   TCS’s aim is to ensure that risk is minimized as far as possible, driven by management’s focus on avoiding any unexpected impact on performance through crystallization of risks and to avoid any adverse impact on its brand and reputation.

   Tax management can involve areas of uncertainty and risk in relation to the interpretation of complex tax laws and nature of compliances required, on which we are required to make judgements. We actively seek to identify, evaluate, monitor, and manage these risks to ensure they remain in line with our objectives. Where there is uncertainty over the tax treatment in any aspect of the business, advice is obtained from external, professional tax advisors to ensure that our risk management decisions are based upon the latest and most relevant interpretations of laws and regulations.

4. Relationship with tax authorities

   TCS maintains open and collaborative relationships with governments and tax authorities worldwide. Where appropriate, TCS seeks advance clearance from tax authorities on the proposed tax treatment of transactions, these offer an opportunity for early resolution and minimising the risk of future disputes.
Accordingly, our tax relationship and engagement with HMRC is open and collaborative. The engagements with HMRC involve face to face meetings and dialogue as and when required.
