other comprehensive income.

Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss

Financial assets are measured at fair value through profit or loss unless they are measured at amortised cost or at fair value through other comprehensive income on initial recognition. The transaction costs directly attributable to the acquisition of financial assets and liabilities at fair value through profit or loss are immediately recognised in statement of profit and loss.

Financial liabilities

Financial liabilities are measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

Equity instruments

An equity instrument is a contract that evidences residual interest in the assets of the company after deducting all of its liabilities. Equity instruments issued by the Group are recognised at the proceeds received net of direct issue cost.

Derivative accounting

- Instruments in hedging relationship

The Group designates certain foreign exchange forward, currency options and futures contracts as hedge instruments in respect of foreign exchange risks. These hedges are accounted for as cash flow hedges.

The Group uses hedging instruments that are governed by the policies of the Company and its subsidiaries which are approved by their respective Board of Directors. The policies provide written principles on the use of such financial derivatives consistent with the risk management strategy of the Company and its subsidiaries.

The hedge instruments are designated and documented as hedges at the inception of the contract. The Group determines the existence of an economic relationship between the hedging instrument and hedged item based on the currency, amount and timing of their respective cash flows. The effectiveness of hedge instruments to reduce the risk associated with the exposure being hedged is assessed and measured at inception and on an ongoing basis. If the hedged future cash flows are no longer expected to occur, then the amounts that have been accumulated in other equity are immediately reclassified in net foreign exchange gains in the statement of profit and loss.

The effective portion of change in the fair value of the designated hedging instrument is recognised in the other comprehensive income and accumulated under the heading cash flow hedging reserve.

The Group separates the intrinsic value and time value of an option and designates as hedging instruments only the change in intrinsic value of the option. The change in fair value of the intrinsic value and time value of an option is recognised in the other comprehensive income and accounted as a separate component of equity. Such amounts are reclassified into the statement of profit and loss when the related hedged items affect profit and loss.

Hedge accounting is discontinued when the hedging instrument expires or is sold, terminated or no longer qualifies for hedge accounting. Any gain or loss recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated in equity till that time remains and is recognised in statement of profit and loss when the forecasted transaction ultimately affects profit and loss. Any gain or loss is recognised immediately in the statement of profit and loss when the hedge becomes ineffective.

- Instruments not in hedging relationship

The Group enters into contracts that are effective as hedges from an economic perspective, but they do not qualify for hedge accounting. The change in the fair value of such instrument is recognised in the statement of profit and loss.

- Impairment of financial assets (other than at fair value)

The Group assesses at each date of balance sheet whether a financial asset or a group of financial assets is impaired. Ind AS 109 requires expected credit losses to be measured through a loss allowance. The Group recognises lifetime expected losses for all contract assets and / or all trade receivables that do not constitute a financing transaction. In determining the allowances for doubtful trade receivables, the Group has used a practical expedient by computing the expected credit loss allowance for trade receivables based on a provision matrix. The provision matrix takes into account historical credit loss experience and is adjusted for forward looking information. The expected credit loss allowance is based on the ageing of the receivables that are due and allowance rates used in the provision matrix. For all other financial assets, expected credit losses are measured at an amount equal to the 12-months expected credit losses or at an amount equal to the life time expected credit losses if the credit risk on the financial asset has increased significantly since initial recognition.

(j) Fair value hierarchy

The fair value hierarchy is based on inputs to valuation techniques that are used to measure fair value that are either observable or unobservable and consists of the following three levels:

- Level 1 - Inputs are quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.
- Level 2 - Inputs are other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e. as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices).
- Level 3 - Inputs are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs). Fair values are determined in whole or in part using a valuation model based on assumptions that are neither supported by prices from observable current market transactions in the same instrument nor are they based on available market data.

The cost of unquoted investments included in Level 3 of fair value hierarchy approximate their fair value because there is a wide range of possible fair value measurements and the cost represents estimate of fair value within that range.

The following table summarises financial assets and liabilities measured at fair value on a recurring basis and financial assets that are not measured at fair value on a recurring basis (but fair value disclosures are required):

(k) Derivative financial instruments and hedging activity

The Group's revenue is denominated in various foreign currencies. Given the nature of the business, a large portion of the costs are denominated in Indian Rupee. This exposes the Group to currency fluctuations.

The Board of Directors has constituted a Risk Management Committee (RMC) to frame, implement and monitor the risk management plan of the Group which inter-alia covers risks arising out of exposure to foreign currency fluctuations. Under the guidance and framework provided by the RMC, the Group uses various derivative instruments such as foreign exchange forward, currency options and futures contracts in which the counter party is generally a bank.

The following are outstanding currency options contracts, which have been designated as cash flow hedges:

(I) Financial risk management

The Group is exposed primarily to fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates, credit, liquidity and interest rate risks, which may adversely impact the fair value of its financial instruments. The Group has a risk management policy which covers risks associated with the financial assets and liabilities. The risk management policy is approved by the Board of Directors. The focus of the risk management committee is to assess the unpredictability of the financial environment and to mitigate potential adverse effects on the financial performance of the Group.

Market risk

Market risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices. Such changes in the values of financial instruments may result from changes in the foreign currency exchange rates, interest rates, credit, liquidity and other market changes. The Group's exposure to market risk is primarily on account of foreign currency exchange rate risk.

- Foreign currency exchange rate risk

The fluctuation in foreign currency exchange rates may have potential impact on the consolidated statement of profit and loss and other comprehensive income and equity, where any transaction references more than one currency or where assets / liabilities are denominated in a currency other than the functional currency of the respective entities. Considering the countries and economic environment in which the Group operates, its operations are subject to risks arising from fluctuations in exchange rates in those countries.

The Group, as per its risk management policy, uses derivative instruments primarily to hedge foreign exchange. Further, any movement in the functional currencies of the various operations of the Group against major foreign currencies may impact the Group's revenue in international business.

The Group evaluates the impact of foreign exchange rate fluctuations by assessing its exposure to exchange rate risks. It hedges a part of these risks by using derivative financial instruments in line with its risk management policies.

The foreign exchange rate sensitivity is calculated by aggregation of the net foreign exchange rate exposure and a simultaneous parallel foreign exchange rates shift of all the currencies by 10% against the respective functional currencies of Tata Consultancy Services Limited and its subsidiaries.

The following analysis has been worked out based on the net exposures for each of the subsidiaries and Tata Consultancy Services Limited as of the date of balance sheet which could affect the statement of profit and loss and other comprehensive income and equity. Further the exposure as indicated below is mitigated by some of the derivative contracts entered into by the Group as disclosed in note 8(k).

The following table sets forth information relating to unhedged foreign currency exposure as at March 31, 2022:

|---------------------------|-----------|-------|---------|--------|
| | USD | EUR | GBP | Others |
| Net financial assets | 2,900 | 165 | 84 | 1,234 |
| Net financial liabilities | (8,589) | (437) | (1,290) | (421) |

10% appreciation / depreciation of the respective functional currency of Tata Consultancy Services Limited and its subsidiaries with respect to various foreign currencies would result in increase / decrease in the Group's profit before taxes by approximately ₹635 crore for the year ended March 31, 2022.

The following table sets forth information relating to unhedged foreign currency exposure as at March 31, 2021:

|---------------------------|-----------|-------|-------|--------|
| | USD | EUR | GBP | Others |
| Net financial assets | 3,194 | 155 | 101 | 1,129 |
| Net financial liabilities | (41) | (573) | (354) | (411) |

10% appreciation / depreciation of the respective functional currency of Tata Consultancy Services Limited and its subsidiaries with respect to various foreign currencies would result in increase / decrease in the Group's profit before taxes by approximately ₹320 crore for the year ended March 31, 2021.

- Interest rate risk

The Group's investments are primarily in fixed rate interest bearing investments. Hence, the Group is not significantly exposed to interest rate risk.

- Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk of financial loss arising from counterparty failure to repay or service debt according to the contractual terms or obligations. Credit risk encompasses of both, the direct risk of default and the risk of deterioration of creditworthiness as well as concentration of risks. Credit risk is controlled by analysing credit limits and creditworthiness of customers on a continuous basis to whom the credit has been granted after obtaining necessary approvals for credit.

Financial instruments that are subject to concentrations of credit risk principally consist of trade receivables, loans, investments, derivative financial instruments, cash and cash equivalents, bank deposits and other financial assets. Inter-corporate deposits of ₹6,377 crore are with a financial institution having a high credit-rating assigned by credit-rating agencies. Bank deposits include an amount of ₹6,727 crore held with four Indian banks having high credit rating which are individually in excess of 10% or more of the Group's total bank deposits as at March 31, 2022. None of the other financial instruments of the Group result in material concentration of credit risk.

• Exposure to credit risk

The carrying amount of financial assets and contract assets represents the maximum credit exposure. The maximum exposure to credit risk was ₹1,05,498 crore and ₹94,201 crore as at March 31, 2022 and 2021, respectively, being the total of the carrying amount of balances with banks, bank deposits, investments, trade receivables, loan, contract assets and other financial assets.

The Group's exposure to customers is diversified and no single customer contributes to more than 10% of outstanding trade receivables and contract assets as at March 31, 2022 and 2021.

• Geographic concentration of credit risk

Geographic concentration of trade receivables (gross and net of allowances) and contract assets is as follows:

| | As at March 31, 2022 | | As at March 31, 2021 | |
|--------------------------|----------------------|-------|----------------------|-------|
| | Gross% | Net% | Gross% | Net% |

| United Kingdom | 16.47 | 16.86 | 16.37 | 16.75 |

Geographical concentration of trade receivables and contract assets is allocated based on the location of the customers.

The allowance for lifetime expected credit loss on trade receivables for the years ended March 31, 2022 and 2021, was ₹123 crore and ₹190 crore respectively. The reconciliation of allowance for doubtful trade receivables is as follows:

| | (₹ crore) | |
|---|------------------------------|------------------------------|
| Balance at the beginning of the year | 1,289 | 1,137 |

9) Leases

A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration.

Group as a lessee

The Group accounts for each lease component within the contract as a lease separately from non-lease components of the contract and allocates the consideration in the contract to each lease component on the basis of the relative standalone price of the lease component and the aggregate standalone price of the non-lease components.

The Group recognises right-of-use asset representing its right to use the underlying asset for the lease term at the lease commencement date. The cost of the right-of-use asset measured at inception shall comprise of the amount of the initial measurement of the lease liability adjusted for any lease payments made at or before the commencement date less any lease incentives received, plus any initial direct costs incurred and an estimate of costs to be incurred by the lessee in dismantling and removing the underlying asset or restoring the underlying asset or site on which it is located. The right-of-use asset is subsequently measured at cost less any accumulated depreciation, accumulated impairment losses, if any and adjusted for any remeasurement of the lease liability. The right-of-use asset is depreciated using the straight-line method from the commencement date over the shorter of lease term or useful life of right-of-use asset. The estimated useful lives of right-of-use assets are determined on the same basis as those of property, plant and equipment. Right-of-use assets are tested for impairment whenever there is any indication that their carrying amounts may not be recoverable. Impairment loss, if any, is recognised in the statement of profit and loss.

The Group measures the lease liability at the present value of the lease payments that are not paid at the commencement date of the lease. The lease payments are discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease, if that rate can be readily determined. If that rate cannot be readily determined, the Group uses incremental borrowing rate. For leases with reasonably similar characteristics, the Group, on a lease-by-lease basis, may adopt either the incremental borrowing rate specific to the lease or the incremental borrowing rate for the portfolio as a whole. The lease payments shall include fixed payments, variable lease payments, residual value guarantees, exercise price of a purchase option where the Group is reasonably certain to exercise that option and payments of penalties for terminating the lease, if the lease term reflects the lessee exercising an option to terminate the lease. The lease liability is subsequently remeasured by increasing the carrying amount to reflect interest on the lease liability, reducing the carrying amount to reflect the lease payments made and remeasuring the carrying amount to reflect any reassessment or lease modifications or to reflect revised in-substance fixed lease payments. The Group recognises the amount of the re-measurement of lease liability due to modification as an adjustment to the right-of-use asset and statement of profit and loss depending upon the nature of modification. Where the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset is reduced to zero and there is a further reduction in the measurement of the lease liability, the Group recognises any remaining amount of the re-measurement in statement of profit and loss.

The Group has elected not to apply the requirements of Ind AS 116 Leases to short-term leases of all assets that have a lease term of 12 months or less and leases for which the underlying asset is of low value. The lease payments associated with these leases are recognised as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

Group as a lessor

At the inception of the lease the Group classifies each of its leases as either an operating lease or a finance lease. The Group recognises lease payments received under operating leases as income on a straight-line basis over the lease term. In case of a finance lease, finance income is recognised over the lease term based on a pattern reflecting a constant periodic rate of return on the lessor's net investment in the lease. When the Group is an intermediate lessor it accounts for its interests in the head lease and the sub-lease separately. It assesses the lease classification of a sub-lease with reference to the right-of-use asset arising from the head lease, not with reference to the underlying asset. If a head lease is a short-term lease to which the Group applies the exemption described above, then it classifies the sub-lease as an operating lease.

If an arrangement contains lease and non-lease components, the Group applies Ind AS 115 Revenue from contracts with customers to allocate the consideration in the contract.

The details of the right-of-use assets held by the Group is as follows:

The Group incurred ₹277 crore and ₹352 crore for the years ended March 31, 2022 and 2021, respectively, towards expenses relating to short-term leases and leases of low-value assets.

The total cash outflow for leases is ₹2,228 crore and ₹2,312 crore for the years ended March 31, 2022 and 2021, respectively, including cash outflow for short term and low value leases.

The Group has lease term extension options that are not reflected in the measurement of lease liabilities. The present value of future cash outflows for such extension periods is ₹773 crore and ₹708 crore as at March 31, 2022 and 2021, respectively.

Lease contracts entered by the Group majorly pertains for buildings taken on lease to conduct its business in the ordinary course. The Group does not have any lease restrictions and commitment towards variable rent as per the contract.

10) Non-financial assets and non-financial liabilities

(a) Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment are stated at cost comprising of purchase price and any initial directly attributable cost of bringing the asset to its working condition for its intended use, less accumulated depreciation (other than freehold land) and impairment loss, if any.

Depreciation is provided for property, plant and equipment on a straight-line basis so as to expense the cost less residual value over their estimated useful lives based on a technical evaluation. The estimated useful lives and residual values are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any change in estimate accounted for on a prospective basis.

The estimated useful lives are as mentioned below:

| Type of asset | Useful lives |
|--------------------------|--------------|
| Buildings | 20 years |
| Leasehold improvements | Lease term |
| Plant and equipment | 10 years |
| Computer equipment | 4 years |
| Vehicles | 4 years |
| Office equipment | 2-5 years |
| Electrical installations | 4-10 years |
| Furniture and fixtures | 5 years |

Depreciation is not recorded on capital work-in-progress until construction and installation are complete and the asset is ready for its intended use.

Property, plant and equipment with finite life are evaluated for recoverability whenever there is any indication that their carrying amounts may not be recoverable. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount (i.e. higher of the fair value less cost to sell and the value-in-use) is determined on an individual asset basis unless the asset does not generate cash flows that are largely independent of those from other assets. In such cases, the recoverable amount is determined for the cash generating unit (CGU) to which the asset belongs.

If the recoverable amount of an asset (or CGU) is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset (or CGU) is reduced to its recoverable amount. An impairment loss is recognised in the statement of profit and loss.

(b) Goodwill

Goodwill represents the cost of acquired business as established at the date of acquisition of the business in excess of the acquirer's interest in the net fair value of the identifiable assets, liabilities and contingent liabilities less accumulated impairment losses, if any. Goodwill is tested for impairment annually or when events or circumstances indicate that the implied fair value of goodwill is less than its carrying amount.

CGUs to which goodwill has been allocated are tested for impairment annually, or more frequently when there is indication for impairment. The financial projections basis which the future cash flows have been estimated consider the increase in economic uncertainties due to COVID-19, reassessment of the discount rates, revisiting the growth rates factored while arriving at terminal value and subjecting these variables to sensitivity analysis. If the recoverable amount of a CGU is less than its carrying amount, the impairment loss is allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill allocated to the unit and then to the other assets of the unit pro-rata on the basis of the carrying amount of each asset in the unit.

| | As at March 31, 2022 | As at March 31, 2021 |
|---|----------------------|----------------------|
| Balance at the beginning of the year | 1,798 | 1,710 |
| Translation exchange difference | (11) | 88 |
| Balance at the end of the year | 1,787 | 1,798 |

Goodwill of ₹646 crore and ₹660 crore as at March 31, 2022 and 2021, respectively, has been allocated to the TCS business in France. The estimated value-in-use of this CGU is based on the future cash flows using a 1.50% annual growth rate for periods subsequent to the forecast period of 5 years and discount rate of 9.30%. An analysis of the sensitivity of the computation to a change in key parameters (operating margin, discount rates and long term average growth rate), based on reasonable assumptions, did not identify any probable scenario in which the recoverable amount of the CGU would decrease below its carrying amount.

The remaining amount of goodwill of ₹1,141 crore and ₹1,138 crore as at March 31, 2022 and 2021, respectively, (relating to different CGUs individually immaterial) has been evaluated based on the cash flow forecasts of the related CGUs and the recoverable amounts of these CGUs exceeded their carrying amounts.

(c) Other intangible assets

Intangible assets purchased including acquired in business combination, are measured at cost as at the date of acquisition, as applicable, less accumulated amortisation and accumulated impairment, if any.

Intangible assets consist of rights under licensing agreement and software licences and customer-related intangibles.

Following table summarises the nature of intangibles and their estimated useful lives:

| Type of asset | Useful lives |
|--|---------------------------------------|
| Rights under licensing agreement and software licences | Lower of licence period and 2-5 years |
| Customer-related intangibles | 3 years |

Intangible assets are amortised on a straight-line basis over the period of its economic useful life.

Intangible assets with finite life are evaluated for recoverability whenever there is any indication that their carrying amounts may not be recoverable. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount (i.e. higher of the fair value less cost to sell and the value-in-use) is determined on an individual asset basis unless the asset does not generate cash flows that are largely independent of those from other assets. In such cases, the recoverable amount is determined for the cash generating unit (CGU) to which the asset belongs.

If the recoverable amount of an asset (or CGU) is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset (or CGU) is reduced to its recoverable amount. An impairment loss is recognised in the statement of profit and loss.

Intangible assets consist of the following:

12) Revenue recognition

The Group earns revenue primarily from providing IT services, consulting and business solutions. The Group offers a consulting-led, cognitive powered, integrated portfolio of IT, business and engineering services and solutions.

Revenue is recognised upon transfer of control of promised products or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration which the

Notes forming part of Consolidated Financial Statements

Group expects to receive in exchange for those products or services.

- Revenue from time and material and job contracts is recognised on output basis measured by units delivered, efforts expended, number of transactions processed, etc.
- Revenue related to fixed price maintenance and support services contracts where the Group is standing ready to provide services is recognised based on time elapsed mode and revenue is straight lined over the period of performance.
- In respect of other fixed-price contracts, revenue is recognised using percentage-of-completion method ('POC method') of accounting with contract costs incurred determining the degree of completion of the performance obligation. The contract costs used in computing the revenues include cost of fulfilling warranty obligations.
- Revenue from the sale of distinct internally developed software and manufactured systems and third party software is recognised upfront at the point in time when the system / software is delivered to the customer. In cases where implementation and / or customisation services rendered significantly modifies or customises the software, these services and software are accounted for as a single performance obligation and revenue is recognised over time on a POC method.
- Revenue from the sale of distinct third party hardware is recognised at the point in time when control is transferred to the customer.
- The solutions offered by the Group may include supply of third-party equipment or software. In such cases, revenue for supply of such third party products are recorded at gross or net basis depending on whether the Group is acting as the principal or as an agent of the customer. The Group recognises revenue in the gross amount of consideration when it is acting as a principal and at net amount of consideration when it is acting as an agent.

Revenue is measured based on the transaction price, which is the consideration, adjusted for volume discounts, service level credits, performance bonuses, price concessions and incentives, if any, as specified in the contract with the customer. Revenue also excludes taxes collected from customers.

The Group's contracts with customers could include promises to transfer multiple products and services to a customer. The Group assesses the products / services promised in a contract and identifies distinct performance obligations in the contract. Identification of distinct performance obligation involves judgement to determine the deliverables and the ability of the customer to benefit independently from such deliverables.

Judgement is also required to determine the transaction price for the contract and to ascribe the transaction price to each distinct performance obligation. The transaction price could be either a fixed amount of customer consideration or variable consideration with elements such as volume discounts, service level credits, performance bonuses, price concessions and incentives. The transaction price is also adjusted for the effects of the time value of money if the contract includes a significant financing component. Any consideration payable to the customer is adjusted to the transaction price, unless it is a payment for a distinct product or service from the customer. The estimated amount of variable consideration is adjusted in the transaction price only to the extent that it is highly probable that a significant reversal in the amount of cumulative revenue recognised will not occur and is reassessed at the end of each reporting period. The Group allocates the elements of variable considerations to all the performance obligations of the contract unless there is observable evidence that they pertain to one or more distinct performance obligations.

The Group exercises judgement in determining whether the performance obligation is satisfied at a point in time or over a period of time. The Group considers indicators such as how customer consumes benefits as services are rendered or who controls the asset as it is being created or existence of enforceable right to payment for performance to date and alternate use of such product or service, transfer of significant risks and rewards to the customer, acceptance of delivery by the customer, etc.

Contract fulfilment costs are generally expensed as incurred except for certain software licence costs which meet the criteria for capitalisation. Such costs are amortised over the contractual period or useful life of licence, whichever is less. The assessment of this criteria requires the application of judgement, in particular when considering if costs generate or enhance resources to be used to satisfy future performance obligations and whether costs are expected to be recovered.

Contract assets are recognised when there are excess of revenues earned over billings on contracts. Contract assets are classified as unbilled receivables (only act of invoicing is pending) when there is unconditional right to receive cash, and only passage of time is required, as per contractual terms.

Unearned and deferred revenue (“contract liability”) is recognised when there are billings in excess of revenues.

The billing schedules agreed with customers include periodic performance based payments and / or milestone based progress payments. Invoices are payable within contractually agreed credit period.

In accordance with Ind AS 37, the Group recognises an onerous contract provision when the unavoidable costs of meeting the obligations under a contract exceed the economic benefits to be received.

Contracts are subject to modification to account for changes in contract specification and requirements. The Group reviews modification to contract in conjunction with the original contract, basis which the transaction price could be allocated to a new performance obligation, or transaction price of an existing obligation could undergo a change. In the event transaction price is revised for existing obligation, a cumulative adjustment is accounted for.

The Group disaggregates revenue from contracts with customers by nature of services, industry verticals and geography.

Revenue disaggregation by nature of services is as follows:

| | Year ended March 31, 2022 | Year ended March 31, 2021 |
|---|------------------------------|------------------------------|
| Consultancy services | 1,90,289 | 1,62,508 |
| Sale of equipment and software licences | 1,465 | 1,669 |
| | 1,91,754 | 1,64,177 |

Revenue disaggregation by industry vertical and geography has been included in segment information (Refer note 19).

While disclosing the aggregate amount of transaction price yet to be recognised as revenue towards unsatisfied (or partially satisfied) performance obligations, along with the broad time band for the expected time to recognise those revenues, the Group has applied the practical expedient in Ind AS 115.

Accordingly, the Group has not disclosed the aggregate transaction price allocated to unsatisfied (or partially satisfied) performance obligations which pertain to contracts where revenue recognised corresponds to the value transferred to customer typically involving time and material, outcome based and event based contracts.

Unsatisfied (or partially satisfied) performance obligations are subject to variability due to several factors such as terminations, changes in scope of contracts, periodic revaluations of the estimates, economic factors (changes in currency rates, tax laws etc). The aggregate value of transaction price allocated to unsatisfied (or partially satisfied) performance obligations is ₹1,13,868 crore out of which 56.54% is expected to be recognised as revenue in the next year and the balance thereafter. No consideration from contracts with customers is excluded from the amount mentioned above.

|--|------------------------------|------------------------------|

14) Employee benefits

Defined benefit plans

For defined benefit plans, the cost of providing benefits is determined using the Projected Unit Credit Method, with actuarial valuations being carried out at each balance sheet date. Remeasurement, comprising actuarial gains and losses, the effect of the changes to the asset ceiling and the return on plan assets (excluding interest), is reflected immediately in the balance sheet with a charge or credit recognised in other comprehensive income in the period in which they occur. Past service cost, both vested and unvested, is recognised as an expense at the earlier of (a) when the plan amendment or curtailment occurs; and (b) when the entity recognises related restructuring costs or termination benefits.

The retirement benefit obligations recognised in the balance sheet represents the present value of the defined benefit obligations reduced by the fair value of scheme assets. Any asset resulting from this calculation is limited to the present value of available refunds and reductions in future contributions to the scheme.

The Group provides benefits such as gratuity, pension and provident fund (Company managed fund) to its employees which are treated as defined benefit plans.

Defined contribution plans

Contributions to defined contribution plans are recognised as expense when employees have rendered services entitling them to such benefits.

The Group provides benefits such as superannuation, provident fund (other than Company managed fund) and foreign defined contribution plans to its employees which are treated as defined contribution plans.

Notes forming part of Consolidated Financial Statements

Short-term employee benefits

All employee benefits payable wholly within twelve months of rendering the service are classified as short-term employee benefits. Benefits such as salaries, wages etc. and the expected cost of ex-gratia are recognised in the period in which the employee renders the related service. A liability is recognised for the amount expected to be paid when there is a present legal or constructive obligation to pay this amount as a result of past service provided by the employee and the obligation can be estimated reliably.

Compensated absences

Compensated absences which are expected to occur within twelve months after the end of the period in which the employee renders the related services are recognised as undiscounted liability at the balance sheet date. Compensated absences which are not expected to occur within twelve months after the end of the period in which the employee renders the related services are recognised as an actuarially determined liability at the present value of the defined benefit obligation at the balance sheet date.

Employee benefit expenses consist of the following:

Gratuity and pension

The gratuity plan provides for a lump sum payment to vested employees at retirement, death while in employment or on termination of employment of an amount equivalent to 15 to 30 days' salary payable for each completed year of service. Vesting occurs upon completion of five continuous years of service. The Company manages the plan through a trust. Trustees administer contributions made to the trust. Certain overseas subsidiaries of the Company also provide for retirement benefit pension plans in accordance with the local laws.

|--|---------------------------|---------------|---------------------------|---------------|
| | Domestic plans | Foreign plans | Domestic plans | Foreign plans |
| Discount rate | 4.50%-7.25% | 0.77%-8.30% | 4.25%-7.00% | 0.40%-7.55% |
| Rate of increase in compensation levels of covered employees | 4.00%-6.00% | 1.50%-7.00% | 4.00%-6.00% | 1.25%-7.00% |
| Rate of return on plan assets | 4.50%-7.25% | 0.77%-8.30% | 4.25%-7.00% | 0.40%-7.55% |
| Weighted average duration of defined benefit obligations | 2-16 years | 3-31 years | 3-18 years | 3-65 years |

Future mortality assumptions are taken based on the published statistics by the Insurance Regulatory and Development Authority of India.

The expected benefits are based on the same assumptions as are used to measure Group's defined benefit plan obligations as at March 31, 2022. The Group is expected to contribute ₹57 crore to defined benefit plan obligations funds for the year ending March 31, 2023 comprising domestic component of ₹6 crore and foreign component of ₹51 crore.

Notes forming part of Consolidated Financial Statements

The significant actuarial assumptions for the determination of the defined benefit obligations are discount rate and expected salary increase. The sensitivity analysis below have been determined based on reasonably possible changes of the respective assumptions occurring at the end of the reporting period, while holding all other assumptions constant.

If the discount rate increases / decreases by 0.50%, the defined benefit obligations would increase / (decrease) as follows:

|-------------------|-------------------------|-------------------------|
| | As at March 31, 2022 | As at March 31, 2021 |
| Increase of 0.50% | (372) | (378) |
| Decrease of 0.50% | 422 | 421 |

If the expected salary growth increases / decreases by 0.50%, the defined benefit obligations would increase / (decrease) as follows:

| | (₹ crore) | |
|-------------------|-------------------------|-------------------------|
| | As at March 31, 2022 | As at March 31, 2021 |
| Increase of 0.50% | 200 | 276 |
| Decrease of 0.50% | (188) | (260) |

The sensitivity analysis presented above may not be representative of the actual change in the defined benefit obligations as it is unlikely that the change in assumptions would occur in isolation of one another as some of the assumptions may be correlated.

Furthermore, in presenting the above sensitivity analysis, the present value of the defined benefit obligations has been calculated using the Projected Unit

Credit Method at the end of the reporting period, which is the same as that applied in calculating the defined benefit obligation liability recognised in the balance sheet.

Each year an Asset-Liability matching study is performed in which the consequences of the strategic investment policies are analysed in terms of risk and return profiles. Investment and contribution policies are integrated within this study.

The defined benefit obligations shall mature after year ended March 31, 2022 as follows:

| Year ending March 31, | (₹ crore) |
|-----------------------|-----------|
| 2023 | 533 |
| 2024 | 449 |
| 2025 | 478 |
| 2026 | 463 |
| 2027 | 478 |
| 2028-2032 | 2,477 |

Provident fund

In accordance with Indian law, all eligible employees of Tata Consultancy Services Limited in India are entitled to receive benefits under the provident fund plan in which both the employee and employer (at a determined rate) contribute monthly to a trust set up by the Company to manage the investments and distribute the amounts entitled to employees. This plan is a defined benefit plan as the Company is obligated to provide its members a rate of return which should, at the minimum, meet the interest rate declared by Government administered provident fund. A part of the Company's contribution is transferred to Government administered pension fund. The contributions made by the Company and the shortfall of interest, if any, are recognised as an expense in profit and loss under employee benefit expenses. In accordance with an actuarial valuation of provident fund liabilities on the basis of guidance issued by Actuarial Society of India and based on the assumptions as mentioned below, there is no deficiency in the interest cost as the present value of the expected future earnings of the fund is greater than the expected amount to be credited to the individual members based on the expected guaranteed rate of interest of Government administered provident fund.

All eligible employees of Indian subsidiaries of the Company are entitled to receive benefits under the provident fund plan in which both the employee and employer (at a determined rate) contribute monthly to the Government administered provident fund plan. A part of the company's contribution is transferred to Government administered pension fund. This plan is a defined contribution plan as the obligation of the employer is limited to the monthly contributions made to the fund. The contributions made to the fund are recognised as an expense in profit and loss under employee benefit expenses.

|--|-------------------------|-------------------------|
| | As at March 31, 2022 | As at March 31, 2021 |
| Fair value of plan assets | 22,814 | 20,003 |
| Present value of defined benefit obligations | (22,814) | (20,003) |
| Net excess / (shortfall) | - | - |

| | As at March 31, 2022 | As at March 31, 2021 |
|--|-------------------------|-------------------------|
| Discount rate | 7.00% | 6.50% |
| Guaranteed rate of return | 8.10% | 8.50% |

The Group expensed ₹1,383 crore and ₹1,085 crore for the years ended March 31, 2022 and 2021, respectively, towards provident fund.

Superannuation

All eligible employees on Indian payroll are entitled to benefits under Superannuation, a defined contribution plan. The Group makes monthly contributions until retirement or resignation of the employee. The Group recognises such contributions as an expense when incurred. The Group has no further obligation beyond its monthly contribution.

The Group expensed ₹383 crore and ₹366 crore for the years ended March 31, 2022 and 2021, respectively, towards Employees' Superannuation Fund.

16) Finance costs

| | Year ended March 31, 2022 | Year ended March 31, 2021 |
| Interest on lease liabilities | 519 | 523 |
| Interest on tax matters | 218 | 96 |
| Other interest costs | 47 | 18 |

17) Income taxes

Income tax expense comprises current tax expense and the net change in the deferred tax asset or liability during the year. Current and deferred taxes are recognised in statement of profit and loss, except when they relate to items that are recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, in which case, the current and deferred tax are also recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, respectively.

Current income taxes

The current income tax expense includes income taxes payable by the Company and its subsidiaries in India and overseas. The current tax payable by the Company and its subsidiaries in India is Indian income tax payable on worldwide income after taking credit for tax relief available for export operations in Special Economic Zones (SEZs).

Current income tax payable by overseas branches of the Company is computed in accordance with the tax laws applicable in the jurisdiction in which the respective branch operates. The taxes paid are generally available for set off against the Indian income tax liability of the Company's worldwide income.

The current income tax expense for overseas subsidiaries has been computed based on the tax laws applicable to each subsidiary in the respective jurisdiction in which it operates.

Advance taxes and provisions for current income taxes are presented in the balance sheet after off-setting advance tax paid and income tax provision arising in the same tax jurisdiction and where the relevant tax paying unit intends to settle the asset and liability on a net basis.

Deferred income taxes

Deferred income tax is recognised using the balance sheet approach. Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are recognised for deductible and taxable temporary differences arising between the tax base of assets and liabilities and their carrying amount, except when the deferred income tax arises from the initial recognition of goodwill or an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and affects neither accounting nor taxable profit or loss at the time of the transaction.

Deferred income tax assets are recognised to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences and the carry forward of unused tax credits and unused tax losses can be utilised.

The carrying amount of deferred income tax assets is reviewed at each reporting date and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred income tax asset to be utilised.

Deferred income tax liabilities are recognised for all taxable temporary differences except in respect of taxable temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries where timing of the reversal of the temporary difference can be controlled and it is probable that the temporary difference will not reverse in the foreseeable future.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using substantively enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which the temporary differences are expected to be received or settled.

For operations carried out in SEZs, deferred tax assets or liabilities, if any, have been established for the tax consequences of those temporary differences between the carrying values of assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases that reverse after the tax holiday ends.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when they relate to income taxes levied by the same taxation authority and the relevant entity intends to settle its current tax assets and liabilities on a net basis.

Notes forming part of Consolidated Financial Statements

Deferred tax assets include Minimum Alternate Tax (MAT) paid in accordance with the tax laws in India, to the extent it would be available for set off against future current income tax liability. Accordingly, MAT is recognised as deferred tax asset in the balance sheet when the asset can be measured reliably and it is probable that the future economic benefit associated with the asset will be realised.

| | (₹ crore) | |
|--|------------------------------|------------------------------|
| Current tax | | |

The reconciliation of estimated income tax expense at Indian statutory income tax rate to income tax expense reported in consolidated statement of profit and loss is as follows:

Tata Consultancy Services Limited benefits from the tax holiday available for units set up under the Special Economic Zone Act, 2005. These tax holidays are available for a period of fifteen years from the date of commencement of operations. Under the SEZ scheme, the unit which begins providing services on or after April 1, 2005 will be eligible for deductions of 100% of profits or gains derived from export of services for the first five years, 50% of such profits or gains for a further period of five years and 50% of such profits or gains for the balance period of five years subject to fulfilment of certain conditions. From April 1, 2011, profits from units set up under SEZ scheme are subject to Minimum Alternate Tax (MAT).

Under the Income-tax Act, 1961, unabsorbed business losses expire 8 years after the year in which they originate. In respect of certain foreign subsidiaries, business losses can be carried forward indefinitely unless there is a substantial change in the ownership.

Unrecognised deferred tax assets relate primarily to business losses and tax credit entitlements which do not qualify for recognition as per the applicable accounting standards. These unexpired business losses will expire based on the year of origination as follows:

Under the Income-tax Act, 1961, Tata Consultancy Services Limited is liable to pay Minimum Alternate Tax in the tax holiday period. MAT paid can be carried forward for a period of 15 years and can be set off against the future tax liabilities. MAT is recognised as a deferred tax asset only when the asset can be measured reliably and it is probable that the future economic benefit associated with the asset will be realised.

Deferred tax liability on temporary differences of ₹6,177 crore as at March 31, 2022, associated with investments in subsidiaries, has not been recognised, as it is the intention of Tata Consultancy Services Limited to reinvest the earnings of these subsidiaries for the foreseeable future.

Direct tax contingencies

The Company and its subsidiaries have ongoing disputes with income tax authorities in India and in some of the other jurisdictions where they operate. The disputes relate to tax treatment of certain expenses claimed as deduction, computation or eligibility of tax incentives and allowances and characterisation of fees for services received. The Company and its subsidiaries have recognised contingent liability in respect of tax demands received from direct tax authorities in India and other jurisdictions of ₹1,652 crore and ₹955 crore as at March 31, 2022 and 2021, respectively. These demand orders are being contested by the Company and its subsidiaries based on the management evaluation and advice of tax consultants. 18) Earnings per share

19) Segment information

Operating segments are defined as components of an enterprise for which discrete financial information is available that is evaluated regularly by the chief operating decision maker, in deciding how to allocate resources and assessing performance. The Group's chief operating decision maker is the Chief Executive Officer and Managing Director.

The Group has identified business segments ('industry vertical') as reportable segments. The business segments comprise: 1) Banking, Financial Services and Insurance, 2) Manufacturing, 3) Retail and Consumer Business, 4) Communication, Media and Technology, 5) Life Sciences and Healthcare and 6) Others such as Energy, Resources and Utilities, s-Governance and Products.

Revenue and expenses directly attributable to segments are reported under each reportable segment. Expenses which are not directly identifiable to each reporting segment have been allocated on the basis of associated revenue of the segment or manpower efforts. All other expenses which are not attributable or allocable to segments have been disclosed as unallocable expenses.

The assets and liabilities of the Group are used interchangeably amongst segments. Allocation of such assets and liabilities is not practicable and any forced allocation would not result in any meaningful segregation. Hence assets and liabilities have not been identified to any of the reportable segments.

Summarised segment information for the years ended March 31, 2022 and 2021, is as follows:

Contingencies

- Direct tax matters

Refer note 17.

- Indirect tax matters

The Company and its subsidiaries have ongoing disputes with tax authorities mainly relating to treatment of characterisation and classification of certain items. The Company and its subsidiaries have demands amounting to ₹568 crore and ₹556 crore as at March 31, 2022 and 2021, respectively, from various indirect tax authorities which are being contested by the Company and its subsidiaries based on the management evaluation and advice of tax consultants.

- Other claims

Claims aggregating ₹291 crore and ₹194 crore as at March 31, 2022 and 2021, respectively, against the Group have not been acknowledged as debts.

In addition to above, in October 2014, Epic Systems Corporation (referred to as Epic) filed a legal claim against the Company in the Court of Western District Madison, Wisconsin alleging unauthorised access to and download of their confidential information and use thereof in the development of the Company's product MedMantra. In April 2016, the Company received an unfavourable jury verdict awarding damages of ₹7,115 crore (US $940 million) to Epic which was thereafter reduced by the Trial Court to ₹3,179 crore (US $420 million). Pursuant to reaffirmation of the District Court order in March 2019, the Company filed an appeal in the Appeals Court to fully set aside the Order. Epic also filed a cross appeal challenging the reduction by the District Court judge of ₹757 crore (US $100 million) award and ₹1,514 crore (US $200 million) in punitive damages. On August 20, 2020, the Appeals Court vacated the award of ₹2,119 crore (US $280 million) in punitive damages considering the award to be constitutionally excessive and remanded the case back to District Court with instructions to reassess and reduce the punitive damages award to at most ₹1,060 crore (US $140 million), affirmed the District Court's decision vacating the jury's award of ₹757 crore (US $100 million) in compensatory damages for alleged use of "other confidential information" by the Company, and affirmed the District Court's decision upholding the jury's award of ₹1,060 crore (US $140 million) in compensatory damages for use of the comparative analysis by the Company. The proceedings for assessing punitive damages have been remanded back to the District Court. Both the Company and Epic have filed their briefs at the District Court in relation to punitive damages. The matter is under consideration by the District Court. On April 8, 2021, Epic approached the Supreme Court seeking review of the order of the Appeals Court vacating the award of ₹2,119 crore (US $280 million) towards punitive damages and remanding back to District Court with an instruction to reassess the punitive damages, to no more than ₹1,060 crore (US $140 million). On March 21, 2022, Supreme Court denied Epic's petition seeking review of the order. The Company will continue to pursue all legal options available in the matter. Considering all the facts and various legal precedence, on a conservative and prudent basis, the Company provided ₹1,218 crore (US $165 million) towards this legal claim in its statement of profit and loss for three month period ended September 30, 2020. This was presented as an "exceptional item" in the consolidated statement of profit and loss.

Pursuant to US Court procedures, a Letter of Credit has been made available to Epic for ₹3,331 crore (US $440 million) as financial security in order to stay execution of the judgement pending post-appeal proceedings and conclusion.

- Letter of comfort

The Company has given letter of comfort to banks for credit facilities availed by its subsidiaries. As per the terms of letter of comfort, the Company undertakes not to divest its ownership interest directly or indirectly in the subsidiary and provide such managerial, technical and financial assistance to ensure continued successful operations of the subsidiary.

The amounts assessed as contingent liability do not include interest that could be claimed by counter parties.

Other Information

The Company's Management and Board of Directors are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Company's annual report, but does not include the financial statements and our auditors' report thereon. The Company's annual report is expected to be made available to us after the date of this auditor's report.

Our opinion on the standalone financial statements does not cover the other information and we will not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the standalone financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information identified above when it becomes available and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the standalone financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

When we read the Company's annual report, if we conclude that there is a material misstatement therein, we are required to communicate the matter to those charged with governance and take necessary actions, as applicable under the relevant laws and regulations.

Management's and Board of Directors' Responsibilities for the Standalone Financial Statements

The Company's Management and Board of Directors are responsible for the matters stated in Section 134(5) of the Act with respect to the preparation of these standalone financial statements that give a true and fair view of the state of affairs, profit/loss and other comprehensive income, changes in equity and cash flows of the Company in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, including the Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS) specified under Section 133 of the Act. This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding of the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the standalone financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the standalone financial statements, the Management and Board of Directors are responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Board of Directors either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The Board of Directors is also responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Standalone Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the standalone financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these standalone financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the standalone financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under Section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Company has adequate internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Management and Board of Directors.

- Conclude on the appropriateness of the Management and Board of Directors use of the going concern basis of accounting in preparation of standalone financial statements and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the standalone financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the standalone financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the standalone financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the standalone financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

Annexure B to the Independent Auditor's Report on the standalone financial statements of Tata Consultancy Services Limited for the year ended 31 March 2022

Report on the internal financial controls with reference to the aforesaid standalone financial statements under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013

(Referred to in paragraph 2(A)(f) under 'Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements' section of our report of even date)

Opinion

We have audited the internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements of Tata Consultancy Services Limited ("the Company") as of 31 March 2022 in conjunction with our audit of the standalone financial statements of the Company as at and for the year ended on that date.

In our opinion, the Company has, in all material respects, adequate internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements and such internal financial controls were operating effectively as at 31 March 2022, based on the internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (the "Guidance Note").

Management's and Board of Directors' Responsibilities for Internal Financial Controls

The Company's Management and the Board of Directors are responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements based on the criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note. These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to the Company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Act.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note and the Standards on Auditing, prescribed under Section 143(10) of the Act, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements were established and maintained and whether such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements included obtaining an understanding of such internal financial controls, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the standalone financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls with Reference to Standalone Financial Statements

A company's internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of standalone financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements include those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of standalone financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the standalone financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls with Reference to Standalone Financial Statements

collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Notes forming part of Standalone Financial Statements

1) Corporate information

Tata Consultancy Services Limited (referred to as “TCS Limited” or “the Company”) provides IT services, consulting and business solutions and has been partnering with many of the world’s largest businesses in their transformation journeys. The Company offers a consulting-led, cognitive powered, integrated portfolio of IT, business and engineering services and solutions. This is delivered through its unique Location-Independent Agile delivery model recognised as a benchmark of excellence in software development.

The Company is a public limited company incorporated and domiciled in India. The address of its corporate office is TCS House, Raveline Street, Fort, Mumbai - 400001. As at March 31, 2022, Tata Sons Private Limited, the holding company owned 72.27% of the Company’s equity share capital.

The Board of Directors approved the standalone financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2022 and authorised for issue on April 11, 2022.

2) Statement of compliance

These standalone financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the Indian Accounting Standards (referred to as “Ind AS”) as prescribed under section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 read with the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules as amended from time to time.

3) Basis of preparation

These standalone financial statements have been prepared on historical cost basis except for certain financial instruments and defined benefit plans which are measured at fair value or amortised cost at the end of each reporting period. Historical cost is generally based on the fair value of the consideration given in exchange for goods and services. Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. All assets and liabilities have been classified as current and non-current as per the Company’s normal operating cycle. Based on the nature of services rendered to customers and time elapsed between deployment of resources and the realisation in cash and cash equivalents of the consideration for such services rendered, the Company has considered an operating cycle of 12 months.

The statement of cash flows have been prepared under indirect method, whereby profit or loss is adjusted for the effects of transactions of a non-cash nature, any deferrals or accruals of past or future operating cash receipts or payments and items of income or expense associated with investing or financing cash flows. The cash flows from operating, investing and financing activities of the Company are segregated. The Company considers all highly liquid investments that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value to be cash equivalents.

These standalone financial statements have been prepared in Indian Rupee (₹) which is the functional currency of the Company. Foreign currency transactions are recorded at exchange rates prevailing on the date of the transaction. Foreign currency denominated monetary assets and liabilities are retranslated at the exchange rate prevailing on the balance sheet dates and exchange gains and losses arising on settlement and restatement are recognised in the statement of profit and loss. Non-monetary assets and liabilities that are measured in terms of historical cost in foreign currencies are not retranslated.

The significant accounting policies used in preparation of the standalone financial statements have been discussed in the respective notes.

4) Use of estimates and judgements

The preparation of standalone financial statements in conformity with the recognition and measurement principles of Ind AS requires management of the Company to make estimates and judgements that affect the reported balances of assets and liabilities, disclosures of contingent liabilities as at the date of standalone financial statements and the reported amounts of income and expenses for the periods presented.

Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimates are revised and future periods are affected.

The Company uses the following critical accounting estimates in preparation of its standalone financial statements:

(a) Revenue recognition

Revenue for fixed-price contracts is recognised using percentage-of-completion method. The Company uses judgement to estimate the future cost-to-completion of the contracts which is used to determine degree of completion of the performance obligation.

(b) Useful lives of property, plant and equipment

The Company reviews the useful life of property, plant and equipment at the end of each reporting period. This reassessment may result in change in depreciation expense in future periods.

(c) Impairment of investments in subsidiaries

The Company reviews its carrying value of investments carried at cost (net of impairment, if any) annually, or more frequently when there is indication for impairment. If the recoverable amount is less than its carrying amount, the impairment loss is accounted for in the statement of profit and loss.

(d) Fair value measurement of financial instruments

When the fair value of financial assets and financial liabilities recorded in the balance sheet cannot be measured based on quoted prices in active markets, their fair value is measured using valuation techniques including the Discounted Cash Flow model. The inputs to these models are taken from observable markets where possible, but where this is not feasible, a degree of judgement is required in establishing fair values. Judgements include considerations of inputs such as liquidity risk, credit risk and volatility. Changes in assumptions about these factors could affect the reported fair value of financial instruments.

(e) Provision for income tax and deferred tax assets

The Company uses estimates and judgements based on the relevant rulings in the areas of allocation of revenue, costs, allowances and disallowances which is exercised while determining the provision for income tax. A deferred tax asset is recognised to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences and tax losses can be utilised. Accordingly, the Company exercises its judgement to reassess the carrying amount of deferred tax assets at the end of each reporting period.

(f) Provisions and contingent liabilities

The Company estimates the provisions that have present obligations as a result of past events and it is probable that outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligations. These provisions are reviewed at the end of each reporting period and are adjusted to reflect the current best estimates.

Notes forming part of Standalone Financial Statements

The Company uses significant judgements to assess contingent liabilities. Contingent liabilities are recognised when there is a possible obligation arising from past events, the existence of which will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within the control of the Company or a present obligation that arises from past events where it is either not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation or a reliable estimate of the amount cannot be made. Contingent assets are neither recognised nor disclosed in the standalone financial statements.

(g) Employee benefits

The accounting of employee benefit plans in the nature of defined benefit requires the Company to use assumptions. These assumptions have been explained under employee benefits note.

(h) Leases

The Company evaluates if an arrangement qualifies to be a lease as per the requirements of Ind AS 116. Identification of a lease requires significant judgement. The Company uses significant judgement in assessing the lease term (including anticipated renewals) and the applicable discount rate.

The Company determines the lease term as the non-cancellable period of a lease, together with both periods covered by an option to extend the lease if the Company is reasonably certain to exercise that option; and periods covered by an option to terminate the lease if the Company is reasonably certain not to exercise that option. In assessing whether the Company is reasonably certain to exercise an option to extend a lease, or not to exercise an option to terminate a lease, it considers all relevant facts and circumstances that create an economic incentive for the Company to exercise the option to extend the lease, or not to exercise the option to terminate the lease. The Company revises the lease term if there is a change in the non-cancellable period of a lease.

The discount rate is generally based on the incremental borrowing rate specific to the lease being evaluated or for a portfolio of leases with similar characteristics.

(i) Impact of COVID-19 (pandemic)

The Company has taken into account all the possible impacts of COVID-19 in preparation of these standalone financial statements, including but not limited to its assessment of, liquidity and going concern assumption, recoverable values of its financial and non-financial assets, impact on revenue recognition owing to changes in cost budgets of fixed price contracts, impact on leases and impact on effectiveness of its hedges. The Company has carried out this assessment based on available internal and external sources of information upto the date of approval of these standalone financial statements and believes that the impact of COVID-19 is not material to these standalone financial statements and expects to recover the carrying amount of its assets. The impact of COVID-19 on the standalone financial statements may differ from that estimated as at the date of approval of these standalone financial statements owing to the nature and duration of COVID-19.

5) Recent pronouncements

Ministry of Corporate Affairs (“MCA”) notifies new standard or amendments to the existing standards under Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules as issued from time to time. On March 23, 2022, MCA amended the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Amendment Rules, 2022, applicable from April 1, 2022, as below:

Ind AS 103 – Reference to Conceptual Framework

The amendments specify that to qualify for recognition as part of applying the acquisition method, the identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed must meet the definitions of assets and liabilities in the Conceptual Framework for Financial Reporting under Indian Accounting Standards (Conceptual Framework) issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India at the acquisition date. These changes do not significantly change the requirements of Ind AS 103. The Company does not expect the amendment to have any significant impact in its financial statements.

Ind AS 16 – Proceeds before intended use

The amendments mainly prohibit an entity from deducting from the cost of property, plant and equipment amounts received from selling items produced while the company is preparing the asset for its intended use. Instead, an entity will recognise such sales proceeds and related cost in profit or loss. The Company does not expect the amendments to have any impact in its recognition of its property, plant and equipment in its financial statements.

Ind AS 37 – Onerous Contracts - Costs of Fulfilling a Contract

The amendments specify that the 'cost of fulfilling' a contract comprises the 'costs that relate directly to the contract'. Costs that relate directly to a contract can either be incremental costs of fulfilling that contract (examples would be direct labour, materials) or an allocation of other costs that relate directly to fulfilling contracts. The amendment is essentially a clarification and the Company does not expect the amendment to have any significant impact in its financial statements.

Ind AS 109 – Annual Improvements to Ind AS (2021)

The amendment clarifies which fees an entity includes when it applies the '10 percent' test of Ind AS 109 in assessing whether to derecognise a financial liability. The Company does not expect the amendment to have any significant impact in its financial statements.

Ind AS 116 – Annual Improvements to Ind AS (2021)

The amendments remove the illustration of the reimbursement of leasehold improvements by the lessor in order to resolve any potential confusion regarding the treatment of lease incentives that might arise because of how lease incentives were described in that illustration. The Company does not expect the amendment to have any significant impact in its financial statements.

6) Financial assets, financial liabilities and equity instruments

Financial assets and liabilities are recognised when the Company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument. Financial assets and liabilities are initially measured at fair value. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of financial assets and financial liabilities (other than financial assets and financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss) are added to or deducted from the fair value measured on initial recognition of financial asset or financial liability.

The Company derecognises a financial asset only when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the asset expire, or when it transfers the financial asset and substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the asset to another entity. The Company derecognises financial liabilities when, and only when, the Company's obligations are discharged, cancelled or have expired.

Cash and cash equivalents

The Company considers all highly liquid investments, which are readily convertible into known amounts of cash that are subject to an insignificant risk of change in value, to be cash equivalents. Cash and cash equivalents consist of balances with banks which are unrestricted for withdrawal and usage.

Financial assets at amortised cost

Financial assets are subsequently measured at amortised cost if these financial assets are held within a business whose objective is to hold these assets in order to collect contractual cash flows and the contractual terms of the financial assets give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income

Financial assets are measured at fair value through other comprehensive income if these financial assets are held within a business whose objective is achieved by both collecting contractual cash flows on specified dates that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding and selling financial assets.

The Company has made an irrevocable election to present subsequent changes in the fair value of equity investments not held for trading in other comprehensive income.

Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss

Financial assets are measured at fair value through profit or loss unless they are measured at amortised cost or at fair value through other comprehensive income on initial recognition. The transaction costs directly attributable to the acquisition of financial assets and liabilities at fair value through profit or loss are immediately recognised in statement of profit and loss.

Investment in subsidiaries

Investment in subsidiaries are measured at cost less impairment loss, if any.

Financial liabilities

Financial liabilities are measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

Equity instruments

An equity instrument is a contract that evidences residual interest in the assets of the company after deducting all of its liabilities. Equity instruments issued by the Company are recognised at the proceeds received net of direct issue cost.

Derivative accounting

- Instruments in hedging relationship

The Company designates certain foreign exchange forward, currency options and futures contracts as hedge instruments in respect of foreign exchange risks. These hedges are accounted for as cash flow hedges.

The Company uses hedging instruments that are governed by the policies of the Company which are approved by the Board of Directors. The policies provide written principles on the use of such financial derivatives consistent with the risk management strategy of the Company.

The hedge instruments are designated and documented as hedges at the inception of the contract. The Company determines the existence of an economic relationship between the hedging instrument and hedged item based on the currency, amount and timing of their respective cash flows. The effectiveness of hedge instruments to reduce the risk associated with the exposure being hedged is assessed and measured at inception and on an ongoing basis. If the hedged future cash flows are no longer expected to occur, then the amounts that have been accumulated in other equity are immediately reclassified in net foreign exchange gains in the statement of profit and loss.

The effective portion of change in the fair value of the designated hedging instrument is recognised in the other comprehensive income and accumulated under the heading cash flow hedging reserve.

The Company separates the intrinsic value and time value of an option and designates as hedging instruments only the change in intrinsic value of the option. The change in fair value of the intrinsic value and time value of an option is recognised in the other comprehensive income and accounted as a separate component of equity. Such amounts are reclassified into the statement of profit and loss when the related hedged items affect profit and loss.

Hedge accounting is discontinued when the hedging instrument expires or is sold, terminated or no longer qualifies for hedge accounting. Any gain or loss recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated in equity till that time remains and is recognised in the statement of profit and loss when the forecasted transaction ultimately affects profit and loss.

Any gain or loss is recognised immediately in the statement of profit and loss when the hedge becomes ineffective.

- Instruments not in hedging relationship

The Company enters into contracts that are effective as hedges from an economic perspective, but they do not qualify for hedge accounting. The change in the fair value of such instrument is recognised in the statement of profit and loss.

Impairment of financial assets (other than at fair value)

The Company assesses at each date of balance sheet whether a financial asset or a group of financial assets is impaired.

Ind AS 109 requires expected credit losses to be measured through a loss allowance. The Company recognises lifetime expected losses for all contract assets and / or all trade receivables that do not constitute a financing transaction. In determining the allowances for doubtful trade receivables, the Company has used a practical expedient by computing the expected credit loss allowance for trade receivables based on a provision matrix. The provision matrix takes into account historical credit loss experience and is adjusted for forward looking information. The expected credit loss allowance is based on the ageing of the receivables that are due and allowance rates used in the provision matrix. For all other financial assets, expected credit losses are measured at an amount equal to the 12-months expected credit losses or at an amount equal to the life time expected credit losses if the credit risk on the financial asset has increased significantly since initial recognition.

(k) Fair value hierarchy

The fair value hierarchy is based on inputs to valuation techniques that are used to measure fair value that are either observable or unobservable and consists of the following three levels:

- Level 1 - Inputs are quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.
- Level 2 - Inputs are other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e. as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices).
- Level 3 - Inputs are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs). Fair values are determined in whole or in part using a valuation model based on assumptions that are neither supported by prices from observable current market transactions in the same instrument nor are they based on available market data.

The cost of unquoted investments included in Level 3 of fair value hierarchy approximate their fair value because there is a wide range of possible fair value measurements and the cost represents estimate of fair value within that range.

The following table summarises financial assets and liabilities measured at fair value on a recurring basis and financial assets that are not measured at fair value on a recurring basis (but fair value disclosures are required):

(I) Derivative financial instruments and hedging activity

The Company's revenue is denominated in various foreign currencies. Given the nature of the business, a large portion of the costs are denominated in Indian Rupee. This exposes the Company to currency fluctuations.

The Board of Directors has constituted a Risk Management Committee (RMC) to frame, implement and monitor the risk management plan of the Company which inter-alia covers risks arising out of exposure to foreign currency fluctuations. (m) Financial risk management

The Company is exposed primarily to fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates, credit, liquidity and interest rate risks, which may adversely impact the fair value of its financial instruments. The Company has a risk management policy which covers risks associated with the financial assets and liabilities. The risk management policy is approved by the Board of Directors. The focus of the risk management committee is to assess the unpredictability of the financial environment and to mitigate potential adverse effects on the financial performance of the Company.

Market risk

Market risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices. Such changes in the values of financial instruments may result from changes in the foreign currency exchange rates, interest rates, credit, liquidity and other market changes. The Company's exposure to market risk is primarily on account of foreign currency exchange rate risk.

- Foreign currency exchange rate risk

The fluctuation in foreign currency exchange rates may have potential impact on the statement of profit and loss and other comprehensive income and equity, where any transaction references more than one currency or where assets / liabilities are denominated in a currency other than the functional currency of the Company.

Considering the countries and economic environment in which the Company operates, its operations are subject to risks arising from fluctuations in exchange rates in those countries.

The Company, as per its risk management policy, uses derivative instruments primarily to hedge foreign exchange. Further, any movement in the functional currency of the various operations of the Company against major foreign currencies may impact the Company's revenue in international business.

The Company evaluates the impact of foreign exchange rate fluctuations by assessing its exposure to exchange rate risks. It hedges a part of these risks by using derivative financial instruments in line with its risk management policies.

The foreign exchange rate sensitivity is calculated by aggregation of the net foreign exchange rate exposure and a simultaneous parallel foreign exchange rates shift of all the currencies by 10% against the functional currency of the Company.

The following analysis has been worked out based on the net exposures of the Company as of the date of balance sheet which could affect the statements of profit and loss and other comprehensive income and equity. Further the exposure as indicated below is mitigated by some of the derivative contracts entered into by the Company as disclosed in note 6(l).

The following table sets forth information relating to unhedged foreign currency exposure as at March 31, 2022:

|---------------------------|-----------|-------|---------|---------|
| | USD | EUR | GBP | Others |
| Net financial assets | 515 | 89 | 147 | 1,709 |
| Net financial liabilities | (8,981) | (513) | (1,403) | (1,049) |

10% appreciation / depreciation of the functional currency of the Company with respect to various foreign currencies would result in increase / decrease in the Company's profit before taxes by approximately ₹949 crore for the year ended March 31, 2022.

The following table sets forth information relating to unhedged foreign currency exposure as at March 31, 2021:

Financial instruments that are subject to concentrations of credit risk principally consist of trade receivables, loans, investments, derivative financial instruments, cash and cash equivalents, bank deposits and other financial assets. Inter-corporate deposits of ₹5,386 crore are with a financial institution having a high credit-rating assigned by credit-rating agencies. Bank deposits include an amount of ₹4,800 crore held with three Indian banks having high credit rating which is individually in excess of 10% or more of the Company's total bank deposits as at March 31, 2022. None of the other financial instruments of the Company result in material concentration of credit risk.

The maximum exposure to credit risk was ₹90,388 crore and ₹77,949 crore as at March 31, 2022 and 2021, respectively, being the total of the carrying amount of balances with banks, bank deposits, investments excluding equity and preference investments, trade receivables, loans, contract assets and other financial assets.

7) Leases

A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration.

Company as a lessee

The Company accounts for each lease component within the contract as a lease separately from non-lease components of the contract and allocates the consideration in the contract to each lease component on the basis of the relative standalone price of the lease component and the aggregate standalone price of the non-lease components.

The Company recognises right-of-use asset representing its right to use the underlying asset for the lease term at the lease commencement date. The cost of the right-of-use asset measured at inception shall comprise of the amount of the initial measurement of the lease liability adjusted for any lease payments made at or before the commencement date less any lease incentives received, plus any initial direct costs incurred and an estimate of costs to be incurred by the lessee in dismantling and removing the underlying asset or restoring the underlying asset or site on which it is located. The right-of-use asset is subsequently measured at cost less any accumulated depreciation, accumulated impairment losses, if any and adjusted for any remeasurement of the lease liability. The right-of-use asset is depreciated using the straight-line method from the commencement date over the shorter of lease term or useful life of right-of-use asset. The estimated useful lives of right-of-use assets are determined on the same basis as those of property, plant and equipment. Right-of-use assets are tested for impairment whenever there is any indication that their carrying amounts may not be recoverable. Impairment loss, if any, is recognised in the statement of profit and loss.

The Company measures the lease liability at the present value of the lease payments that are not paid at the commencement date of the lease. The lease payments are discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease, if that rate can be readily determined. If that rate cannot be readily determined, the Company uses incremental borrowing rate. For leases with reasonably similar characteristics, the Company, on a lease-by-lease basis, may adopt either the incremental borrowing rate specific to the lease or the incremental borrowing rate for the portfolio as a whole. The lease payments shall include fixed payments, variable lease payments, residual value guarantees, exercise price of a purchase option where the Company is reasonably certain to exercise that option and payments of penalties for terminating the lease, if the lease term reflects the lessee exercising an option to terminate the lease. The lease liability is subsequently remeasured by increasing the carrying amount to reflect interest on the lease liability, reducing the carrying amount to reflect the lease payments made and remeasuring the carrying amount to reflect any reassessment or lease modifications or to reflect revised in-substance fixed lease payments. The Company recognises the amount of the re-measurement of lease liability due to modification as an adjustment to the right-of-use asset and statement of profit and loss depending upon the nature of modification. Where the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset is reduced to zero and there is a further reduction in the measurement of the lease liability, the Company recognises any remaining amount of the re-measurement in statement of profit and loss.

The Company has elected not to apply the requirements of Ind AS 116 Leases to short-term leases of all assets that have a lease term of 12 months or less and leases for which the underlying asset is of low value. The lease payments associated with these leases are recognised as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

Company as a lessor

At the inception of the lease the Company classifies each of its leases as either an operating lease or a finance lease. The Company recognises lease payments received under operating leases as income on a straight-line basis over the lease term. In case of a finance lease, finance income is recognised over the lease term based on a pattern reflecting a constant periodic rate of return on the lessor's net investment in the lease. When the Company is an intermediate lessor it accounts for its interests in the head lease and the sub-lease separately. It assesses the lease classification of a sub-lease with reference to the right-of-use asset arising from the head lease, not with reference to the underlying asset. If a head lease is a short-term lease to which the Company applies the exemption described above, then it classifies the sub-lease as an operating lease.

If an arrangement contains lease and non-lease components, the Company applies Ind AS 115 Revenue from contracts with customers to allocate the consideration in the contract.

The details of the right-of-use assets held by the Company is as follows:

8) Non-financial assets and non-financial liabilities

(a) Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment are stated at cost comprising of purchase price and any initial directly attributable cost of bringing the asset to its working condition for its intended use, less accumulated depreciation (other than freehold land) and impairment loss, if any.

Depreciation is provided for property, plant and equipment on a straight-line basis so as to expense the cost less residual value over their estimated useful lives based on a technical evaluation. The estimated useful lives and residual values are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any change in estimate accounted for on a prospective basis.

The estimated useful lives are as mentioned below:

| Type of asset | Useful lives |
|--------------------------|--------------|
| Buildings | 20 years |
| Leasehold improvements | Lease term |
| Plant and equipment | 10 years |
| Computer equipment | 4 years |
| Vehicles | 4 years |
| Office equipment | 2-5 years |
| Electrical installations | 4-10 years |
| Furniture and fixtures | 5 years |

Depreciation is not recorded on capital work-in-progress until construction and installation are complete and the asset is ready for its intended use.

Property, plant and equipment with finite life are evaluated for recoverability whenever there is any indication that their carrying amounts may not be recoverable. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount (i.e. higher of the fair value less cost to sell and the value-in-use) is determined on an individual asset basis unless the asset does not generate cash flows that are largely independent of those from other assets. In such cases, the recoverable amount is determined for the cash generating unit (CGU) to which the asset belongs.

If the recoverable amount of an asset (or CGU) is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset (or CGU) is reduced to its recoverable amount. An impairment loss is recognised in the statement of profit and loss.

(b) Intangible assets

Intangible assets purchased are measured at cost as at the date of acquisition, as applicable, less accumulated amortisation and accumulated impairment, if any.

Intangible assets consist of rights under licensing agreement and software licences which are amortised over licence period which equates the economic useful life ranging between 2-5 years on a straight-line basis over the period of its economic useful life.

Intangible assets with finite life are evaluated for recoverability whenever there is any indication that their carrying amounts may not be recoverable. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount (i.e. higher of the fair value less cost to sell and the value-in-use) is determined on an individual asset basis unless the asset does not generate cash flows that are largely independent of those from other assets. In such cases, the recoverable amount is determined for the cash generating unit (CGU) to which the asset belongs.

If the recoverable amount of an asset (or CGU) is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset (or CGU) is reduced to its recoverable amount. An impairment loss is recognised in the statement of profit and loss.

Intangible assets consist of the following:

10) Revenue recognition

The Company earns revenue primarily from providing IT services, consulting and business solutions. The Company offers a consulting-led, cognitive powered, integrated portfolio of IT, business and engineering services and solutions.

Revenue is recognised upon transfer of control of promised products or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration which the Company expects to receive in exchange for those products or services.

- Revenue from time and material and job contracts is recognised on output basis measured by units delivered, efforts expended, number of transactions processed, etc.
- Revenue related to fixed price maintenance and support services contracts where the Company is standing ready to provide services is recognised based on time elapsed mode and revenue is straight-lined over the period of performance.
- In respect of other fixed-price contracts, revenue is recognised using percentage-of-completion method ('POC method') of accounting with contract costs incurred determining the degree of completion of the performance obligation. The contract costs used in computing the revenues include cost of fulfilling warranty obligations.
- Revenue from the sale of distinct internally developed software and manufactured systems and third party software is recognised upfront at the point in time when the system / software is delivered to the customer. In cases where implementation and / or customisation services rendered significantly modifies or customises the software, these services and software are accounted for as a single performance obligation and revenue is recognised over time on a POC method.
- Revenue from the sale of distinct third party hardware is recognised at the point in time when control is transferred to the customer.
- The solutions offered by the Company may include supply of third-party equipment or software. In such cases, revenue for supply of such third party products are recorded at gross or net basis depending on whether the Company is acting as the principal or as an agent of the customer. The Company recognises revenue in the gross amount of consideration when it is acting as a principal and at net amount of consideration when it is acting as an agent.

Revenue is measured based on the transaction price, which is the consideration, adjusted for volume discounts, service level credits, performance bonuses, price concessions and incentives, if any, as specified in the contract with the customer. Revenue also excludes taxes collected from customers.

The Company's contracts with customers could include promises to transfer multiple products and services to a customer. The Company assesses the products / services promised in a contract and identifies distinct performance obligations in the contract. Identification of distinct performance obligation involves judgement to determine the deliverables and the ability of the customer to benefit independently from such deliverables.

Judgement is also required to determine the transaction price for the contract and to ascribe the transaction price to each distinct performance obligation. The transaction price could be either a fixed amount of customer consideration or variable consideration with elements such as volume discounts, service level credits, performance bonuses, price concessions and incentives. The transaction price is also adjusted for the effects of the time value of money if the contract includes a significant financing component. Any consideration payable to the customer is adjusted to the transaction price, unless it is a payment for a distinct product or service from the customer. The estimated amount of variable consideration is adjusted in the transaction price only to the extent that it is highly probable that a significant reversal in the amount of cumulative revenue recognised will not occur and is reassessed at the end of each reporting period. The Company allocates the elements of variable considerations to all the performance obligations of the contract unless there is observable evidence that they pertain to one or more distinct performance obligations.

The Company exercises judgement in determining whether the performance obligation is satisfied at a point in time or over a period of time. The Company considers indicators such as how customer consumes benefits as services are rendered or who controls the asset as it is being created or existence of enforceable right to payment for performance to date and alternate use of such product or service, transfer of significant risks and rewards to the customer, acceptance of delivery by the customer, etc.

Revenue from subsidiaries is recognised based on transaction price which is at arm's length.

Contract fulfilment costs are generally expensed as incurred except for certain software licence costs which meet the criteria for capitalisation. Such costs are amortised over the contractual period or useful life of licence, whichever is less. The assessment of this criteria requires the application of judgement, in particular when considering if costs generate or enhance resources to be used to satisfy future performance obligations and whether costs are expected to be recovered.

Contract assets are recognised when there are excess of revenues earned over billings on contracts. Contract assets are classified as unbilled receivables (only act of invoicing is pending) when there is unconditional right to receive cash, and only passage of time is required, as per contractual terms.

Unearned and deferred revenue ("contract liability") is recognised when there are billings in excess of revenues.

Notes forming part of Standalone Financial Statements

The billing schedules agreed with customers include periodic performance based payments and / or milestone based progress payments. Invoices are payable within contractually agreed credit period.

In accordance with Ind AS 37, the Company recognises an onerous contract provision when the unavoidable costs of meeting the obligations under a contract exceed the economic benefits to be received.

Contracts are subject to modification to account for changes in contract specification and requirements. The Company reviews modification to contract in conjunction with the original contract, basis which the transaction price could be allocated to a new performance obligation, or transaction price of an existing obligation could undergo a change. In the event transaction price is revised for existing obligation, a cumulative adjustment is accounted for.

The Company disaggregates revenue from contracts with customers by nature of services, industry verticals and geography.

While disclosing the aggregate amount of transaction price yet to be recognised as revenue towards unsatisfied (or partially) satisfied performance obligations, along with the broad time band for the expected time to recognise those revenues, the Company has applied the practical expedient in Ind AS 115. Accordingly, the Company has not disclosed the aggregate transaction price allocated to unsatisfied (or partially satisfied) performance obligations which pertain to contracts where revenue recognised corresponds to the value transferred to customer typically involving time and material, outcome based and event based contracts.

Unsatisfied (or partially satisfied) performance obligations are subject to variability due to several factors such as terminations, changes in scope of contracts, periodic revalidations of the estimates, economic factors (changes in currency rates, tax laws etc). The aggregate value of transaction price allocated to unsatisfied (or partially satisfied) performance obligations is ₹93,546 crore out of which 56.71% is expected to be recognised as revenue in the next year and the balance thereafter. No consideration from contracts with customers is excluded from the amount mentioned above.

12) Employee benefits

Defined benefit plans

For defined benefit plans, the cost of providing benefits is determined using the Projected Unit Credit Method, with actuarial valuations being carried out at each balance sheet date. Remeasurement, comprising actuarial gains and losses, the effect of the changes to the asset ceiling and the return on plan assets (excluding interest), is reflected immediately in the balance sheet with a charge or credit recognised in other comprehensive income in the period in which they occur. Past service cost, both vested and unvested, is recognised as an expense at the earlier of (a) when the plan amendment or curtailment occurs; and (b) when the entity recognises related restructuring costs or termination benefits.

Notes forming part of Standalone Financial Statements

The retirement benefit obligations recognised in the balance sheet represents the present value of the defined benefit obligations reduced by the fair value of scheme assets. Any asset resulting from this calculation is limited to the present value of available refunds and reductions in future contributions to the scheme.

The Company provides benefits such as gratuity, pension and provident fund (Company managed fund) to its employees which are treated as defined benefit plans.

Defined contribution plans

Contributions to defined contribution plans are recognised as expense when employees have rendered services entitling them to such benefits.

The Company provides benefits such as superannuation and foreign defined contribution plans to its employees which are treated as defined contribution plans.

Short-term employee benefits

All employee benefits payable wholly within twelve months of rendering the service are classified as short-term employee benefits. Benefits such as salaries, wages etc. and the expected cost of ex-gratia are recognised in the period in which the employee renders the related service. A liability is recognised for the amount expected to be paid when there is a present legal or constructive obligation to pay this amount as a result of past service provided by the employee and the obligation can be estimated reliably.

Compensated absences

Compensated absences which are expected to occur within twelve months after the end of the period in which the employee renders the related services are recognised as undiscounted liability at the balance sheet date. Compensated absences which are not expected to occur within twelve months after the end of the period in which the employee renders the related services are recognised as an actuarially determined liability at the present value of the defined benefit obligation at the balance sheet date.

Employee benefit expenses consist of the following:

| | (₹ crore) | |

The assumptions used in accounting for the defined benefit plan are set out below:

| | As at March 31, 2022 | | As at March 31, 2021 | |
|--|----------------------|---------------|----------------------|---------------|
| | Domestic plans | Foreign plans | Domestic plans | Foreign plans |
| Discount rate | 7.00% | 1.50%-2.70% | 6.50% | 0.50%-2.00% |
| Rate of increase in compensation levels of covered employees | 6.00% | 2.24%-3.80% | 6.00% | 1.83%-3.45% |
| Rate of return on plan assets | 7.00% | 1.50%-2.70% | 6.50% | 0.50%-2.00% |
| Weighted average duration of defined benefit obligations | 8 years | 3-6.4 years | 10 years | 3-6.9 years |

Future mortality assumptions are taken based on the published statistics by the Insurance Regulatory and Development Authority of India.

The expected benefits are based on the same assumptions as are used to measure the Company's defined benefit plan obligations as at March 31, 2022. The Company does not expect to contribute to defined benefit plan obligations funds for year ending March 31, 2023 in view of adequate surplus plan assets as at March 31, 2022.

The significant actuarial assumptions for the determination of the defined benefit obligations are discount rate and expected salary increase. The sensitivity analysis below have been determined based on reasonably possible changes of the respective assumptions occurring at the end of the reporting period, while holding all other assumptions constant.

If the discount rate increases / decreases by 0.50%, the defined benefit obligations would increase / (decrease) as follows:

|-------------------|-------------------------|-------------------------|
| | As at March 31, 2022 | As at March 31, 2021 |
| Increase of 0.50% | (159) | (190) |
| Decrease of 0.50% | 170 | 206 |

If the expected salary growth increases / decreases by 0.50%, the defined benefit obligations would increase / (decrease) as follows:

| | (₹ crore) | |
|-------------------|-------------------------|-------------------------|
| | As at March 31, 2022 | As at March 31, 2021 |
| Increase of 0.50% | 171 | 206 |
| Decrease of 0.50% | (161) | (192) |

Notes forming part of Standalone Financial Statements

The sensitivity analysis presented above may not be representative of the actual change in the defined benefit obligations as it is unlikely that the change in assumptions would occur in isolation of one another as some of the assumptions may be correlated.

Furthermore, in presenting the above sensitivity analysis, the present value of the defined benefit obligations has been calculated using the Projected Unit Credit Method at the end of the reporting period, which is the same as that applied in calculating the defined benefit obligation liability recognised in the balance sheet.

Each year an Asset-Liability matching study is performed in which the consequences of the strategic investment policies are analysed in terms of risk and return profiles. Investment and contribution policies are integrated within this study.

The defined benefit obligations shall mature after the year ended March 31, 2022 as follows:

| Year ending March 31, | (₹ crore) |
|-----------------------|-----------|
| 2023 | 455 |
| 2024 | 377 |
| 2025 | 396 |
| 2026 | 386 |
| 2027 | 392 |
| 2028-2032 | 1,909 |

Provident fund

In accordance with Indian law, all eligible employees of the Company in India are entitled to receive benefits under the provident fund plan in which both the employee and employer (at a determined rate) contribute monthly to a trust set up by the Company to manage the investments and distribute the amounts entitled to employees. This plan is a defined benefit plan as the Company is obligated to provide its members a rate of return which should, at the minimum, meet the interest rate declared by Government administered provident fund. A part of the Company's contribution is transferred to Government administered pension fund. The contributions made by the Company and the shortfall of interest, if any, are recognised as an expense in statement of profit and loss under employee benefit expenses. In accordance with an actuarial valuation of provident fund liabilities on the basis of guidance issued by Actuarial Society of India and based on the assumptions as mentioned below, there is no deficiency in the interest cost as the present value of the expected future earnings of the fund is greater than the expected amount to be credited to the individual members based on the expected guaranteed rate of interest of Government administered provident fund.

The details of fund and plan assets are given below:

| | (₹ crore) | |
|--|-------------------------|-------------------------|
| | As at March 31, 2022 | As at March 31, 2021 |
| Fair value of plan assets | 22,814 | 20,003 |
| Present value of defined benefit obligations | (22,814) | (20,003) |
| Net excess / (shortfall) | - | - |

Notes forming part of Standalone Financial Statements

The plan assets have been primarily invested in government securities and corporate bonds.

The principal assumptions used in determining the present value obligations of interest guarantee under the deterministic approach are as follows:

| | As at March 31, 2022 | As at March 31, 2021 |
|--|-------------------------|-------------------------|
| Discount rate | 7.00% | 6.50% |
| Average remaining tenure of investment portfolio | 8 years | 8 years |
| Guaranteed rate of return | 8.10% | 8.50% |

The Company expensed ₹1,372 crore and ₹1,078 crore for the years ended March 31, 2022 and 2021, respectively, towards provident fund.

The Company makes monthly contributions until retirement or resignation of the employee. The Company recognises such contributions as an expense when incurred. The Company has no further obligation beyond its monthly contribution.

15) Income taxes

Income tax expense comprises current tax expense and the net change in the deferred tax asset or liability during the year. Current and deferred taxes are recognised in statement of profit and loss, except when they relate to items that are recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, in which case, the current and deferred tax are also recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, respectively.

Current income taxes

The current income tax expense includes income taxes payable by the Company having its branches in India and overseas where it operates. The current tax payable by the Company in India is Indian income tax payable on worldwide income after taking credit for tax relief available for export operations in Special Economic Zones (SEZs).

Current income tax payable by overseas branches of the Company is computed in accordance with the tax laws applicable in the jurisdiction in which the respective branch operates. The taxes paid are generally available for set off against the Indian income tax liability of the Company's worldwide income.

Advance taxes and provisions for current income taxes are presented in the balance sheet after off-setting advance tax paid and income tax provision arising in the same tax jurisdiction and where the relevant tax paying unit intends to settle the asset and liability on a net basis.

Deferred income taxes

Deferred income tax is recognised using the balance sheet approach. Deferred income tax assets and liabilities are recognised for deductible and taxable temporary differences arising between the tax base of assets and liabilities and their carrying amount, except when the deferred income tax arises from the initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and affects neither accounting nor taxable profit or loss at the time of the transaction.

Deferred income tax assets are recognised to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences and the carry forward of unused tax credits and unused tax losses can be utilised.

The carrying amount of deferred income tax assets is reviewed at each reporting date and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred income tax asset to be utilised.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using substantively enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which the temporary differences are expected to be received or settled.

For operations carried out in SEZs, deferred tax assets or liabilities, if any, have been established for the tax consequences of those temporary differences between the carrying values of assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases that reverse after the tax holiday ends.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when they relate to income taxes levied by the same taxation authority and the relevant entity intends to settle its current tax assets and liabilities on a net basis.

Deferred tax assets include Minimum Alternate Tax (MAT) paid in accordance with the tax laws in India, to the extent it would be available for set off against future current income tax liability. Accordingly, MAT is recognised as deferred tax asset in the balance sheet when the asset can be measured reliably and it is probable that the future economic benefit associated with the asset will be realised.

The income tax expense consists of the following:

| | (₹ crore) | |

In addition to above, in October 2014, Epic Systems Corporation (referred to as Epic) filed a legal claim against the Company in the Court of Western District Madison, Wisconsin alleging unauthorised access to and download of their confidential information and use thereof in the development of the Company's product MedMantra. In April 2016, the Company received an unfavourable jury verdict awarding damages of

₹7,115 crore (US $940 million) to Epic which was thereafter reduced by the Trial Court to ₹3,179 crore (US $420 million). Pursuant to reaffirmation of the District Court order in March 2019, the Company filed an appeal in the Appeals Court to fully set aside the Order. Epic also filed a cross appeal challenging the reduction by the District Court judge of ₹757 crore (US $100 million) award and ₹1,514 crore (US $200 million) in punitive damages. On August 20, 2020, the Appeals Court vacated the award of ₹2,119 crore (US $280 million) in punitive damages considering the award to be constitutionally excessive and remanded the case back to District Court with instructions to reassess and reduce the punitive damages award to at most ₹1,060 crore (US $140 million), affirmed the District Court's decision vacating the jury's award of ₹757 crore (US $100 million) in compensatory damages for alleged use of "other confidential information" by the Company, and affirmed the District Court's decision upholding the jury's award of ₹1,060 crore (US $140 million) in compensatory damages for use of the comparative analysis by the Company. The proceedings for assessing punitive damages have been remanded back to the District Court. Both the Company and Epic have filed their briefs at the District Court in relation to punitive damages. The matter is under consideration by the District Court. On April 8, 2021, Epic approached the Supreme Court seeking review of the order of the Appeals Court vacating the award of ₹2,119 crore (US $280 million) towards punitive damages and remanding back to District Court with an instruction to reassess the punitive damages, to no more than ₹1,060 crore (US $140 million). On March 21, 2022, Supreme Court denied Epic's petition seeking review of the order. The Company will continue to pursue all legal options available in the matter. Considering all the facts and various legal precedence, on a conservative and prudent basis, the Company provided ₹1,218 crore (US $165 million) towards this legal claim in its statement of profit
